HUGHES TO FIGHT ON STATE ISSUES.

Roosevelt and Candidate for Governor Decide on Policy in the Empire State Campaign.

LEADERS IN QUEER ROLES.

Odell's Political Jobbery Gives Republicans Weak Organization in Some City Districts.

BY RAYMOND.

New York, Oct. 2.—[Special.]—As a result of the conference between President Roosevelt and Mr. Hughes on the train between here and Trenton yesterday, it has been definitely decided that the campaign in New York state shall be conducted strictly on state issues.

Help of the leaders of the republican party in other states will not be declined. On the contrary, it is hoped every one of the Washington men, from Vice President Fairbanks down, will participate in the New York fight. They will be asked, however, in their speeches to confine themselves as nearly as possible to issues at stake in New York this year and to subordinate the usual talk on prosperity, tariff, finance, Philippines, and other things. President Roosevelt is a New York man. He has participated in politics in this state personally since his boyhood, when he used to organize juvenile processions in behalf of his favorite candidate. It is, therefore, deemed to be entirely proper to play upon the name of Roosevelt at every meeting.

His intimate connection with Mr. Hughes is known to a great many people. Those who are not acquainted with the fact will learn it before long, because it will be iterated and reiterated from every country stump and every city corner until election day.

Hughes-Roosevelt Campaign.

Politicians do not as yet see any subsidence of the Roosevelt craze, although they all look for it to come some day, and so the campaign in New York is to be made on a Hughes-Roosevelt basis, with chief reference at all times to the insurance scandals which rightly made Hughes famous.

There are some curious combinations which have to be lived down by the leaders in the fight on each side. Hearst, for instance, was nominated at Buffalo only by the active and violent friendship of Boss Murphy of Tammany hall. In the mayoralty campaign last year, as all the world knows, Hearst and Murphy were bitter enemies. When the editor candidate came so near victory on the face of the police returns he at once charged Murphy with responsibility for the steal, if steal there was. He called him a thief and said he ought to be in the penitentiary.

Mr. Hearst never has retracted any of those statements, and, although he accepted Murphy's assistance at Buffalo, he did not hesitate to say in his speech last night that while Murphy might be for him he was not for Murphy. The crowd cheered to the echo this brave statement.

Would Renew Hearst-Murphy War.

Nevertheless, all of the republican and anti-Hearst elements will make the most of the former antagonism between the two men, and one of the telling points in the campaign, at least in New York City, will be the constant revelation of Hearst's opinion of Murphy as expressed in his speeches and his newspapers. These are being put in circular form, to be mailed more particularly to Tammany men. Stereopticon views are also to be utilized, and scarcely one of the local speakers will conclude his spellbinding any day or night without one of these familiar quotations.

If this was the only case of inconsistency in the campaign, it might do more harm to Hearst, but, unfortunately for republicans, it is almost more difficult to reconcile things at their headquarters. The candidate for governor, Charles E. Hughes, made a splendid reputation by his conduct of the insurance investigation. He is a trained lawyer, who, from his childhood, had a wonderful love for mathematics, which faculty enabled him to deal with the intricacies of insurance accounts in a way which put even trained accountants to shame.

Hughes previously had made a name in the gas investigation, but that was local and not national in its results. He was nominated for governor largely through the influence of President Roosevelt, and in the face of the opposition of republican leaders who wanted Lieut. Gov. Linn Bruce, or some one of the "old crowd," so that they might continue their own control of the state. Had any one of that stamp been nominated the chances are that Hearst would have swept the state. Hughes was selected because, and only because, of his development of the insurance scandal and of the belief that he of all men would be able to direct necessary legislation to put a stop to such frauds upon the public in the future.

Hughes Put on Defensive.

This was not only good politics but an honest endeavor to satisfy the people. Yet Hughes, himself, in the conduct of his campaign already has been put on the defensive. The convention which nominated him selected a state central committee, and at its head was Woodruff, former lieutenant governor. He has been affiliated with the New York faction since he left college.

He is a clean man himself and nobody attributes personal motives. Yet it is entirely available in a campaign to be made on the single issue that Mr. Woodruff, at least apparently, had personal and political interests which were all the other way? He was counsel of an insurance company which is alleged roughly during the investigation which he is supposed to have reorganized on a sound basis. He went to Albany representing the insurance interests at the session and fought a good many of the reforms which Mr. Hughes himself had introduced to be necessary.

The committee has started out by announcing that it will accept no contributions from corporations, and yet Mr. Woodruff all his life has been a corporation man, having been president of a great typewriter company, president of an insurance company, and affiliated with large financial operations of all kinds.

Sullen Allied with Corporations.

In the same way Treasurer Sheldon of the republican state committee is a corporation man. He sits in the directorate of many large concerns, and is associated with the class of men who used to contribute most of the money to the campaign funds of both parties.

Of course Mr. Hughes is in no way respon-

ROOSEVELT'S WORD, CUBA'S SALVATION.

President's Pledge Against Acquisition of New Territory Postpones Its Annexation.

REPUBLIC ON TRIAL NOW.

Island Is Given Last Chance; Troops to Leave, but Next Time They Go They Will Stay.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Cuba is to have another chance to govern itself.

Once again the administration has determined upon this dangerous experiment. It appreciates the probability that following American withdrawal chaos will return, business interests will suffer, and American health will be menaced by an outbreak of yellow fever. It shoulders upon the United States the burden of maintaining vigilant watch over the internal situation in the island, and makes it liable to further heavy expenditures through the dispatch of warships and troops for a third intervention.

But as an offset to this by no means pleasing prospect, it gives the world an unparalleled exhibition of American generosity and moderation. Of far greater consequence, it will prove convincing confirmation to South America of the truth of Secretary Root's declaration that the United States did not want an inch of Latin American territory. It is an important step forward in American relations, but the American people will have to pay for it.

Solemn Warning on Withdrawal.

The Cubans cannot count, however, upon the continued forbearance of the American government. When the United States withdraws from Cuba, an event which will occur within three months unless unforeseen developments occur, a solemn warning will be given to the Cuban people that if American troops come a third time they will come to stay.

President Roosevelt and six members of his cabinet—Secretary of State Root, Attorney General Moody, Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte, Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, Postmaster General Cortelyou, and Secretary of Commerce and Labor Metcalf—held their first meeting today and discussed Cuba for more than two hours. The president told the cabinet the inside history of the American intervention in the West Indian islands. He related what THE TRIBUNE readers already know, that Palma first asked the United States to intervene, and when his request was denied cabled President Roosevelt he had determined to resign his high office and that the vice president and cabinet had determined not to continue the government.

Palma's Party Trouble Maker.

It was this latter message which caused the president to send Secretary Taft and Assistant Secretary of State Bacon to Havana under instructions to make every effort possible to induce Palma and his subordinates to remain in power. The failure of the Taft mission is public history, but it is not generally known that the moderates, the party to which Palma and the retired government belong, is now sharply criticising Secretary Taft and the American government because they dared to acquiesce in President Palma's "irrevocable decision" to resign.

Apparently it is the moderates alone who may be expected to make trouble, as the liberals, the party to which the insurgents give fealty, have accepted American intervention with every indication of satisfaction.

An accurate statement of the administration's attitude in regard to Cuba as determined upon at the meeting of the cabinet today is as follows:

"Cuba must have another chance. Annexation is not to be thought of in this moment. We must regard the republic as a car which has been overturned, and we must put our shoulders to the side, restore it to its wheels, and start it off again under the control of a competent engineer.

"In the shortest possible time, consistent with the restoration of order, elections will be held, and when they are finished American troops will be withdrawn. It is impossible now to say when these elections will take place. If the country is perfectly quiet, and the revolutionists disband immediately, the call will be issued at once—not today nor tomorrow, but within a short time.

Can't Tolerate Revolutions.

"The president does not want to remain in Cuba any longer than absolutely necessary. It cannot be stated yet whether the United States will supervise elections or not. What the president would prefer is that the Cubans follow the American example and station representatives of both parties at the polls.

"If in the long run it proves impossible to prevent revolution succeeding revolution, why then the United States will have to take and administer Cuba in some shape or manner. We are not up to such a course now. We feel we owe it to ourselves, we owe it to Cuba, we owe it to South America, and we owe it to the world to give Cuba one chance more. We want the people of South America to understand that when we say anything we mean it.

"President Roosevelt would no more lie in diplomacy than he would in private life, and if we were to annex Cuba at this time South America would consider that Secretary Root, in the name of the United States, deliberately had sought to deceive it."

There will be no extra session of congress because the president does not see any present need for action by the national legislature. He has been subjected to criticism by certain senators who consider he acted too rapidly in going into Cuba, but Mr. Roosevelt believes it was far wiser for him to step in and establish order than to wait until Havana was occupied by three separate factions which would be fighting among themselves and destroying foreign life and property and probably end by putting the whole city to the torch.

Congress to Pass on Action.

The president did not contemplate intervention in the sense of setting up or pulling down a government. Had permanent occupation been intended, Platt amendment or no Platt amendment, he would have considered it desirable to call congress together. Additional appropriations would have been required. As it is, the president will have to recommend to congress in his forthcoming annual message that it make an emergency appropriation of several million dollars. Congress will then have an opportunity of pass-

NEAR RACE WAR IN MOBILE.

Mob Kills One Officer, Wounds Another, in Attack on Jail.

NEW ASSAULT LAST STRAW.

Crowd Demands Lynching; Troops Sent For; Whites Threaten Slaughter.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Seeking to lynch a negro arrested for attacking a white girl, a mob attacked the jail tonight and in the fighting that ensued one man was killed and several wounded.

Roy Hoyle, a special officer for the Mobile and Ohio railroad, who assisted in the defense of the jail, was killed. Among the jail defenders wounded was Ald. A. S. Lyons.

News of the negro's crime inflamed a section of the citizens, whose nerves already were on edge as a result of the recent storm experiences. The negro, Dick Robinson, who is only 17, and still wearing short trousers, today attacked Ruth, the 12 year old daughter of Blount Sossamon, who lives about three miles from here.

Negro Smuggled from City.

The girl was passing a secluded spot not far from her home when she was attacked. Later, she was found lying unconscious by the roadside and was taken to her home.

Detectives were placed on the track of the negro and within three hours he was captured. He was taken before the Sossman girl, who at once identified him. Deputy Sheriff Fatch, knowing that the life of the negro would be taken by a mob if he brought him into this city, caused him to be conveyed to a station several miles up the Mobile and Ohio railroad.

He was not taken to the jail at all and was at least eight miles from the city when the mob which determined to have him approached the building.

Speakers Urge Crowd to Lynch.

There have been several assaults upon white women within the last few weeks, and the news of this latest outrage caused intense wrath and excitement. As early as 6 o'clock in the evening crowds of men commenced to gather in the downtown streets, and by 6:30 500 men had formed at the intersection of Royal and Dauphin streets. The crowd was harangued by several speakers, who urged them to take the life of the negro if he could be found, and in a short time the entire crowd was on the march for the jail.

Sheriff Powers met the leader of the mob and informed them that the man they were seeking was not in the jail and had never been brought there. He offered to let anybody whom he personally knew pass through the jail to satisfy the crowd of the truth of his statement.

About forty men walked through the corridors, some of them returning and assuring the members of the mob that the man was not there.

Force Door with Telephone Pole.

While several men, including Hoyle and Lyons, were still in the jail a portion of the crowd, led by a tall, rawboned man, whose name is not known, seized a telephone pole which had been blown down in the recent storm and dashed it against the closed part of a double door, one-half of which was open. The door fell with a crash, and almost instantly a shot came from a revolver in the hands of a man standing in the gate.

At once the members of the mob commenced a fusillade and about a dozen revolver shots were fired and then came several shots from a rifle held in the hands of a man who levelled it above his head and worked it vigorously while holding it in that position. Not more than a dozen men took part in the firing and when the shots rang out there was a stampede on the part of the crowd for shelter.

The mob was widely scattered and in a few seconds Ald. Lyons, who had been on the inside of the jail, came out and holding up his hands, from which the blood was streaming, announced that he had been shot and that Roy Hoyle had received a bullet through the left lung.

Mob Desists After Shooting.

The fact that Hoyle had been shot took all the fight out of the mob, and for the most part it dispersed quietly. The big man who had led the gang with the telephone pole, however, was anxious for further vengeance on the negroes, and passionately urged the crowd to follow him to the colored section of the city, declaring: "We will give them what they got in Atlanta."

The crowd later received information that Robinson had been taken from the city to Eight Mile Point, on the Mobile and Ohio railroad, where he was to be placed upon the train and carried still further. As soon as this was known fully 300 men boarded the Mobile and Ohio passenger train, leaving here at 8:25 p. m., with the expressed intention of lynching the negro if they could get him.

Gov. Jelks, who was in the city tonight, at once took active steps to prevent any further disorder and ordered that three companies of the militia be brought to the city as quietly as possible. He called upon the Louisville and Nashville railroad for a special train and directed that the companies from Browton, Evergreen, and Fort Deposit be brought here.

Second Mob Defies Governor.

Despite this a second mob gathered in the business section of the city shortly after 10 o'clock and went to the jail, convinced that Robinson was there, and expressing themselves as bound to have him at any cost. Sheriff Powers declared to this crowd, as he had to the first one, that Robinson was not in the jail and had not been there. The mob demanded that they be allowed to send men through to make another search and this was permitted by the sheriff. Eight men entered the jail and after an inspection came out and informed the crowd that the man was not in there.

The temper of the citizens of Mobile regarding the crime of Robinson was such tonight that before the conclusion of the performance at the Mobile theater, the leading playhouse of the city, a crowd of 200 men had gathered in front of the place, determined to attack the negroes in the theater as they came out.

Nothing was done, but it would have required only the slightest altercation between a white and a colored man to have produced serious trouble.

QUICK SPRINT SAVES YATES FROM ARGUMENT WITH WOMAN

Ex-Governor Finds Her Purse, Gives It to Policeman; Has to Run and Recover It When Owner Tackles Him.

Jacksonville, Ill., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Ex-Gov. Richard Yates played the star rôle in a one act comedy put on at the Wabash depot here today just as the 1:56 eastbound train for Springfield was leaving.

The passengers had left the train when Mr. Yates went aboard. As he entered the coach he discovered a pocketbook lying on a seat. Picking it up he rushed after a man and woman whom he had seen leave the car just as he got on. He hailed a station policeman and told him to hurry after the couple and restore the pocketbook.

The bluecoat dashed across the platform. Yates, feeling that he had happily averted a loss, turned again to the train, and just as he was mounting the steps with a complacent smile on his face, a woman rushed up to him demanding her pocketbook, somebody having told her that a good looking man had taken it.

Quick as a flash the ex-governor dashed after the policeman, recovered the purse, and with profuse apologies returned it to the owner.

DOG FAITHFUL TILL DEATH.

Collie Expires After Warning Its Mistress of Burglar's Presence.

CHLOROFORM ENDS ITS LIFE.

Mistress and Maid in Oak Street Mistake Each Other for Robber.

A burglar called at the flat occupied by Mrs. R. S. Fink, 383 Thirty-sixth street, yesterday afternoon. The chief result was the death of Mrs. Fink's pet Scotch collie, Bruce, which apparently gave up its life while trying to warn its mistress—just returned to the apartment—that a robber was near. Mrs. Fink subsequently was knocked down and her purse, containing $12, along with a bundle of other booty, was taken.

Mrs. Fink was away from the house during the afternoon. When she returned at 6 p. m. the dog, with great difficulty, crawled toward her at the door.

"Hello, doggie, are you waiting for me?" she said.

The animal turned in the direction whence later the intruder approached.

Warns Her, Then Dies.

It gave a growl as if in warning, turned an appealing look upon its mistress, wagged its tail, and then it died. It gave evidence of having inhaled chloroform, and of having been kicked and beaten.

At the door of the dining room Mrs. Fink met the burglar. She says his greeting was: "No noise goes here, young lady," as he pushed her against the wall. Frightened, she sank to the floor, and in a moment he had taken her purse. Then, stooping to pick up his bundle already tied up, he ran to the door and departed. Mrs. Fink was unable to give the police a good description of him, and it is not thought he will be captured.

Mrs. Fink said she believed the robber had entered the flat early in the afternoon, and, finding the dog on guard, had succeeded partly in chloroforming the animal.

Take Each Other for Burglar.

The cry of "burglar" caused a scare among residents in Oak street, near the Lake Shore drive, in the evening. The alarm was taken up by members of a half dozen families.

Investigation proved there was no burglar but Mrs. S. Hausman, 405 Oak street, had mistaken her servant girl for one. The house maid in turn believed robbers were trying to break in and hurriedly telephoned to Mr. Hausman.

Mrs. Hausman and her brother, Adolph Schmidt, returned from a visit to friends on the south side at 9 o'clock and, without ringing the bell at the street entrance of the apartment building, went upstairs to open the door. The servant girl inside, seeing the shadow of a man through the glass, became frightened and snapped the chain on the door.

Schmidt, forgetting about the servant, set up a cry of burglars and ran downstairs, followed by Mrs. Hausman, who yelled even louder than her brother. A large crowd gathered in a few minutes and took counsel as to how to "capture the burglar."

At this point Mr. Hausman appeared, all out of breath, having run all the way from State and Division streets. He and another man finally ventured upstairs, where the servant girl was found, frightened half out of her wits. She refused to open the door until assured that it was her employer.

Thugs Break Boy's Jaw.

Harry Renshaw, 16 years old, 428 Washington boulevard, was listening to a street evangelist at Ada and West Madison streets in the evening, when four men asked him to step to one side, saying they wanted to speak to him. He did so, and, after the men had searched his pockets and found he had no money, one of them struck him on the jaw, fracturing the bone. The robbers escaped.

CITY GOES AFTER "STORAGE" TAINT

North American Company Fights Against Giving Up a Ton of Spoiled Chickens.

CLOSED UP AS A RESULT.

Policemen Nearly Frozen When Elevator "Breaks Down" as They Try to Seize Condemned Stuff.

The struggle between the cold storage companies and the city health department, stirred by the city council's action of Monday in repudiating the proposed regulation ordinance, began in earnest yesterday afternoon. The health department attacked the North American Cold Storage company, and at the end of the first bout, at dusk, the health officials were on top.

Twenty thousand pounds of condemned chickens caused the specific trouble. There was no dispute about the fact that the chickens were utterly bad. It did not take an expert and a bacteriological examination to show that. The health department declared the unfit food must be destroyed at once. The cold storage company claimed the right to hold it. Then came the row.

Police Shut the Warehouse.

The immediate result was the big plant, located at 100 North Canal street, was closed up tight. Seven big policemen are now on guard to see to it that nothing goes in or out of the warehouse. Incidentally, a number of Chicago policemen have qualified themselves to take part in the next polar expedition. They are convinced that after their experience of yesterday the Arctic regions have no terrors for them.

After the raid A. F. Denham, manager of the cold storage plant, took a ride in a patrol wagon from his place of business to the Desplaines street police station. The police are willing to admit that perhaps they were a trifle hasty in this, but claim that no unprejudiced person who went through what they had to endure in the cold storage plant will blame them.

Chickens "Bad and Putrid."

Last week the health department "tagged" as suspicious about 50,000 pounds of chickens in the cold storage plants of the North American company and A. Booth & Co., and ordered them held pending a laboratory examination. Dr. Blehn of the laboratory yesterday morning reported the samples he had examined as "bad and putrid." He also explained that it did not require an extended examination to establish this. As soon as the samples were thawed out the stench "was so nauseating it was necessary to drench them with formalin before they could be handled."

So Health Commissioner Whalen notified the two cold storage companies that the chickens had been condemned, and that Darling & Co., the firm which has the city contract for rendering meats unfit for food, would send their wagons around at once and cart off the chickens. The wagons called at the Booth plant, and 30,000 pounds of the poultry was delivered at once and without protest. Then they drove to the plant of the North American company, arriving there at 10:30 o'clock in the morning.

Refuses to Give Up Spoiled Food.

There objection was raised, and Manager Denham said he wanted to consult with the health department. He arrived at the city hall at 11 a. m. and went into a long argument with Secretary Pritchard. He asserted that the condemned chickens belonged to customers of the company who would hold it responsible if it gave them up. Mr. Pritchard explained that the certificate of the health department that the goods had been condemned was ample defense against any lawsuit by the owners, and if anybody could be held responsible it would be the city.

"Let me talk with a lawyer about that," said Denham to Secretary Pritchard, and the request, seeming reasonable, was granted. In the meantime the wagons of the rendering company still were waiting outside the cold storage plant.

Concludes to "Stand Pat."

About 1 o'clock in the afternoon Manager Denham telephoned the health department that he had seen his lawyer and had been advised to "stand pat." Then the department moved into action. It was at this time that the police department was called in and the policemen got their Arctic experience.

The Desplaines street station was requested to see to it that the condemned chickens were removed from the North American storage plant at once and turned over to Darling & Co., whose wagons were still waiting in North Canal street. Lieut. Dougherty and Sergeant Dawson took a squad of patrolmen and went to the plant. They explained their errand and were told to "take the elevator"—the goods they wanted were on the top floor.

Police Held in Cold Place.

The elevator went to the sixth floor, with its load of policemen, and then it refused to work. It was explained that the power had given out and the elevator was out of business. One policeman thought he saw an employé manipulating the machinery of the elevator, and chased him among the piles of boxes. But it was dark on that sixth floor, and the employé knew the territory.

What is more, it was cold. The temperature of these plants is kept well below the freezing point. The employés are dressed for the part, but the police were not. Finally it got to a point where the policemen had to quit. The elevator would not work. They could not find their way around in the darkness, and it was a question of getting out. The only available retreat was down ladders leading through the six stories of the building. It was like climbing down a fire escape, except it was cold, not heat, they were escaping from.

When the policemen got to the bottom their feelings were ruffled. Manager Denham was in his office. Beside him was a ferocious looking bulldog. Lieut. Dougherty walked in and ordered a policeman to arrest the manager. The bulldog growled as the policeman started to obey orders.

"Kick that dog in the ribs," said the lieutenant, "and take this man to the station," and to the station the manager went. There he was booked on the charge of resisting a policeman. He got bail and returned.

All Business Is Stopped.

In the meantime the lieutenant had reported to the health department and was told to close up the plant. He did so effectually. It is possible he was a trifle overzealous in the matter on account of the experience of his men on the sixth floor, but closed up the plant was.

All during the afternoon wagons had been arriving with goods to be put in storage. The lieutenant ordered that nothing more be received. Adjoining the plant are railroad tracks. The cars on them were locked and sealed, so nothing could be loaded on them. All business except that inside the plant was stopped.

President A. M. Johnson of the cold storage company called up the health department and asked that at least the incoming goods be permitted to be received. "I have had only thirty minutes' notice of this," he explained.

The answer came back: "You notified the department some time ago you would stand pat, so the department will have to stand pat, at least until tomorrow morning. There will be nothing doing tonight and you can not open until tomorrow anyhow."

So seven policemen were detailed to see that the orders were obeyed, and the North American Cold Storage company suspended business until today.

Food Inspectors John R. Batch and Thomas Kelly were the men who condemned the chickens which caused the trouble, and they reported that the chickens belonged to F. A. Becker & Co., a commission firm in South Water street.

Ordinance Made a Special Order.

The judiciary committee of the city council made the cold storage ordinance a special order for its next meeting. Some of the aldermen were disposed to call Health Commissioner Whalen a bad politician. They said if he had made public the conditions in the cold storage plants before Monday instead of afterwards the council would have passed his inspection ordinance night before last without trouble.

Grocers Call on Mayor.

Mayor Dunne was visited during the day by three mysterious wholesale grocers, who asked him to ease up a little on the newspaper publicity which had been given "Fish" Murray's discoveries of spoiled canned goods. The mayor refused to give out their names.

"They also wanted to be allowed to keep the condemned goods," said the mayor, "so they could return them to the manufacturer and get their money back. Such, they said, was in line with their present practice.

"I pointed out that the city's condemnation tag and certificate was all the evidence needed. They admitted that, but said the manufacturer demanded the cans back, so he, in turn, could get the rebate from the canner. I told them they would have to arrange between themselves to make the city's certificate cover the claims all along the line. As for publicity, I stated that Health Commissioner Whalen's present order met their legitimate needs."

"Fish" Gets Examination Postponed.

"Fish" Murray succeeded in getting the merit board to postpone until Nov. 19 the civil service examination to be held for his place. This test had been scheduled for Friday, Oct. 5.

No reason for the change was given in the notice sent out by the commissioners to the applicants, but an investigation revealed the fact that "Fish" had grown apprehensive with the approach of the examination and the discovery that he must meet the competition of Dr. J. F. Biehn, head of the municipal laboratory, and other scientific men. Murray went to Dr. Whalen, the latter went to Mayor Dunne, and the mayor, it is said, went to President Powell. The change was made.

This is the second time within a week the commission has switched its examination time. The other instance was in the test scheduled for last week for fourth grade engineers. It is said that applicants who had come here from other cities were forced to give up when they discovered that they must wait another two weeks or make an extra trip back.

Fined for Short Weight Lard.

Representatives of ten packing firms in the Union stockyards were arraigned before Justice Sheldon in the afternoon, charged with selling short weight lard. The justice decided against three of the packers, after he and Attorney Ralph Crews, counsel for the packers, had argued as to whether the firms should be compelled by law to place five pounds of lard in each pail, not considering the weight of the pail.

The justice held the Omaha Packing company, Armour & Co., and Libby, McNeill & Libby, guilty of selling short weight lard and imposed the minimum fine of $25 upon each. Seven other firms were ruled not guilty.

SOUTH SHORE COUNTRY CLUB IS WARNED BY MAYOR DUNNE.

"Somebody Will Be Arrested if Sale of Liquor Continues," He Tells President of Organization.

Mayor Dunne declared last night that "somebody will be arrested if the South Shore Country club continues to sell liquor in the prohibition district of Hyde Park." He did not say who the "somebody" would be, but he sent for William C. Thorne, president of the club, and warned him that the club must not sell liquor in its clubhouse.

This action was taken after members of the Hyde Park Protective association and other similar organizations had interviewed the mayor.

"What do you want me to do? Do you want me to arrest them?" the mayor asked Arthur Burrage Farwell, secretary of the Hyde Park association, who headed the delegation.

Mr. Farwell said this was not necessary, but that the mayor should warn the club officials that this course might be taken if they continue to sell liquor.

"I shall send for Mr. Thorne and I will take the matter up with the law department and see what is the proper course to take," the mayor replied.

"We simply asked the mayor to enforce the law," Mr. Farwell said, when he left the mayor's office. "I am satisfied that the mayor is convinced the law has been broken. It is up to the city to take action."

Ald. Moynihan of the Eighth ward and the Windsor Park Improvement company will make an effort to regain the 20,000 feet of boulevard valued at $40,000 which the South Shore club was allowed to inclose and use for a private drive for their automobiles and coaches. They allege that a sufficient consideration was not given for the land taken.

The members of the club are asking the names of the men who were parties to the alleged agreement to give value received for the street now used as a private roadway.

RE QUA TO OUST EVIL TENANTS.

Broker Set Free on Agreeing to Make "Old Kentucky Home" Move—More Raids Planned.

The Rev. Johnston Myers of Immanuel Baptist church yesterday nonsuited the case against Charles H. Re Qua, member of the board of trade, in connection with the recent raid made upon the "Old Kentucky Home," 2317 Indiana avenue. The pastor stated that Mr. Re Qua has promised to force the present tenants of the property to move. The charge against the broker was renting property for immoral purposes.

Several days ago Sergt. Prendergast and a half dozen detectives raided the place, arresting Madge La Salle, the keeper, and several inmates. Dr. Myers intends to swear out warrants for the arrest of keepers of four other disreputable places within the next few days.

"Chief Collins has favored me in the fight against these places," said Dr. Myers. "He has promised to station a policeman at the doors day and night."

Volunteer Prosecutor Is Back.

Robert Hall McCormick returned to his duties in the Criminal court yesterday, where he is serving, without compensation, as an assistant state's attorney. In June Mr. McCormick secured a leave of absence, and as secretary to Minister Lloyd Griscom attended the Pan-American conference at Brazil.

Automobile Dealer a Bankrupt.

George A. Crane, individually and as a copartner with C. E. Golden in the Knox Automobile company, 1206 Michigan avenue, yesterday afternoon filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy seeking relief from debts aggregating $71,812. He scheduled his assets at $2,719. Crane appears in the directory as the sales agent for the Knox Automobile company.

ELEVATOR VICTIM TELLS TROUBLES.

Nebraska Grain Dealer Testifies Before Interstate Commerce Commission.

HARASSED BY BIG RIVAL.

Declares Railway's Illegal Action Gives Monopoly to Peavey Company.

Evidence presented to the interstate commerce commission yesterday tended to show that the allowance of 1¼ cents a hundred pounds, which the Union Pacific railway pays the Omaha Elevator company for elevating its own grain gives the latter company the power to crush out its competitors. It also was shown that this power has been employed ruthlessly.

The Omaha Elevator company is the name under which the Peavey Grain company operates its elevators on the Missouri river. Testimony indicated not only that independent elevator concerns which do not enjoy the allowance are hit by its payment, but that the Chicago and other markets which compete for business with the Omaha market are placed at a serious disadvantage by it.

Ineffectual attempts were made by J. N. Baldwin, counsel for the Union Pacific, to extract from George M. Street, president of the South Chicago Elevator company, the facts as to the ownership of the elevators which his company operates. The examination indicated that the true owner is the Rock Island railroad. J. C. Shaffer, who nominally is chief owner, probably will have a chance to explain his company's relations with the Rock Island before the present inquiry ends.

Tells of Peavey Methods.

The witness who threw most light on the alleged elevator trust's methods of crushing out competition was S. MacMurray, a grain dealer at Wood River, Neb. Mr. MacMurray looks and dresses like a plain old farmer, but he has a sharp tongue and much native humor, and his answers to the lawyers' questions kept the members of the commission and the crowd in Judge Bethea's courtroom laughing a good share of the time he was on the stand.

Mr. MacMurray formerly managed one of Peavey's two elevators at Wood River. There was also a third elevator, an independent concern, at that point. The two Peavey elevators were operated under different names and the fact of their common ownership was kept secret.

"As long as the independent was 'good' and didn't try to get more than his fair share of the business," said Mr. MacMurray, "we let him alone, but if he tried to get more than his share we overbid him for the grain and forced him to the wall. The independent elevator in consequence has changed hands several times. The longest any man has been able to hang on is three years. We had orders from headquarters to manage things that way.

How Prices Are Shifted.

"I finally fell out with the Peaveys," Mr. MacMurray continued, "and decided to go into business at Wood River for myself. I tried to buy one of the Peavey elevators, but they wouldn't sell. Then I concluded to rent a warehouse. Mr. Peterson of Grand Island, Neb., auditor for the Omaha Elevator company, told me the company would 'break my back' if I attempted to compete with it, and Mr. Peck, another of its officers, threatened they 'would make trouble' for me. The first day I was in business they raised the price of grain on me 2 cents, and they kept it up. The result was I had to hold the grain I had bought until the market went down or sell at a loss.

"Finding I raised prices at Wood River, the business men of Shelton decided I was a 'good thing' and asked me to buy some grain there. As soon as I went to Shelton the trust raised the price on me there. I now buy in both places. When I am in Shelton Peavey's prices are up at Shelton and down at Wood River. When I am at Wood River prices are up there and down at Shelton."

Chicago Market Is Hurt.

President Street of the South Chicago Elevator company testified that the allowance paid by the Union Pacific to the Omaha Elevator company enables the latter concern to overbid his company at transmissouri river points and to undersell it in the markets of the east and of Europe, and in consequence deprives it of business it otherwise would get, and hurts the Chicago market by diverting grain from this place.

Mr. Street's testimony developed the fact that Omaha grain dealers have a boycott against the Rock Island railroad, and that they have boycotted Mr. Street's company because it ships practically all its grain from Omaha to Chicago via the Rock Island, and have denied his application for membership in their stock exchange.

Asked regarding the ownership of his company's elevators, he stated they are leased by it from the Chicago and Rock Island Elevator company.

Doesn't Know Elevator's Owners.

"Who are the stockholders in the Chicago and Rock Island Elevator company from whom you lease?" Mr. Street was asked.

"I don't know," was the reply.

"Do you mean to tell this commission," demanded Attorney Baldwin, "that, although president of the South Chicago Elevator company, you don't know any of the owners of the elevators which you use?"

"I do," was the smiling response.

W. S. Warren, former president of the Chicago board of trade, testified that ten years ago from 150 to 200 grain merchants regularly were doing business on the local board, while now there are but 23.

"To what do you attribute this change?" asked Mr. Severance, counsel for the Chicago Great Western.

"I attribute it," Mr. Warren replied, "to the fact that many men have been driven out of business by discriminations which the railroads have practiced in favor of certain large elevator companies."

Illinois Central Is Attacked.

William H. Sufferns of Decatur, Ill., testified that discrimination made by the Illinois Central in favor of two Chicago grain firms, Harris, Scotten & Co. and the Rosenbaum Grain company, gave them a practical monopoly of export traffic over that line and had forced him to abandon his export business. R. J. Barr of New Orleans, he asserted, had had a similar experience.

CHILDREN BITTEN BY DOG; ONE IN SERIOUS CONDITION.

Animal Owned by A. Ruberg, 967 Seminary Avenue, First Attacks Owner, Then Creates Terror in Sheridan Road.

A fox terrier dog, snapping viciously as it ran past frightened women and children who were seeking places of safety, led three policemen of the Sheffield avenue station an exciting race yesterday afternoon along Sheridan road. The dog was not killed until three children had been bitten severely.

The Victims.

PURCELL, ELLA, 11 years old, 506 Belden avenue; right arm torn and bitten twice on leg.

SPEIL, GEORGE, 10 years old, 16 Pine Grove avenue; bitten on leg.

The dog was owned by A. Ruberg, 967 Seminary avenue. It first displayed symptoms of the rabies shortly after 3 o'clock, when Ruberg went in the rear yard. The dog sprang at him. Ruberg saved himself by running into his home. The dog then ran into the street.

TO START CHARTER WORK.

CONVENTION, AFTER LONG REST, MEETS THIS AFTERNOON.

Late Activity Shown by Several Committees, Particularly the One on Education, Which Has Solved a Scheme for Reorganizing the Public School System of Chicago—City Ownership and Operation of Docks and Wharves to Be Urged.

The Chicago charter convention will meet for the first time in eight months at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the council chamber at the city hall. Reports of the various committees will be received, and without debate these will be referred to the committee on rules, procedure, and general plan, which will consider them at its meeting tomorrow afternoon.

As a result of the impending meeting of the convention there was a scurrying among the members of several committees, and three meetings were held yesterday afternoon in the convention headquarters, 171 Washington street. The most important of these was that of the public education committee, which wrestled with the problems before it until far into the night.

Wants City to Own Docks.

The rivers and harbors committee was unable to secure a quorum, but three of the members, Chairman Joseph M. Patterson, Andrew J. Graham, and James M. Kittleman, indorsed the proposal made last spring to permit the city to own and operate docks, wharves, elevators, and warehouses. Another meeting of this committee will be held before the convention today in an effort to have its report ready when called for.

The law committee transacted routine business, but accomplished nothing definite, as but few members could be present. It is possible that this committee will make no report until matters coming from other committees are submitted to it.

Reorganization of Schools.

The distinctive features of the report adopted by the committee on edueation are:

A board of education consisting of fifteen members, appointed by the mayor for a term of four years, and confirmed by the council; no salary, but members are exempt from jury service; qualifications are residence in the United States and Chicago five years and 30 years of age.

Two executive heads, superintendent of schools and business manager. The superintendent of schools will have exclusive charge of all matters pertaining to education alone, subject to supervision and direction of the board. The powers of the business manager will be similar in scope, but deal exclusively with the operations and maintenance of the schools.

Heads of other departments will be a secretary, auditor, and an attorney.

Promotion of teachers to be decided upon a merit system by a board consisting of superintendent, assistant superintendent, and three members appointed by the board upon recommendation of the superintendent.

Board may take initiative in all matters delegated to the executive heads upon a vote of two-thirds.

Compulsory education age raised to 16 years, but boys over 14 may be excused if they can show they are employed at least five hours a day.

A commission for correlating the educational forces of the city is to be appointed by the mayor and consist of not more than seventeen members, selected from public and quasi-public educational institutions.

Graham Taylor Is Pleased.

In speaking of the report Graham Taylor, chairman of the committee, said:

"I am much pleased with it and I believe if it is adopted by the convention and made a part of the new charter the conduct of our school affairs will be on a much higher plane. Of course there are certain matters, such as funds and so forth, which must be decided by the taxation committee, but I have no doubt all these matters can be brought into harmony.

"The report, as decided on, not only greatly increases the actual powers of the board, but it raises the position of superintendent to one of dignity and one commensurate with the duties to be performed by that officer. Moreover it creates another executive having charge of an important branch of the school system and does away with this present disorganized and unbusinesslike method.

Teachers to Be Consulted.

"There was some question as to how this should be done. Personally I was in favor of dividing the duties of a business manager and eliminating the secretary, but the majority of the committee felt otherwise, and I am convinced either plan will be a great improvement over the present system. In preparing this report we did not forget the teachers and the board may submit questions to them when their opinions are desired."

TWO KNOCKED DOWN BY AUTOS.

Woman and Boy Are Injured Slightly by Horseless Vehicles Driven in the Business District.

Two persons were knocked down by automobiles yesterday afternoon. Mrs. M. Canon, 45 years old, 206 Oakley boulevard, was in Adams street, near Wabash avenue, when she was struck by a car belonging to Sprague, Warner & Co. and driven by Joseph Hacker. Her jaw was injured slightly.

Henry Smith, 16 years old, 582 Thirty-seventh street, was at Monroe and State streets when he was struck by an automobile owned by G. McMichsels, Forty-fourth street and Drexel boulevard, and driven by A. B. Erman, 591 Orchard street.

The boy was knocked to the pavement and was assisted by persons. He complained of only slight bruises.

BIG PACKERS AID THE LITTLE ONES.

Four Large Concerns Join the American Association, Organized on Monday.

AIM IS MUTUAL BENEFIT.

Arkansas Attorney General Returns Home with Mission Unaccomplished.

The big packers met the little packers yesterday with open arms—by proxy.

Swift & Co., Armour & Co., Morris & Co., Schwarzschild & Sulzberger, and the Cudahy Packing company, through various representatives, signed the roll of the American Meat Packers' association at the Grand Pacific hotel. Starting on a small scale, but with plenty of enthusiasm, the association has spent no large sum for stationery. The names of the world renowned packing companies were written in a manila covered blank book, such as retail at a nickel.

The National Packing company was the only big concern that failed to join. Gen. Michael Ryan, president of the organization, said there was nothing significant about this. He had tried to communicate by telephone with Edward Tilden, president of the National Packing company, but Mr. Tilden always "had just left."

The representatives of the big packing firms made speeches in which they said the association was a fine thing, and should have been organized long ago.

Everybody in Good Humor.

"It will help us to make more money, and make it easier," said W. H. Miller of Miller & Hart, who cannot be called a "small packer," since he weighs 275 pounds. Everybody cheered.

"We are proud to ally ourselves with this association," said L. M. Byles in behalf of Morris & Co. "We are proud of being packers. There is nothing derogatory about a business that is engaged in feeding the world. Some people have been down on us in the past and it has largely been because we had no organization."

"Anything that interests the trade interests us," said B. J. Mullaney, who spoke for Armour & Co., "and we are glad to become members of the association." [Cheers.]

R. C. McManus of the legal department of Swift & Co. said the packers always are confronted with problems of some sort and it was a good thing they had organized a central body to investigate them, because the same old problems are bobbing up all over the country."

"I am happy to join," said B. F. Sulzberger. "I wonder why we didn't organize before."

Pure Food Laws Discussed.

Having a little time to spare, the president asked some of the members to describe the workings of the food laws in the various states. Some of them didn't know much about that.

"The Pennsylvania food law is as strict as the federal regulations," said a packer from that state.

"You want it strict, don't you?" asked the president confidently.

"Yes," was the answer.

"I didn't know we had a food law," said a representative from Kansas. "It's not a strong one, I guess."

"The Illinois food law is a liberal one," said R. C. McManus of Swift & Co., "and fairly and satisfactorily enforced. We have a good state food commissioner and he's waiting for the government to set the pace."

He said nothing about City Food Inspector "Fish" Murray, who was "muzzled" because he said things about condemned meat at the "S. & S." plant.

"I see higher and better things in store for the packers of this country," said President Ryan, as the meeting drew to a close. "After this we'll be assailed as an organized body, not as a lot of scattered unions. We'll have 500 members when we meet this time next year and will have to hire a hall."

Then he gave the treasurer's name and address so that everybody could send in his $25 initiation fee. Representatives of the big packers all wrote it down in little memorandum books.

Packers Refuse to Testify.

Attorney General Robert L. Rogers of Arkansas and his assistants started back to Little Rock, having failed to collect fines from five of the leading packers for violating the anti-trust laws of that state.

The packers refused to appear before Special Commissioner Lyle D. Taylor and testify or produce the books and records of the firms so that the Arkansas attorneys would secure evidence to convict them. W. E. Hemingway of Little Rock, representing the packing companies, said the law was unconstitutional.

Mr. Rogers said the law of Arkansas gave him authority to strike the answer of the packers from the records and collect judgment against them by default, and he was going to have judgment entered against at least one defendant, the Hammond Packing company. The minimum fine is $1,200 and the maximum $30,000.

If the packers had testified or pleaded guilty the Arkansas attorneys would have carried away in their grips the tidy little sum of $200,000 in fines. But they had a good time in Chicago, attending all the theaters.

BACK FROM AIDING FRISCO

ERNEST P. BICKNELL RETURNS AFTER SIX MONTHS.

Superintendent of Chicago Bureau of Charities, Who Went to Coast for Commercial Association, Praises California City and Its Courageous Residents for Their Rebuilding Work and Predicts a Greater Future for the Western Metropolis.

Ernest P. Bicknell returned to Chicago yesterday evening from a six months' stay in San Francisco on relief work. He praised the citizens of San Francisco warmly for their activity and loyalty in the work of rebuilding their city. Mr. Bicknell, who is superintendent of the Chicago bureau of charities, went to San Francisco as the representative of the Chicago Commercial association.

"The unselfishness and industry of the San Francisco people is almost unparalleled in history," he said. "The wealthiest men, who lost the most, have been the most zealous in the work of rebuilding. The residents of the city have every reason to be encouraged with the outlook.

"The work of rebuilding is going on as rapidly as it possibly could, and when rebuilt the city will be much more beautiful than the old. One drawback is the exorbitant cost of building materials. It is certain that prices have been manipulated by men in control of the output of building materials. The cost of frescoing and plastering the St. Francis hotel was $90,000, when the original cost of the same was but $45,000.

30,000 Still in Tents.

"There are still about 30,000 persons living in tents, but houses are being rapidly built for them. The relief committee has let contracts for the building of 45,000 two and three room houses. These will be built at a cost of $100 and $150 and will relieve the most pressing needs for shelter.

"The people all are self-supporting, and there is not an able bodied man, woman, or child in the town who cannot find work. There is a great demand for builders of all kinds, and they receive exceedingly high wages. If there are any unemployed workmen in Chicago they cannot do better than go to San Francisco. That is, if they are union men.

"The insurance has been a source of much trouble. Many of the companies still refuse to recognize the claims on account of the earthquake having caused the fire, although about $100,000,000 has been paid.

"One of the most serious difficulties still left to be straightened out is the confusion in the titles to property. The county records were burned.

Temporary Business District.

"No important work will be done in the business district in the way of erection of large business blocks for some time. The business section has been rebuilt temporarily in Van Ness avenue. It will cost about $10,000,000 to remove the débris from the burnt out business section.

"Sanitary conditions in the city, considering the difficulties with which the authorities have had to contend, are excellent. The city is well policed and well governed, and much credit is due Mayor Schmitz for the way he has administered affairs."

BOY AGED 16 STABS MAN OF 60.

Henry Martin Throws Stones at Adam Schlussman's Son and Uses Knife When Father Objects.

Adam Schlussman, 60 years old, 325 Hudson avenue, was stabbed in the side last night by Henry M. Martin, 16 years old, 391 Hudson avenue. He was not injured seriously. Schlussman saw his 10 year old son quarreling with Martin, and when the latter threw stones at the younger boy the father remonstrated with him. Martin told the father that he was not afraid of him, and attacked him with the knife, inflicting a wound an inch and a half deep near the heart. The police are looking for Martin.

BANKERS URGE A REFORM.

CHANGES SUGGESTED IN LAW REGARDING EXAMINATIONS.

Searching Investigation of the Genuineness of Every Note and the Corresponding Security Recommended by President Reynolds of the Continental National—D. A. Moulton of the Corn Exchange Declares for Competent Men Only.

Two recommendations which, if adopted, will go far towards eliminating bank examiners of the type of Cassius C. Jones and render almost impossible a repetition of the bank looting that ruined the Milwaukee Avenue State bank were made yesterday by George M. Reynolds and D. A. Moulton, president and vice president, respectively, of the Bankers' club of Chicago.

Mr. Reynolds, who is president of the Continental National bank, declared that in his opinion the controller of the currency should instruct every bank examiner to make a searching investigation as to the genuineness of every note and the corresponding security found in a bank.

The method suggested for investigating the value of the notes and securities is the sending out of blanks and envelopes to every signer of a note with the requirement that he answer printed questions concerning the note.

Thorough Inquiry Necessary.

Mr. Moulton's suggestion was that a bank examiner should be a man thoroughly competent and energetic enough to delve into everything connected with the conduct of a bank, whether he has grounds to believe the institution suspicious or not.

"THE TRIBUNE is right in agitating the need for more stringent banking laws," said Mr. Reynolds. "The Stensland failure will be a tonic to the banking business, but the cost of the lesson was beyond all reason."

"A great deal depends upon the type of man acting as a bank examiner," said Mr. Moulton, vice president of the Corn Exchange National bank. "He should be a man who will discover any rottenness that may be hidden, and will enforce the laws."

Trouble Over Bank Deed.

James B. Forgan, president of the First National bank, who purchased the Milwaukee Avenue State bank property, has demanded a deed from the directors of the old Stensland concern, but they hesitate to give it to him until they learn whether the Superior or Circuit court has jurisdiction over the bank's affairs. Attorney Joseph Weissenbach, representing the receiver, said it was understood that the directors were to give a deed. He added that Mr. Forgan has paid $20,000.

Judge Windes probably will hear arguments tomorrow in the case brought by Attorney General Stead.

Receiver Fisher stated that bids for the $1,002,000 in mortgages will be opened Oct. 15. If 75 cents on the dollar is obtained for them the sale will make it possible to pay a third dividend of 20 per cent to depositors. The sale of the Coöperative store is expected daily.

SON OF C. P. VAN SCHAACK GOES RIDING: DISAPPEARS.

Boy 15 Years Old Starts for Uncle's House in Kenilworth and Is Seen No More—Father Fears Autos.

Byford C. Van Schaack, the 15 year old son of Cornelius Peter Van Schaack and grandson of the founder of the wholesale drug house of Peter Van Schaack & Sons, is missing from his home in Wilmette. He left there after school yesterday afternoon to ride his bicycle to Kenilworth, where, at the residence of his uncle, Robert Van Schaack, he was to join the "Kenilworth cadets" in their bi-weekly drill under the instruction of a sergeant from Fort Sheridan.

The boy did not appear at his uncle's house. When he failed to show up at his own home for supper his father instituted a search.

"I am afraid he has been hurt by an automobile and is laid up somewhere unconscious and unable to give any clew to his identity," said Mr. Van Schaack. "He is an obedient boy and never has shown any inclination to run away, so I cannot believe that he has gone off."

Up to a late hour last night the father had heard nothing of the child though he systematically called up the residences along Sheridan road, as well as the north shore hospitals. Young Van Schaack was in the seventh grade in the Wilmette school.

LOVE SPURNED; KILLS HIMSELF.

Charles Janke, 19 Years Old, Commits Suicide After Bewailing a Girl's Indifference.

After bewailing the indifference with which a young woman repaid his attentions, Charles Janke, 19 years old and a clerk in a downtown store, shot and killed himself last night while in the candy store of Mrs. Mary Sheehan, 1375 West Twelfth street.

Janke went to the store with two companions at a little before 11 o'clock. He talked much of the girl, saying life was not worth living without her favor, and then suddenly produced a revolver, placed it against his temple, and pulled the trigger. He lived at 684 Talman avenue.

The body of John O'Keefe, 164 North Desplaines street, was picked up at 10:30 p. m. on Green street, between Austin avenue and Kinzie street. The police at first believed he might have been murdered, and five men from "Mulvihill's barn," in the vicinity, were placed under arrest pending an investigation. Later it was thought O'Keefe died a natural death. He was a ball player, and during the last season played with the Ottumwa, Ia., team.

The Stylish Overcoat for Fall Wear

The fashionable overcoats for this season are not quite so form fitting as they were last. The overcoat shown in the accompanying illustration is attracting the attention of the men who keep in touch with the latest styles. It is generally made in Vicunas or Cheviots. The back is cleverly draped, the front is straight and rather loose fitting. The lapels are broad and peaked. There are three buttons which are buttoned through. It is without a vent, a little point which differentiates high grade garments from those made by cheap manufacturers.

BLAME ON THE RELATIVES

Denounces Carmody and Others; Asserts She Has Not Decided to Bring Suit.

New York, Oct. 2.—[Special.]—The real motive for Mrs. Thomas Collier Platt's campaign for a divorce against her husband was revealed today. It was her discovery that Senator Platt, shrewdly foreseeing an exposure of his matrimonial troubles, had transferred a large part of his estate to his three sons, and other relatives. Close friends of the old senator insist he thus has impoverished himself solely to exclude his wife from any substantial pecuniary benefit in the event of his death.

Utterly estranged by the developments of the transcontinental tour, in which Coachman Hedges figured as an invited guest and fished escort of Mrs. Platt, the senator and his wife maintained an outward semblance of amity. But although living under the same roof, appearing occasionally in public together, they rarely exchanged a word, save bitter anger and vituperation.

Go-Between a Nurse.

The go-between in the divided home was a highly paid nurse employed by Mrs. Platt for the exclusive care of her favorite and ailing poodle. She was the human telephone through which the estranged pair did their necessary talking. But the final break came when Mrs. Platt learned the senator had reduced his estate practically to bare bones.

It was there Mrs. Platt decided upon an action for divorce, designed to bring the senator's family, father and sons, to her feet with offers of a compromise. Matters were in this shape when the published story of astonishing wrangle disarranged all the pace.

It is said she discovered Senator Platt had transferred stocks, bonds, and other securities to a total value of more than $500,000; that he practically had stripped himself of everything save annual incomes as president of the United States Express company and United States senator.

Mrs. Platt, having failed in a determined effort to effect a mutual protective combination with the unforgiving senator, frankly admitted the estrangement today. In an interview at the senator's country home at Highland Mills she verified the published story of her troubles, denounced the senator as foremost among her enemies, and threatened exposures that would be sensational.

Then she said:

"What have you to say about Coachman Hedges, whose name has been coupled with yours in stories that are being circulated at present?"

"Well, there is a great deal that is untrue that has been said about that young man. As a matter of truth, it was the senator who hired him in the first place. Mrs. Platt and her daughter, Mrs. Francis J. Carmody, who is also in marital distress, received the reporter in the library. All about them was a litter of hat boxes and trunk trays and suit cases.

Woman Secures Divorce from Rich Woodstock, Ill., Man to Live Near Servant of Chicagoan at Twin Lakes—Man Pleads Guilty to the Charges Made Against Couple and Asks Quick Punishment to Shield Woman's Name.

Kenosha, Wis., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—After soundly thrashing him, P. W. Murphy, Woodstock, Ill., had Edward Conklin, a coachman, arrested here today on charges involving Mrs. Murphy and a scandal affecting some of Woodstock's leading families.

According to Murphy, who is a rich real estate dealer, his wife secured a divorce in order that she might follow Conklin to Twin Lakes, where he is employed as coachman by Harry Boore, Chicago.

Mrs. Murphy is a member of an old Woodstock family. Conklin formerly was a lawyer. He has a wife and child.

Coachman Willing to Suffer.

When arraigned in court here today on a statutory charge Conklin pleaded guilty, and said he was willing to waive trial to avoid dragging the woman any deeper into the case. He declared that he and Mrs. Murphy had been friends since childhood, and that they recently renewed their acquaintance while singing in the choir of the First Baptist church at Woodstock.

Conklin admitted that Mrs. Murphy had left her home at Woodstock, and had gone to Twin Lakes in order that she might live near him. He declared he did not desire a trial on the charges against him, being willing to accept any penalty imposed.

Murphy did not come to Kenosha to push the charges. Mrs. Murphy did not appear in court.

Trounced by Angry Husband.

In court Conklin bore evidence of the trouncing Murphy had given him. On discovering the true facts of his wife's infatuation Murphy went to Twin Lakes and relieved some of his feeling on his rival. Then he had him arrested.

FORMER CHICAGO GIRL HELD; $1,000 BANK FRAUD CHARGED.

Young Woman Giving Names of Emma Burns and Florence Scott in Jail for Alleged Forgery at Galesburg.

Galesburg, Ill., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—A young woman, who gave her name at Knox college as Emma Burns of Minneapolis and at her boarding place as Florence Scott, and who claims to have lived for five years at 529½ Jackson boulevard, Chicago, is in jail charged with procuring $1,000 on two forged checks at the First National bank here. She is an attractive appearing girl of 20 and secured the money from the bank by representing that she was going to college and by showing a note from the college officials.

Last week she tried to obtain $5,000 from a Monmouth bank by similar deception. Officers are busy trying to forge the mystery of her identity and whether she had an accomplice. She spent money prodigally here.

In her confession she claimed that a man accomplice compelled her under threat of death to procure the money, but she refuses to divulge his identity.

It was said last night that no such person has ever lived at 529½ Jackson boulevard.

Factional troubles in the municipal government are the basis for the dismissals.

Lieut. Doyle will not state whether he will assume the office. If he obeys the council he will be dismissed by Mayor Cook, and it is stated if he fails to obey the council that body will discharge him.

WHOLE POLICE FORCE INDICTED.

Tampico, Ill., Peace Guardians Charged with Fighting Aldermen Who Won't Attend Meeting.

Sterling, Ill., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—The entire police force of the village of Tampico was indicted this morning by the Whiteside county grand jury charged with assault and battery. The indictment is the result of the refusal of temperance members to attend a meeting of the council. Mayor Kempt ordered his police force to bring them in. The aldermen resisted, and there was a fight. The mayor was not indicted. It is said that the police will plead guilty.

Miss Ella O'Malley.

"Select your favorite flower! Every bouquet will pay for a new board in the church."

This was the cry of the flower girls in the miniature flower garden at the bazaar of the Holy Family parish jubilee last evening at Twelfth and May streets. Selecting the favorite flowers meant selecting the most popular flower girl and the friendly competition among the young women made excitement for the entire bazaar.

Among the most successful flower saleswomen were Miss Mary Tobin, Miss May Howard, Miss Catherine Denvir, Miss Genevieve Sullivan, and Miss Madge Norton.

None the less exciting was the beauty contest which was waged over the ice cream dishes in the gayly decorated booth presided over by the "ice cream ladies." The consumer of each dish was entitled to cast a vote for one of the waitresses. Miss Ella O'Malley was said to have been the most successful in this field. A close second was Miss Cleo De Brule, who boasted that one man had consumed six quarts of cream at one sitting, thereby casting a score of votes for her. Margaret O'Donnell, Loue O'Malley, Molly O'Donnell, Mary Boynton, Margaret Brady, Mollie Lessing, Emma Gray, Kittie Powers, Ella Gavin, and May Dougherty were not without their admirers as was evinced by the empty freezers that were rolled out of the booth from time to time.

IRISH LEAGUERS WILL SEND ENGLAND THEIR SENTIMENTS.

Committee Appointed to Formulate Message—Col. Finerty of Chicago, President of Organization, Makes Address.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 2.—Aside from the address of Col. John F. Finerty of Chicago, president of the United Irish League of America, at the opening session today of that organization's convention, the most important feature of the day's business was the appointment of the committee on resolutions.

This committee will formulate what John O'Callaghan, the national secretary, termed "the message that will express to England the sentiment not only of Irish Americans but of the entire Irish race." T. P. O'Connor, the direct representative of the Irish parliamentary party, will counsel the committee on the attitude of John E. Redmond and his colleagues.

Secretary O'Callaghan's report stated that "when our last convention met the tory government commanded by a majority of more than 100 votes in the British house of commons in opposition to the will of the Irish people. Today that majority has been shattered and the leaders are without a party."

Many prominent natives of Ireland are attending the convention, among them O'Donovan Rossa, T. P. O'Connor, leader of Ireland's cause in the English parliament, and Edward Blake, member of parliament from County Longford, Ireland.

SCALES MT. M'KINLEY AT LAST.

Dr. Fred A. Cook of Brooklyn Satisfies Ambition to Make First Ascent of High Pacific Coast Peak.

New York, Oct. 2.—Dr. Fred A. Cook of Brooklyn has satisfied his ambition to reach the summit of Mount McKinley, 20,464 feet above the Pacific ocean.

Dr. Cook's is the first ascent of the mountain on record. It followed repeated failures. News of his success was received tonight in a telegram from him dated Tyonek, Alaska, to H. L. Bridgman of a Brooklyn paper. It read:

"We have reached the summit of Mount McKinley by a new route from the north and have mapped 3,000 miles of country. Return to Seattle by next steamer."

Dr. Cook was surgeon of the Peary arctic expedition in 1891-'2, and similarly associated with the Belgium expedition of 1897-'8. He has written much on polar exploration.

EIGHT HUSBANDS LED TO COURT TO TELL OF SIGHTS THEY SAW.

Three Young Models Haled Before Harlem Judge Because of Their Actions in Front of Open Windows—Men Choose One Israel H. Pinner to Tell Their Story — Denies He Used Opera Glasses and Says It Wasn't Necessary.

New York, Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Three young artists' models have so upset a Washington Heights apartment house that eight wives today marched eight husbands into a Harlem court to describe the scandalous sights they saw. None of the men wanted to be the one to tell. Finally they offered up as sacrifice Israel H. Pinner, who, with his wife, Ethel, lives on the second floor of the apartment building. Pinner told a story of a free living picture show that caused Magistrate Walsh to adjourn the case till Thursday morning.

The tenants said they had been seeing all sorts of sights from their back windows, which are directly opposite a flat occupied by three young women. Investigation proved them to be the Sanson sisters—Caroline, 22 years old; Rhea, 18 years old; and Frances, 16 years old.

Only Miss Caroline appeared in court today with her attorney, "Dan" O'Reilly. She is pretty and shapely, with red hair.

Demands Complainant; Silence.

Attorney O'Reilly demanded that the complainant step forth. Whereupon a great silence fell on eight men. Finally, under the reproachful glances of the women, Pinner was led to the stand.

"Did you ever see this young woman before?" he was asked.

"Not with any clothes on," stammered Pinner, getting red. "I've seen her and two others posing in their back window of nights. One has black hair—long black hair that comes to here," and Binner indicated the calf of his leg.

"They never have any blinds on their windows. They always—er—er—retire in front of the window."

"How do you know? Are you a 'peeping Tom'?" demanded O'Reilly.

"No, sir; I am a respectable man, I'll have you to know, sir." Pinner got redder. "But I can't help seeing what is so plain."

Are you the man with the opera glasses who was around there?"

Tries to Shame Her by Gazing.

"No, sir; I don't need opera glasses."

"I was looking out of the window and found myself looking directly at her." Pinner by this time was almost purple. "I looked right at her—hard—to shame her out of undressing before the window.

"'Just then my wife came up and I pushed her away because I didn't think it was a proper sight for her.'

"'You wanted it all to yourself?' suggested O'Reilly.

Miss Caroline went on the stand to deny the charge.

"Of course, in warm weather we might have gone around in kimonos," she said, "but as for that—mercy!"

NEW FOOTBALL RULES HIT; MAKE GAME MORE DANGEROUS

Coaches Testify at Inquest Into Death of Captain That Open Play Increases Risks of Participants.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—In the opinion of three coaches who testified today at the inquest into the death of John P. Kennedy of Troy, captain of the Lawrenceville school football team, the new rules designed to eliminate the rougher features of the game have rendered it more dangerous than the old game.

The coaches who gave this as their individual judgment based upon what they had seen in this year's game were Frederick W. Kafer, Dana Kafer, and Percy Calwell, master of the school.

The verdict of the jury was that Capt. Kennedy "came to his death from a fall while playing or practicing on the new rules for a game of football, that his death was purely accidental, no blame being attached to any one."

The coaches explained to the jury that the ten yard rule resulted in more open plays, which, while making a more interesting game for the spectators, they believed more dangerous to the players than the old mass formations and scrimmages.

Injured in Football Game.

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Paul Turk, an athlete at Rose Polytechnical school, today fractured a shoulder blade and dislocated his shoulder joint while playing football. He was to have been an end on the team. Turk holds more state records in the field meets of the Indiana college league than any other contestant.

Austin Dustmaker Fined.

Justice Gibbons' court was crowded yesterday afternoon by residents of Austin, who wanted to protest against the dust coming from 228 North Park avenue, where Ignatius Neselroth had a carpet cleaning shop until the police stopped him on Sept. 7. Then he began the manufacture of hair mattresses. He was fined $10 and said he would give up the business.

SEEK THE ILL FED? TRY SHORE DRIVE.

President Ritter Shoos Clubwomen Away from Jones School District.

WRONG PLACE, HE SAYS.

Children of Rich Suffer Malnutrition More than Poor from Lack of Food.

The movement started by Chicago clubwomen for feeding breakfastless school children of the Jones public school and other schools in congested districts received a severe jolt yesterday.

President Emil W. Ritter of the board of education told members of the Progress Woman's club that the children of parents living on Lake Shore drive and Sheridan road are just as poorly fed as are any of the children in the First ward.

The declaration caused the clubwomen to gasp. President Ritter said he meant that if it was the plan of the members of the Progress club to start a crusade against the improper feeding of children there was as good ground for locating the "experiment station" adjacent to Lake Shore drive as in South State street.

The meeting was held in the rooms of the Progress Woman's club, 571 Washington boulevard, and Mrs. Daniel Munro, who stands sponsor for the restaurant idea, presided. Mrs. Munro declared that 30 per cent of the school children of Chicago suffer from malnutrition.

Idea Dear to Mrs. Munro.

"We are here to discuss a matter which is dear to us, the establishing of a children's lunchroom," began Mrs. Munro. "It is idle to say there are no children in Chicago who need good, wholesome food. There are thousands of them and I shall be glad to take Mr. Ritter or any one else around the city in order to prove it.

"This is not a charity undertaking. Every child will pay for his meal. We expect to make the price from 2 cents to 5 cents a meal."

After several women had spoken, E. T. Lies of the Chicago Bureau of Charities was introduced and he declared that his organization was opposed to the "children's restaurants" until the subject had been more thoroughly investigated.

"We all feel that we have ideas of our own that we do not like to give up," said Mrs. Munro, commenting on the remarks made by Mr. Lies. "We are not at all discouraged because the bureau of charities or any other bureau may not like the idea."

Finally President Ritter was introduced. He began by telling the members the results of his investigation in the Jones school.

Ritter Knows the District.

"I know the Jones school district because I have been a newsboy myself and I have been in business for many years in the First ward," said Mr. Ritter. "I found that most of the children in the Jones school were not only well fed but many of them had money with which to buy food if they wanted it.

"The investigation revealed only three cases which might be called underfeeding. One was due to hereditary causes and the others were tubercular cases. I am not opposed to your plan as a whole, but I object to having the children of the Jones school singled out.

"There is as much improper nutrition among the children on the Lake Shore drive and Sheridan road as among the children in the poorer quarters of the city. If you are to start such a restaurant you should find a more suitable location than in South State street. Children who are overfed and fed only on the richest and most delicate foods often are in a worse condition than those who live on a simpler fare.

"I do not agree with Mrs. Munro when she says that 30 per cent of the school children are underfed. Such a condition may exist in one block, but it does not hold good for the entire city. I consider such a statement a libel on the parents."

Mrs. Munro adjourned the meeting with the statement that a thorough investigation will be made before any action is taken by the club.

Object to Segregation.

The members of the Social Economics club called upon every clubwoman in Chicago to make a personal protest against the action of the board of education in permitting Principal James E. Armstrong of the Englewood High school to continue his experiment in segregation. They declared that segregation in the school is a relic of a past century and that the board should be censured for its willingness to become a laggard in the march of progress.

After the club members had decried the action of the board a resolution was adopted by a unanimous vote calling for the appointment of a committee to study the results of the experiment and make a report to the club in December.

The attack on the school board's action followed a number of speeches on suffrage, and it was evident that the suffragists felt that segregation would have the effect of injuring their cause and narrowing woman's sphere.

WIDOW OF LIEUT. GRESHAM HAS AMADOR'S SON ARRESTED

Consul General of Panama Held in Proceeding Brought for Failure to Support Child.

New York, Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Raoul Amador, son of the president of Panama and consul general in this city for that republic, was arrested today on complaint of Mrs. Bertha K. Gresham in proceedings for the support of her child. Policemen found Amador at luncheon at 32 Broadway.

He jumped to his feet when he saw the woman and two policemen. Officer Dent was at his side in an instant and pinioned his arms while Officer Kennedy grabbed him about the body. The policemen say he called out: "If I had a gun I would shoot you," and that Mrs. Gresham retorted: "Yes, if I had a gun I would shoot you, too."

Amador was arraigned before Justice Wyatt and gave $300 bail. He would say nothing about the case, except to deny the truth of the complaint.

Mrs. Gresham is the widow of Lieut. Gresham, who left her $20,000. She met Consul General Amador about a year and a half ago, when both of them were members of a congressional party that went on a trip to Panama. Mrs. Gresham was defeated a week ago in the Supreme court, when she brought a breach of promise suit against Consul General Amador.

PRIVATE PHONE BEATS BELL.

Extension in Elmer Beach's Office Declared Better for Use than Chicago Company's Instrument.

Testimony tending to show the efficiency of private extension apparatus which Elmer Beach, a lawyer, has attached to his telephone, was given in Judge Windes' court yesterday in the injunction suit brought by Mr. Beach against the Chicago Telephone company.

Patrick E. O'Neill said that he went to Mr. Beach's office Monday afternoon.

"First I talked with my office over the regular Bell telephone on the wall," said the witness, "and then I talked over the extension telephone."

"Which was the more distinct?" asked Mr. Beach, who is conducting the case himself.

"Well, I could hear distinctly over both instruments, but the voice at the other end of the line was clearer over the extension telephone," was the reply.

The hearing will be resumed today.

CABINET TO BE SHAKEN UP

PRESIDENT PLANS REARRANGING HIS OFFICIAL FAMILY.

Resignations of Secretaries Moody and Shaw to Cause Much Shifting Around of Present Advisers—May Force Postponement of Executive Visit to Panama Canal Zone from This Fall to Next Spring—Regret Departure of Attorney General.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt is considering seriously the reorganization of his cabinet. This and other matters of importance which have developed may prevent him from making his inspection of the Panama canal zone until next March instead of this fall, as he planned some months ago.

As far as can be ascertained, the new cabinet will be formed about Feb. 1, when the resignations of Secretaries Shaw and Moody will become operative. In a way the president will have to play checkers with his advisers, and the new cabinet as practically fixed together with the personnel of the present cabinet is as follows:

New cabinet.		Present cabinet.
Elihu Root	STATE	Elihu Root
*C. B. Cortelyou	TREASURY	L. M. Shaw
W. H. Taft	WAR	W. H. Taft
C. J. Bonaparte	LAW	W. H. Moody
*O. V. L. Meyer	POSTAL	C. B. Cortelyou
V. H. Metcalf	NAVY	C. J. Bonaparte
E. A. Hitchcock	INTERIOR	E. A Hitchcock
James Wilson	AGRICULTURE	James Wilson
Undetermined	COMMERCE	V. H. Metcalf

*Mr. Meyer, who is now ambassador to Russia, may be made secretary of the treasury, in which event Secretary Cortelyou probably would retain his present position.

Sorry to Have Moody Go.

It is with considerable regret the president received Secretary Moody's notification of his intention to retire during the winter. Mr. Moody initiated practically all the trust prosecutions which have made the Roosevelt administration a terror to illegal corporations. He now is preparing the case of the government against the Standard Oil company for violations of the anti-trust law. It is understood he will not submit his report to the president until some time in November, so that the suit against this corporation will not be instituted until December or even later.

Attorney General's Business Calls.

Mr. Moody is leaving the cabinet at a critical time, but his private affairs are in such a state he does not feel he can longer remain in public service. Later in the administration the president will appoint him to the Supreme bench if possible.

STRIFE OF RIVAL UNIONS MAY SHUT UP MANY MILLS.

Thirty Woodworkers Are Called Out of a Factory Which Employs Members of Carpenters' Organization Also.

A fight between the Brotherhood of Carpenters and the Amalgamated Woodworkers' International union, with Chicago as the principal battleground, threatens to close many mills in Chicago and throw more than 8,000 workmen out of employment. Each organization is determined to exterminate the other and the employers have found themselves caught between the two millstones.

As a preliminary skirmish in the warfare thirty woodworkers were called out on strike yesterday at the plant of the Kimain Manufacturing company, 200 North Union street. Three or four members of the carpenters' brotherhood were employed in the factory and the members of the woodworkers' union said they would not work with them. Police guarded the premises during the day on account of heavy picketing by both unions.

Carpenters employed by the Brunswick-Balke-Collender company have been ordered on strike, but woodworkers are endeavoring to fill their places.

Charles O. Sherman, who was ousted from the presidency of the Industrial Workers of the World, announced his intention to form a rival organization which will be national in scope. It is said the Western Federation of Miners, which is the strongest body now affiliated with the industrial workers, will join the new movement. A conference has been called for this afternoon at 146 West Madison street to plan a general revolt.

Seventy veniremen were examined in two hours, but no more jurors were secured to hear the conspiracy case against Cornelius P. Shea and other labor leaders. A fresh venire will be summoned today.

Is the lock on your front door a Yale?
Don't guess. It may be what you call a "spring lock" operated with a small flat key, but is it a Yale?
It isn't unless the name "Yale" is on it. If it isn't, it should be.
You may not know the difference between a genuine Yale Lock and an imitation, but a burglar does and he is the party who makes a lock necessary. All cylinder locks may be Yale Locks to you, but when the most talented housebreakers admit that a Yale is too much for them, it is to your interest to learn to distinguish.
Yale Locks are made only by the Yale & Towne Manufacturing Company. Locks based on the Yale idea are made by others. The Yale isn't the best because it was the original, but because in the Yale the idea has been best worked out.
Tell your dealer you want a Yale Lock with the "Yale" name on it. Then there will be no mistake about it.

HERE'S the way Devoe Lead and Zinc Paint proves the cheapest paint to use.
A certain bank president had his house painted with lead-and-oil paint; big house; the paint-job cost $400.
It lasted three years and was then repainted with Devoe Lead and Zinc Paint at a cost of $350. Ten years later, and the paint is still in good condition.
Lead and oil, three years, $400. Devoe, ten years, $350.

PASTORS' CHANGES BRING SURPRISES

Unexpected Transfers Made in Closing Rock River Conference Session.

PASS REPORT ON ALIENS.

Methodists Adopt Modified Resolution; Assail Roosevelt and Bryan.

A number of surprises for the ministers of the Rock River conference of the Methodist church were occasioned last evening by the announcement of the appointments for the coming year. The list was made public by Bishop Joseph F. Berry at the close of the final session of the clergymen at the Park Avenue church.

Probably the least expected change was that which transferred the Rev. Robert H. Pooley of Epworth church, Edgewater, to the presiding eldership of the Joliet district. The bishop kept his intentions closely guarded until a few moments before the reading of the list. Then he filled in the vacancies involved by the change with a lead pencil.

The transfer of Dr. Pooley ends a long fight against him by some members of the Edgewater church.

Dr. Holt Also Advanced.

The Rev. H. V. Holt, a brother of Assistant State's Attorney Holt, also was promoted to a presiding eldership. He was pastor of St. Paul's church, which burned some time ago and was rebuilt under his direction. He was placed in charge of the West Chicago district. Another unforeseen transfer advanced the Rev. J. N. Hall of Wesley church to the Berwyn parish.

There was one pathetic incident of the shifting of pastors. Dr. N. H. Axtell, who was pastor of the Naperville church, was transferred to Manhattan. When he heard of the change he arose and resigned from the conference, saying that it seemed his usefulness must be over. His friends in the conference jumped to their feet and pleaded with him not to resign.

The aged pastor finally decided to become a superannuate. Dr. Axtell years ago was presiding elder of the Joliet district.

In his final address to the ministers Bishop Berry said:

"Perhaps some of you may be disappointed over the appointments. But I have tried to give you all a square deal. And give a Methodist preacher a square deal and he'll go anywhere and do his best. I don't believe we could improve on our decision this year."

Resolution Modified and Passed.

A resolution was passed in the afternoon providing for a new prison committee of the conference to look after the prisoners in the Chicago jails. Dr. W. O. Shepard was appointed chairman.

Just at the close of the morning session the report which stirred up a fight on the previous day on account of its reference to the "ignorance and civil unrest" of the immigrants of Chicago was passed with modifications. The resolution stated that many of the immigrants were enemies to government. Only a small portion of the members of the conference voted on the report.

A resolution bearing on the attitude of President Roosevelt toward the liquor problem also started a heated discussion. The document which finally was adopted read:

We grieve that President Roosevelt, leader of the republican party, and W. J. Bryan, leader of the democratic party, are unwilling now to state in public the views which at other times they have advanced on the question of temperance.

Defend and Attack Roosevelt.

During the argument over the subject the Rev. J. H. McDonald defended President Roosevelt, and said it was easy to sit in church and pass resolutions.

Stephen J. Herben, editor of the Epworth Herald, favored the resolution.

"President Roosevelt has posed as a square official," he said, "but he has not given the church nor the people a square deal on this question. I think we should be free to tell public officials what we think about them."

Dr. Wickman opposed the measure, saying it tacitly indorsed Bryan for democratic president.

Dr. J. P. Brushingham's report on evangelism which contained a suggestion that money be raised for the work met with considerable opposition. Dr. W. A. Quayle said the church was trying to take up collections for too many causes.

"The evangelistic machinery is getting a little too elaborate," he declared.

The report was adopted with the elimination of the money question.

Approve Labor Report.

The resolution on capital and labor was the subject of discussion. It recommended a greater study of the problems of the workingman and urged a closer union between the church and the labor organizations. Dr. George S. Young wanted the report to come out more strongly for the workingman, but his suggestion was overruled. He declared that the ministers were shaming themselves by refusing to take a more decided stand. The report was adopted as read.

Other reports showed improvement in all branches of church work.

Other Business Transacted.

Other business transacted follows:

Passed resolution asking the press to eliminate from its news columns details of crimes and from its advertising sections liquor advertisements.

Urged greater attention to the campaign for religious liberty, with care that the public school should not be jeopardized in any way.

Expunged the resolution praising President Roosevelt for his stand in the Cuban question on the ground that such a resolution was untimely.

Decided that no preacher should receive a salary of less than $1,000.

Made rule that officials of church in charge of funds should give bonds.

METHODIST MINISTERS ASSIGNED TO ROCK RIVER CONFERENCE CHURCHES.

At the final session of the Rock River conference of the Methodist Episcopal church yesterday evening, appointments were announced for the pulpits under the control of the conference. It will be noticed only six districts appear, the old Freeport district having been partitioned among adjoining divisions and so wiped out as a separate territory. The appointments follow:

PIONEERS WEDDED FIFTY YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Root Celebrate Golden Anniversary of Their Marriage.

The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Root was celebrated by them and relatives and friends last evening at their residence, 5540 Washington avenue. Mr. Root has lived in Chicago continuously since 1854, having made his first visit to the pioneer city in 1837 during its first election. Mrs. Root has been a resident of the city since her marriage to Mr. Root in 1856.

All the children of Mr. and Mrs. Root are living and took a lively interest in their parents' celebration. The children are Frederick K., Charles P., Francis H., Clarence J., and Mrs. Leonora Baldwin.

After Mr. Root's first visit to Chicago he returned east with his father, but decided on casting his lot with the primitive settlement when he had finished his education. He came to Chicago as soon as he had been admitted to the bar in New York state.

Here he became active in politics and was a leading figure for many years in all public enterprises in Hyde Park, into which district he moved in 1861. He drew the charter of the Village of Hyde Park and later secured the dummy line on Cottage Grove avenue from Thirty-ninth street south and across to the lake in Fifty-fifth street. This line long has been part of the Chicago City railway system.

Mr. Root was a charter member of the Chicago Bar association, was an early president of the Law institute, was attorney for the South park board, a member of the state legislature for twelve years, and held various positions in the republican party. He was born in Lebanon, Madison county, N. Y., in 1830, and Mrs. Root was born in 1831 in England.

STUDENTS AWAIT EXPULSION TODAY

Twenty Lake Forest Boys Refuse to Sign Anti-Hazing Agreement.

HOPE NEW "ULTIMATUM."

President of Faculty Says They Must Yield or Quit the College.

Twenty students of Lake Forest college await the ax of President Harlan this afternoon, on account of their refusal to sign the agreement proposed by the faculty against hazing. The president says the ax will fall unless they reconsider their refusal. The students take courage from the failure of the faculty to enforce its first ultimatum, by which 10 o'clock yesterday morning was set as the time limit.

The demand of the faculty for an agreement on the part of the students against all forms of hazing is the result of an outbreak of Sept. 21, in which one freshman was made to drink milk from a bottle and do other things.

Ranks of "Outlaws" Reduced.

Most of the students accepted the anti-hazing plank of the faculty's platform, but twenty-six stood out for their right to discipline freshmen for the glory of "dear old Lake Forest." Yesterday the ranks of the twenty-six were reduced to twenty.

John Beard, a third year man, fearing expulsion, left during the day for Los Angeles, Cal., where he will attend Occidental college. Several of the recalcitrants visited Chicago and Northwestern universities in anticipation of a failure to patch up the trouble today.

C. C. Gibbs, captain of the football team, was induced by President Harlan to sign the agreement. Gibbs went to Dr. Harlan's office to tell him that he would not sign.

"I will give you until 10 o'clock to sign," said the president.

With the hand at 1 minute to 10, Gibbs signed.

Call Agreement Humiliating.

"The agreement they ask us to sign is humiliating," said Harris. "We are not children and we can act like men without signing an agreement to do so. The mild forms of hazing indulged in Lake Forest have not been dangerous and no one is going to be hurt. If the faculty wants to make a rule against hazing we will live up to it, but we positively will not sign such an agreement as they offer, and there is not a man among the twenty who would not rather be dismissed than do so."

A strong faction advocates the signing of the agreement and the school is divided. Rival Greek letter societies support the opposing sides and there is scarcely an organization in the college that has not been drawn into the controversy. The "safe, sane, and conservative" forces are headed by Ernest Palmer, president of the senior class.

BREAKS FURNITURE IN HOTEL.

W. H. McAndrews, President of Automobile Company, Is Taken to Detention Hospital for Inquiry Into His Sanity.

W. H. McAndrews, president of the McAndrews Gas Automobile company, 1268 West Seventy-sixth street, was taken to the detention hospital yesterday afternoon after he had hurled furniture from his room on the second floor of the Grand Pacific hotel and had attempted to break down the door.

Dr. C. P. Stringfield said McAndrews was under the delusion that President Roosevelt was drilling him and that he was in constant communication with the government officials at Washington.

Nothing strange was noticed in McAndrews' action when he entered the hotel in the morning and engaged room 235. Dr. Stringfield, representing himself to be a general and a drillmaster, quieted McAndrews and took him to the Harrison street police station. McAndrews' sanity will be investigated today.

TALKS ON TEETH
BY
G. GORDON MARTIN, M. D., D. D. S.

FALSE PLATES.

TEETH TROUBLES?—Are you having trouble with a partial plate? You can't eat properly with it, can you?

EVER HEARD OF DR. MARTIN?—Do you know it is possible through the wonderful discovery of the world-famous dental specialist, Dr. G. Gordon Martin, D. D. S., of the Alveolar method, to put teeth in the mouth without plates? We are doing that work daily.

A NEW PLAN—This new discovery—it is not over three years old—is one of the greatest achievements ever known in the science of dentistry.

NO PLATES—Heretofore the dentist has demanded an anchorage in the shape of a suction plate or a "Bridge" before he could supply any teeth. We only ask for two or more teeth in either jaw, no matter whether they are tight or loose ones. If they are loose we cure the cause of the looseness. With these to work with we give you ALL the teeth you have lost, clear out to the ends of the gums, upper and lower, big, solid, natural looking teeth, that will enable you to eat anything in comfort, practically the same comfort as you used to have when you had all your own teeth.

NOT IMPLANTATION—This work is not done by implanting teeth in the jaws, nor does it call for any cutting or pain.

MASS OF PROOFS READY—If you will come to our offices in the Powers Building, corner of Wabash avenue and Monroe street, Chicago, we will be glad to submit such a mass of proof from satisfied patients that you will want us to get to work on your mouth at once.

EXAMINATION FREE—We make a careful examination of your case first of all, and this service is entirely free and puts the visitor under no obligation to have ANY work done. We are general practitioners and do the very highest class of dental work. Don't confound us with the so-called "Dental Parlors," just because we believe in advertising.

We are doing a marvelous work, and must tell the world about it.

If you cannot come to our offices, write for Dr. Martin's book, "Alveolar Dentistry," which tells about us and our great work. The book is free for the asking. It will be a valuable book for you if you have teeth troubles.

REMEMBER—In addition to our Specialty of Alveolar Dentistry (Restoring Lost Teeth), we are experts in every branch of dental work, viz.: Porcelain, gold and silver filling, crowns, plate work, correcting irregulations, etc. Specialists in each branch of dentistry at your service.

...BE FOR THE TRIBUNE.

CUBA'S REBEL ARMY QUITS THE FIELD

Disarmament Begins Today and Will Be Completed Before Week's End.

FEVER IS NEXT PROBLEM.

Taft Orders No Expense to Be Spared in Fight; Palma Bids the Capital Adieu.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

HAVANA, Oct. 2.—Beginning tomorrow, the disarmament of the rebel army will occupy the attention of the American military officials in Cuba. It is expected that inside of three days all the rebels shall have dispersed to their homes.

Gens. Pino Guerra, Loynez del Castillo, and Guzman called today to pay their respects to Gov. Taft and to assure him that all the arrangements for the laying down of their arms by the rebels had been completed. They promised that there would be no trouble.

The chief dispersement tomorrow will be at Santiago de las Vegas, under the superintendence of Maj. Ladd, when 2,800 of Gen. Guerra's troops will disarm. Of these, 1,000 will be sent by rail to Pinar del Rio, while another 1,000 will march to their homes, the United States furnishing them with rations.

Marines to Preserve Peace.

Two hundred marines from Camp Columbia were dispatched westward tonight for the purpose of having the men in adjacent towns when the first installments of Gen. Guerra's disbanded men reach these places tomorrow. While no disorder is anticipated when the revolutionists reach their homes, the provisional government and the military authorities consider the actual military occupation of the Pinar del Rio region quite as essential as the occupation of other portions of the island, and regard it best to have an American force there to insure the preservation of order.

The orders came from Gov. Taft at 6 o'clock, and half an hour later the battalion had boarded a train at Buena Vista, a station near Camp Columbia. The cars were switched from the Marianao to the Western railroad and thence departed for the west.

The most probable center of trouble is Cienfuegos. The situation there is delicate. There is much grumbling, but no overt act has yet been committed. There are 600 marines at Cienfuegos and 200 more are due to arrive today. This will make a force strong enough to quell any disturbance that may arise.

Business Goes On as Usual.

It is the policy of Gov. Taft to show every consideration for the views of the Cubans consistent with the public interests. All his efforts are bent to the restoring of normal conditions with the least possible disturbance. So far he has been eminently successful in this direction. Havana is quiet, even gay, and business is going on quite as usual.

The government will be entirely civil unless the former insurgents assume a belligerent attitude. In that case Gen. Funston and the troops are ready to take over the real control. There is every prospect, however, of a peaceful and speedy resumption of the island's normal conditions.

The moderates seem to be eclipsed since their leader retired. Those of the party left in the capital are depressed. The liberals, however, have assumed the airs of great victors. The city is full of generals belonging to that party, each of them attired in a uniform to suit his own taste. They drive about in automobiles and dine and wine in the popular cafés, evidently in high feather.

Yellow Fever Is New Problem.

One of the early callers on Provisional Governor Taft today was Dr. von Ezdorf, chief of the United States Marine hospital service in this port. An appointment had been made with him to go over the yellow fever situation and outlook. Both were regarded disturbing by the sanitary official, who said that while he did not desire to be considered an alarmist he could not help feeling anxious over the number of cases that had developed last week. There has been six, and not one of them could be traced to another. This meant six scattered foci in new quarters where there had not been yellow fever in years.

Because it is known that contagion lurks about the boarding houses fringing the water front the doctor thought it would be wise to continue to keep the American sailors aboard ship as much as possible and the marines in Camp Columbia, which is one of the healthiest spots in Cuba. Mr. Taft talked a long time with the health officer and asked him to submit a report tomorrow embodying what he said with such suggestions to improve the conditions as he might wish to offer.

The marine hospital service has nothing to do with the work of city sanitation. That was in the hands of the Cuban governor and now passes under the control of the American governor. Mr. Taft said he would use additional men, more money, and new measures to carry out right away any plan Dr. von Ezdorf might submit for stamping out the disease before it got worse.

The movement among merchants, hotel men, and steamship agents to petition congress to allow Americans always to have charge of the work of keeping Havana healthy, on a plea of its proximity to the United States, is growing rapidly. There is no great alarm over the present situation, as it is popularly thought if it should become serious Americans would soon have it in hand.

Palma's Departure Affecting.

Former President Palma's departure from the palace and from the capital of Cuba this morning was so quiet and unostentatious that it was scarcely realized that he had gone until his special train was traveling eastward. Among those present at the palace to see the Palma family off were Secretary of State O'Farrill, Secretary of Finance Ponts y Sterling, Secretary of Public Works Montalvo, Senator Dolz, president of the senate; former Secretary of State Zaldo, Private Secretary Belt, and two government detectives, who accompanied the family to Matanzas. Besides these, some of Mr. Palma's most intimate friends bade him a hasty farewell in his private apartments at the palace.

There were not more than a score of persons outside the palace when the former president left it, and there was little cheering at the wharf where the family embarked, though several tugs, steamers, and government launches gave a parting salute with their whistles. On arriving at Regla, while waiting from the tug to the train, the ex-president was greeted with hearty cheers and cries of "Long live Tomas Estrada Palma!" "Long live the honorable man!"

A great crowd awaited the train at Matanzas, which is the moderate stronghold of the island. The provincial and municipal officers greeted the ex-president. Here the friends who had come over from Havana took their last farewell, leaving the Palma family to their quiet retirement which they desire.

Funston to Command Troops.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—Secretary Taft cabled to the war department today requesting that Brig. Gen. Frederick Funston be designated to command the American troops in Cuba, and the military secretary immediately issued an order to that effect. Formal orders were also issued to Brig. Gen. T. J. Wint, commander of the Department of Missouri, who reached here late today, and who is to be in charge of the embarkation of the expedition from Newport News.

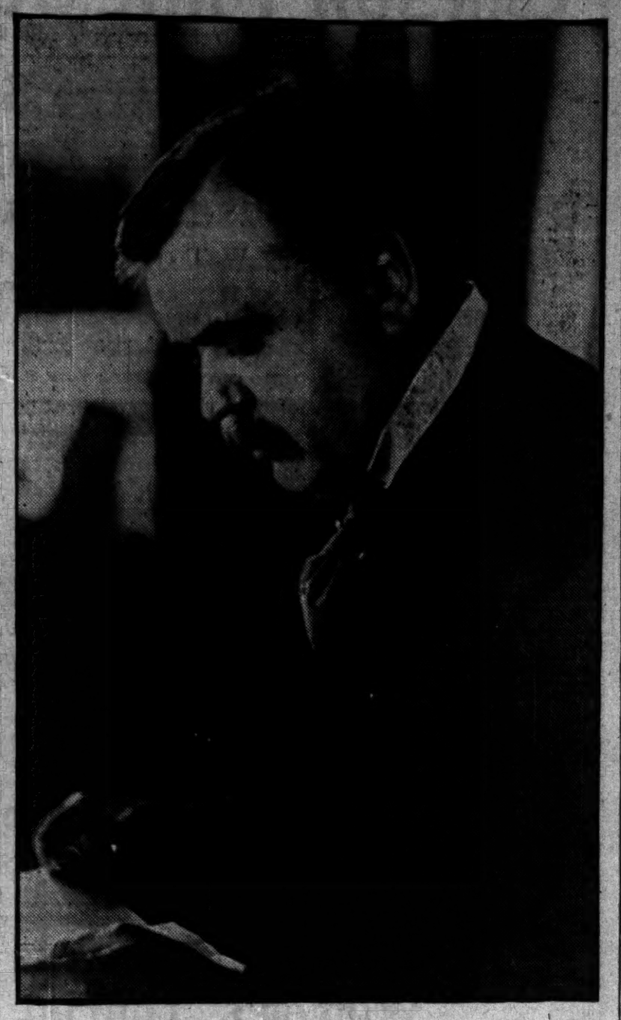
900 Men Leave New York.

New York, Oct. 2.—Nine hundred men, comprising the first portion of the Cuban expeditionary force, sailed from the New York navy yard a few minutes before noon today aboard the United States transport Sumner.

Marines Sail on Brooklyn.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 2.—With more than 500 marines on board, and loaded with ammunition, stores, medical supplies, and 1,200 tons of coal, the armored cruiser Brooklyn sailed at noon today from the League island navy yard for Cuba.

Named for Provisional Governor of Cuba.



Gov. Charles E. Magoon.

Charles E. Magoon, now governor of the Panama canal zone, has been appointed head of the provisional government in Cuba. Secretary Taft will remain in Cuba a couple of weeks longer, whereupon Gov. Magoon will take charge of the island's government.

ROOSEVELT'S WORD CUBA'S SALVATION.

ing upon the propriety of his course, but he feels certain it will approve what he has done.

"The United States will withdraw from Cuba in the shortest possible time and with a minimum interference that will enable us to carry on the government."

The president announced today he had selected Charles E. Magoon, recently relieved from duty as governor of Panama canal zone and designated for the vice governorship of the Philippine islands, to be provisional governor of Cuba. Gov. Magoon arrived at Washington today and tonight saw the president and also conferred with Secretary Root. He will leave for Cuba in the course of a few days, and upon his arrival will relieve Secretary Taft.

Magoon Right Man for Governor.

The administration believes it could not have found a better man for the post than this citizen of Nebraska. As a law officer of the bureau of insular affairs of the war department he exercised a far reaching influence upon the policy of President McKinley in connection with the acquisition of foreign territory. He was of the greatest possible service to Secretary Root in passing upon legal questions which arose during the American occupation of Cuba. He aided Secretary Root in organizing the republic of Cuba. As governor of the canal zone he disposed of all questions of an irritating character between the zone and the Panama republic, and did it so tactfully, although with firmness, that he achieved great popularity among the Panama people.

The president is confident Mr. Magoon will acquit himself equally well in Cuba. Of course he will remain in the island only during the time of American occupation.

After the meeting of the cabinet Brig. Gen. Bell, chief staff of the army, called at the White house and remained with the president for more than an hour explaining what had been done by the war department in connection with the dispatch of troops to Cuba. The president expressed satisfaction with the promptness with which the army had responded to his instructions. He directed that no more troops than those which comprised the first expedition be sent to Cuba. No more ships will be sent, and the naval situation does not require a flag officer.

President Too Optimistic.

The president believes, from the dispatches sent by Gov. Taft, that peace and order may be restored within two months at the latest. This is an optimistic view to take of the situation. Thurlow M. White, a son-in-law of Col. Henry F. Blount, a Washington banker, who lives in Cuba, has written several letters to his wife which show how disorganized affairs are in the island. The first letter, which is dated Sept. 23, described the Cuban's idea of freedom as "a good, fat government job and nothing to do, and, as there are not enough jobs to go around, it's a lot easier to take to the bush and rob country people than to work." The letter speaks of the robbery of Americans by insurgents, and continues:

"I can easily see why the United States doesn't want to butt in, but I am convinced that American supervision is the only lasting and permanent solution. I will have to desert the place if it is not settled soon, as the police won't allow supplies to be brought out. It's almost impossible to get past the rebels with them, anyway. We are almost out of feed for stock. We will hold on as long as possible; then, if no change comes, we will turn all live stock loose and leave. It would break my heart to do it, but unless there is a speedy settlement there is no other way."

Policy has triumphed in the administration's deliberations with respect to Cuba. But it will give way, as surely as the sun shines, to the immutable law of self-preservation. Cuba will enjoy self-government for another six months, perhaps a little longer, but the end will be American intervention and then American annexation.

RED DUPES POLICE; MEETS KING

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

MILAN, Oct. 2.—It has just been discovered that the notorious anarchist, Dutto, lately gained admission to the palace of Racconigi, and shook hands with King Victor Emmanuel. Dutto, who represented himself as a professional entertainer, applied to the police for permission to give a biograph show in the palace. The police afterwards were shocked to find that the entertainer was the well known anarchist, who had had the king at his mercy. Though no harm was done the police arrested Dutto for making a false statement.

St. Petersburg Papers Publish Editorials Advising Americans to Stop Own Race Wars Before Criticising Others—Judge Advocate Slain in Courtroom—Swedish Vice Consul Is Killed at Batum—Crowd Attacks Prison and Battles with Troops.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 2.—Several newspapers have published editorial articles on the events at Atlanta, Ga., comparing them with the anti-Jewish massacres in Russia. The Novoe Vremya expresses the hope that the United States now will cease to attribute the Russian excesses to official provocation, instead of admitting that they are the result of natural racial animosity.

In spite of the appeal for mercy of the widow of Gen. Kosloy of the headquarters staff, who was murdered in the park at Peterhof on July 14 last in mistake for Gen. Trepoff, the assassin was executed today in Schlusselburg fortress, where he was conveyed by night.

Slays General in Courtroom.

ASKABAD, Russia, Oct. 2.—During the trial yesterday of the second section of the troops who mutinied here in June an unknown man entered the courtroom and killed the judge advocate, Gen. Rinkevitch, and attempted to shoot the president of the court, Gen. Ushakoffsky. The assassin was shot down by an officer.

Swedish Vice Consul Assassinated.

BATUM, Transcaucasia, Oct. 2.—M. Hager, Swedish vice consul, was wounded today while driving in a carriage in the outskirts of the city, and died in a hospital to which he was conveyed. His murderers escaped. M. Hager, who was manager of the Nobel naphtha works, is the second consular officer murdered during the last five months. The first victim was William E. Stuart, American vice consul, who was shot and killed at his country place near here on May 20.

Attack Prison; Fight Troops.

PETROPAVLOVSK, Oct. 2.—The political prison was attacked today by a crowd of workmen, bent on delivering sixty-one prisoners who arrived yesterday. It took several volleys from the guards to rout the crowd, which fought back with revolvers and stones. Several guards and workmen were wounded. The prisoners have been hurriedly distributed throughout outlying districts of the penal colony in fear of a renewal of the attack.

WARSAW, Oct. 2.—The executive committee of the socialists, at a meeting held yesterday, decided on an active resumption of terrorism.

BALLOON HONOR IS COMPLETE.

Victory of Lieut. Lahm, Representing United States, Confirmed by Report of Last Aeronaut.

PARIS, Oct. 2.—The last aeronaut in the international balloon race for the James Gordon Bennett cup was heard from today, establishing conclusively that Lieut. Frank P. Lahm, Sixth cavalry, U. S. A., won the trophy and first cash prize of $2,900. Lahm voyaged 415 miles, and Von Willer, his nearest competitor, 370 miles.

C. S. Rolls and his companion, Col. Capper, the last of the contestants to report, landed in the balloon Britannia at Sandringham Upland at 6:30 last night, twenty-six and one-half hours after their departure from Paris.

Mr. Lahm said this was the most successful of his sixteen voyages. The trip across the channel was the finest part of the journey. There was a full moon, the heavens were brilliant with stars, while the height never was more than 300 feet, the guide rope frequently trailing the water. Conditions were so perfect the ticking of a clock in the basket was heard distinctly.

MAY INVALIDATE 2,500 DIVORCES.

Suit Is Brought in New York City to Settle Census Bureau's Find.

SINCLAIR HOME IN JERSEY

Co-operative Colony Soon Will Be Established Near Englewood.

NEW YORK BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE.
New York, Oct. 2.

Divorce litigation which, it was predicted, would follow the discovery by census bureau investigators that probably one out of five divorces granted by the courts of New York county were invalid, because the decrees never were filed, has been started in the supreme court before Justice Newburger. The suit just brought is expected to establish a precedent. On the issue hangs the validity of 2,500 divorces, it is estimated.

Census Men's Find to Set Courts Testing Divorces.

The circumstances of the suit as outlined by Lawyer Tobias A. Kepler, counsel for the defendant wife, are:

Mrs. Ella Frank, née Patsanaud, sued Charles E. A. Frank for divorce on statutory grounds. The records show that on Dec. 16, 1896, the case was tried before the late Justice Lewis W. Russell, that the court verbally ordered judgment for the plaintiff, and that her lawyer, A. B. Osgoodby, was instructed to bring in his decree to be signed by the court.

Mrs. Frank eleven days later became the wife of the star witness in her action, Peter Albert Nilsson, a Fifth avenue fur expert, who now is seeking to divorce her on the ground that at the time of her marriage to him ten years ago she was legally the wife of Frank.

A memorandum in the court record gives judgment for the wife, but the decree cannot be found anywhere in the county clerk's office. Whether the decree was lost in the clerk's office, or whether the lawyer neglected to file it, cannot be learned. That sufficient ground for annulling the marriage cannot be found will be the plaintiff's contention.

New Jersey gets Upton Sinclair's cooperative servantless home colony. The site is Helicon hall, near Englewood. This afternoon the tidings got to Englewood's exclusive colony of bank presidents, brokers, big and little trust magnates, and pork packers, and produced a shock. Half of the rest of Englewood is disposed to throw out its chest over the advent of the heavy consignment of brains, but the other half acted just like a circus was coming to stay all winter.

New Jersey Gets Upton Sinclair's Colony.

Whether Englewood likes it or not, the colony expects to be all settled by November.

Sinclair isn't going to be the only star of the colony. Other members are Dr. John Dewey, William Noyes, and W. P. Montague of Columbia; William J. Lampton, Edwin Bjorkman, Edwin S. Potter, Ellis O. Jones, and D. C. Serber, and Dr. Charles H. Castle of Cincinnati.

Important changes in the laws governing the handling of second class mail matter were recommended in a statement by John M. Hubbard, assistant postmaster at Chicago, which was read today to the postal commission which is investigating the subject in this city. Mr. Hubbard recommended:

Wants Papers to Pay More Postage; Publishers Balk.

That second class mail matter be made self-sustaining.

That a law obliging bulk matter to be carried outside of the mails would go a long way toward solving the problem.

That if these two propositions are rejected the rate on bulk packages be increased to 2 cents a pound to news agents and dealers and to 3 cents a pound to subscribers, advertisers, and exchanges.

That the abolition of sample copy privileges, the transient rate of postage, and the compulsory routing of second class matter by publishers.

The passage of a stringent law to punish violators of the law.

A protest against any revolutionary changes in the present postal laws was embodied in a brief presented to the commission on behalf of the National Editorial association of the United States. It declares that if there are abuses, legitimate publishers are not responsible for them.

The brief suggests extra charge for carrying publications circulated beyond the radius of 300 miles. Advertisements in newspapers and periodicals are declared to add greatly to the government's postage receipts.

His excellency, Gen. R. Ouchakoff of the army of the czar, landed here today in pursuit of his wife who arrived here last Thursday with one Essipoff, whose name she had taken on the passage over. Gen. Ouchakoff was not only surprised but troubled to learn on arriving here that the couple whom he sought had been held up on the day of their arrival and deported an hour after. Ouchakoff had passed them at sea.

With the general was a small man, who was down on the passenger list as Herr Hiltermann. It is said that he is known by another name in St. Petersburg and that he had come along with the general to act as his second had the general been so fortunate as to catch Essipoff. The general engaged passage for himself and his friend on the steamship La Provence, which sails for Havre on Thursday.

Police Commissioner Bingham annnounced today that he is on the trail of the men outside of the police department who have been systematically collecting graft from poolrooms and who recently assessed certain police officials seeking promotion the sum of $15,000. Because of his knowledge of this corruption fund, he says, he will refuse to appoint as inspector either Capt. Hodgins, the head of the eligible list, or Acting Inspectors Formosa, Hogan, and O'Connor, or Capt. Gallagher. These were the only five men on the list.

Police Commissioner on Trail of Graft.

The commissioner made it plain that he accuses the same men who collected the $15,000 of collecting graft from the poolrooms. When asked the names of the men he said the time was not ripe. He said he has told the mayor of the corruption fund.

Unless the United States pure food commission changes its mind, the people of the United States soon will be using granulated and other sugars that have a distinctly yellowish tinge. The commission has decreed that no mineral bluing substance be used in bleaching sugars. Sugar chemists say they use four pounds of a mineral bluing substance to every 1,000,000 pounds of sugar. This, the sugar chemists say, is not adulteration.—It is merely purification by a thoroughly healthful process. The pure food commission cannot see it in that light, and insists that the whitening process be abandoned.

State Superintendent of Insurance Otto Kelsey learned today of the purchase by the Mutual Life Insurance company last week of $11,000 worth of 2 cent stamps. They were not secured direct from the postoffice by the company but the deal was put through with a stationer. What Supt. Kelsey wants to find out is the purpose for which these stamps are to be used. He has been advised that if the company is to use these stamps to send out campaign literature to further the interest of the administration ticket, the policy holders' money is being paid in the transaction.

FILES OIL OUSTER SUIT.

KANSAS ACTS AGAINST ROCKEFELLER COMPANY.

Illegal Practices Charged to Standard Concern—Harvester Combine Accused of Violations of Statutes Relating to Trusts—Answer of Waters-Pierce Oil Company Denies Violations in Texas—Excepts to All Charges by State.

Topeka, Kas., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Ouster suits, based on charges of violation of the Kansas anti-trust laws, were filed in the Supreme court today against the Standard Oil company and the International Harvester company. The suits were filed by Attorney General Coleman. The suit against the International Harvester company has been expected for several weeks, but the suit against the Standard will occasion surprise.

Attorney General Coleman thinks he now is in possession of evidence that will enable him clearly to prove violations of the anti-trust laws.

The new suit is entirely different from the one filed during the last legislative session. Suit is now directed at the Standard Oil company of Indiana, the Standard Oil company of Kansas, and the Prairie Oil and Gas company. The parent company is not mentioned in the title of the suit, but the petition alleges that the Standard of New Jersey owns other companies.

Franchise Declared Violated.

After describing these companies, petition says they violated their franchise, in that the Standard Oil company of Kansas and the Prairie Oil and Gas company entered into an agreement whereby the latter was to sell its output only to the former, or to the Standard Oil company of Indiana; that the Standard of Kansas was to sell only to the Standard of Indiana, which became the sole purchasing agent and was not to buy from any other producer in Kansas. This is held to constitute an unlawful combination to restrain trade and fix and regulate prices.

Answer in Waters-Pierce Suit.

Austin, Tex., Oct. 2.—The answer of the Waters-Pierce Oil company in the state anti-trust suit was filed today. The defendants except to the whole of the plaintiff's petition, which charges fraud and violation of law relating to corporations.

The defendants also except as to the conclusion "that the nominal and fraudulent reorganization having been accomplished, H. C. Pierce came into the state of Texas with a large sum of money" and accomplished the settlement of the cases pending in the state of Texas against the Waters-Pierce Oil company at that time," also "that the Standard Oil company has exercised control over the defendant at all times except when providential or political reasons rendered it advisable for H. C. Pierce and the other stockholders to control."

INVADE BULL RING; FIVE GORED.

Spectators, Angered Because Bordeaux Performers Balk, Take Their Places with Serious Results.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

BORDEAUX, Oct. 2.—During a bull fight here today a matador fell dead from excitement. The management thereupon announced the performance at an end, but the spectators protested and refused to leave. The management yielded and ordered the performance to continue, but the performers refused to take any further part in the fight.

Some men from among the spectators then jumped into the arena to carry on the performance. The bulls attacked them furiously and gored five of them, one fatally.

The management again attempted to stop the performance, but the spectators again protested and attacked the attendants. They varied this performance with attempts to set the amphitheater on fire. The police finally expelled them.

WORRY OVER HEALTH DEADLY.

British Physician Declares Thousands Die from Fear Lest They Are About to Be Ill.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Dr. Schofield, a prominent physician, stated in a lecture that it is estimated there are 200,000 premature deaths in the united kingdom yearly and 6,000,000 preventable cases of sickness. Worry and anxiety about health are largely answerable. The great rule for the average man was to keep up his weight and not worry.

A Reasonable Plea For The Stomach

If Your Stomach Is Lacking in Digestive Power, Why Not Help the Stomach Do Its Work—Especially When It Costs Nothing To Try?

Not with drugs, but with a reinforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally at work in the stomach? Scientific analysis shows that digestion requires pepsin, nitrogenous ferments, and the secretion of hydrochloric acid. When your food fails to digest, it is proof positive that some of these agents are lacking in your digestive apparatus.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain nothing but these natural elements necessary to digestion and when placed at work in the weak stomach and small intestines, supply what these organs need. They stimulate the gastric glands and gradually bring the digestive organs back to their normal condition.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been subjected to critical chemical tests at home and abroad and are found to contain nothing but natural digestives.

I have analyzed most carefully a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets (which I bought myself at a city chemist's shop for the purpose), manufactured by the F. A. Stuart Co., Temple Chambers, London, E. C., and have to report that I cannot find any trace of vegetable or mineral poisons. Knowing the ingredients of the tablets, I am of opinion that they are admirably adaptable for the purpose for which they are intended.

There is no secret in the preparation of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Their composition is commonly known among physicians, as is shown by the recommendations of 40,000 licensed physicians in the United States and Canada. They are the most popular of all remedies for indigestion, dyspepsia, water brash, insomnia, loss of appetite, melancholia, constipation, dysentery and kindred diseases originating from improper dissolution and assimilation of foods, because they are thoroughly reliable and harmless to man or child.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are at once a safe and a powerful remedy; one grain of these tablets being strong enough (by test) to digest 3,000 grains of steak, eggs and other foods. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest your food for you when your stomach can't.

FINDS OBSTACLE TO GATES ON CAR.

President Mitten Says Some Lines Must Be Rerouted in Order to Use Them.

SEND LETTER TO MAYOR.

r'ay as You Enter System Looked On Favorably by Traction Officer.

President T. E. Mitten of the Chicago City railway replied yesterday to the letter he recently received from Mayor Dunne regarding measures to prevent street car accidents. He regards gates on cars as impractical as long as present terminals are retained, but possible with through routes. The Montreal system of having passengers pay as they enter the car, also suggested by the mayor, he looks on favorably, and says he would like to investigate it further.

In the line of suggestions he writes that if the State street cars could be so rerouted as to have the open side of the cars always toward the sidewalk it would prevent many accidents, and many children would be saved from injury if the police would enforce the ordinance against "flipping" cars. Also, many accidents would be prevented if the teamsters were made to obey the "right of the road" ordinance.

President Mitten's Letter.

The letter follows:

"Oct. 1, 1906.—The Hon. Edward F. Dunne, Mayor City of Chicago—Dear Sir: Replying to your letter of 20th inst., relating to the use on Chicago cars of the Minneapolis gate, and also of the Montreal 'pay as you enter' feature:

"When the Indiana avenue type of car was being designed I made a careful investigation of the Minneapolis gates, visiting that city on two occasions for this purpose. The result of my visits culminated in having a new car, which had just been completed in their shops, forwarded to Chicago that its merits might be carefully considered by those members of my force who for many years have had to do with the traffic problem in this city. The conclusion reached was to the effect that the use of the gate feature would be impractical, at least until there was a general straightening out of our downtown terminal facilities, and this is my present opinion, although, in order that we might be prepared to experiment with the 'gate system' after the reconstruction of the system and installation of through routes, should it then be found advisable, the Indiana avenue type of car was designed in such a way as to permit the installation of gates.

"Pay as You Enter" Feature.

"The 'pay as you enter' system, which is now being used successfully in Montreal, has been favorably commented upon in many of the publications devoted to street railway matters. During the last summer, I sent an expert on traffic to Montreal. He remained there for the better part of a month, and from a perusal of his report, I became so much interested that I visited Montreal, and was both surprised and pleased with the expeditious manner in which the loading and unloading of passengers was accomplished. The possibility of accidents also seemed to be greatly reduced, although the type of car used would not, in my opinion, answer the requirements of our travel.

"I understand there will be contained in the exhibit at the street railway convention in Columbus, O., next month, the latest improved car, said to be built upon such lines as would make it suitable for use in cities of this class. This car will be equipped with the 'pay as you enter' feature, and my plans are already made to not only be present at this convention myself but to have my traffic men there also, for the purpose of giving careful consideration as to its being practicable for use in this city.

Measures to Avoid Accidents.

"Taking measures to avoid accidents:

"In this connection I desire to say that, both in the design of our new cars as well as in the numerous improvements which have been placed upon the cars now in service during the last year, no expense has been spared in providing all known and approved safeguards against accidents. It being admitted that our men employed in the train service are much above the average in both skill and intelligence, much that remains to be done lies in an intelligent cooperation on the part of our mutual representatives, and to this end I would be glad to confer with you relative to certain changes made possible since the discontinuance of cable operation in State street. These changes contemplate changing the direction of cars so that the open gates of cars would be toward the sidewalk, and passengers boarding or alighting therefrom would not be exposed to danger from cars operated on the opposite track.

Aid of the Police Requested.

"The enforcement of the so-called 'flipping' ordinance (page 400, section 1,437) would also save many poor boys their limbs and in many cases their lives, although the company is powerless to prevent the accidents occurring from this practice without your police department taking the initiative. A better observance of the rules of the road, as contained in the revised municipal code, sections 2,157 to 2165, inclusive, would also have a wonderful effect in reducing the number of collisions occurring between cars and vehicles, and in an effort to improve conditions in this particular this company has during the last month sent out several thousand booklets containing the above extract from the code. I inclose a copy of the booklet herewith.

"Such improvement of the pavements in streets occupied by street railway tracks as would permit of team travel being diverted to the sides of the street, away from the line of street car travel, and the proper enforcement of the city regulations in connection therewith (page 520, section 1,953), would not only serve to reduce accidents but would greatly popularize the surface system of street cars as a means of transportation.

"Trusting that the above may be of service, and bespeaking your cooperation in bringing about a reduction of the accidents by removing the causes as rapidly as possible, believe me, respectfully yours,

"T. E. MITTEN, president."

Arrival of Grooved Rails.

The first carload of grooved rails discovered by the city authorities at Loraine, O., was received from the mills. They will be used in Ogden avenue, where a mile and a half of street paving has been held up for a year for lack of them. Another carload is expected in a few days. They will be laid in Paulina street, between Madison and Twelfth streets.

ACCUSER OF LAVIN CONVICTED.

George Wilkinson's Punishment Fixed at Indefinite Term in the Penitentiary.

George Wilkinson, charged with larceny, was found guilty by a jury in Judge Gary's court yesterday afternoon and his punishment fixed at an indefinite term in the penitentiary. The verdict was reached within an hour after the jury retired. A motion for a new trial was made and arguments will be heard Saturday.

When the case against Wilkinson was called before Judge Gary yesterday morning, one of the counts in the indictment charging him with being a habitual criminal was quashed by agreement with Assistant State's Attorney Turney.

When called to the stand in his own defense Wilkinson declared that the police had endeavored to frighten him into making an affidavit implicating Inspector Lavin in the burglary of Weber's jewelry store in 1903. Wilkinson said he refused to make the affidavit but later did so when he was paid $100.

BIG BILLBOARDS ARE HIT.

COMMITTEE REFUSES TO APPROVE HUNTER ORDINANCE.

Reports for Passage Its Own Measure, Which Materially Reduces the Size of Signs Displayed in Streets and on Buildings—Steps Taken to Restore to Code the Eight Hour Day Section—City Sealer's Suggestions Are Commended.

Representatives of the billboard interests appeared before the council judiciary committee yesterday and came off losers. Their pet ordinance, introduced by Ald. Hunter into the city council the night before, was placed on file and the committee's own measure, after it had been amended somewhat, was recommended unanimously for passage. The amendments are substantially as follows:

Signs for roof space must be confined to flat roofs of one or two story buildings; must not be more than ten feet high or have more than 100 square feet of surface; must be three feet back from the edge and up from the roof a distance of not less than one foot or more than three.

Signboards planted on the ground can have but one "deck" twelve feet in height and an area of 160 square feet.

Pleads for Hunter Ordinance.

Licensing the companies will be left to a separate ordinance.

Attorney E. A. Frost began the proceedings with a plea for the Hunter ordinance. He pointed with special pride to one provision which required the companies to take out an annual license of $1,000. This would net the city between $20,000 and $30,000, he said, and would itself meet the cost of inspection. The west side aldermen grew alarmed over the "little fellows" who couldn't pay such a fee and would be driven out of business.

Ald. Stewart of the Twentieth ward raised a protest against the huge signs underneath the Metropolitan elevated station at Marshfield avenue. He said they had afforded shelter for the assailants of women on three different occasions and that his letter of protest to the sign board company had been ignored.

Trap Set for Bartzen.

Building Commissioner Bartzen was called in to tell what he thought of allowing the companies to put two "decks" on, making their signs twenty-five feet high. Before he could answer Attorney Frost said, coaxingly:

"Now, see here, Mr. Bartzen, couldn't you, as a skilled contractor, put up a signboard twenty-five feet high so securely that it wouldn't blow down?"

"Of course I could," said the contractor-commissioner, stoutly. "Of course I could."

"You see!" exclaimed Frost, triumphantly. "The commissioner says they can be made safe."

But Bartzen added that, while he thought such signs could be made safe, he felt public prejudice against their disfigurement should be reckoned with. To this the aldermen agreed.

Eight Hour Day Is Urged.

Ald. Uhlir, Harkin, and Kohout were appointed a subcommittee to consider the ordinance establishing the eight hour day for employés in the department of public works.

The committee approved a bunch of ordinances recommended by City Sealer Grein:

Increasing the range of fines for the "short weight," coal dealer from $25 to $50, as at present, to $50 to $200.

Providing for a heaped up measure in the sale of coal, coarse fruits, and vegetables.

Providing a fine of from $25 to $100 for any dealer who refuses to weigh or measure his stuff at the request of a city inspector.

HARRY OLSON TO APPEAR.

He Will Give Evidence in Hagemann Case and Governor May Not Be Needed.

Inspector P. J. Lavin scored heavily yesterday in his trial before the civil service commission. He was allowed to leave the stand after nearly two days of cross examination by Attorney Frank Comerford, with no admissions damaging to his case gleaned from his answers. Direct testimony impeaching several of the prosecution's witnesses was heard, and the testimony of former Policeman P. P. Mahoney, Lavin's chief accuser, was riddled at several points.

It was announced after the hearing that Assistant State's Attorney Harry Olson, who prosecuted Mahoney for the Hagemann burglary, would be the first witness this morning, and that if his testimony was satisfactory Gov. Deneen would not be called by the defense. The defense expects to finish by tonight. The rest of the week probably will be taken in rebuttal by the prosecution and in the arguments.

Neighbor Testifies for Lavin.

The chief feature of the afternoon session was the testimony of Albert M. MacMurray, 5941 Monroe avenue, a neighbor of Inspector Lavin's, who told of being in the inspector's office when Attorney Green demanded the disputed Weber diamonds for his client, the negro Wilkinson. Mr. MacMurray, who is a salesman, said that Green was intoxicated and that Lavin treated him with courtesy.

The testimony of James Carrol, the milkman, who said he had told Lavin of his suspicions that Policeman Mahoney was in the vicinity of the Hagemann store the morning of the robbery, was impeached materially through Charles L. Binns, the official stenographer for State's Attorney Healy. Binns read from his transcript to show that Carrol had testified in the trial of Mahoney that he could not tell whether the man he saw was a park or city policeman and that he could not identify Mahoney.

Police Sergeant Andrew J. Lavin, a brother of Inspector Lavin, testified, in contradiction to the Mahoney testimony, that he never knew Mahoney, that he never ran any slot machines with him, and that he never talked with his brother about Mahoney.

Comerford's Question Ruled Out.

In the examination of Inspector Lavin, Mr. Comerford was halted in his persistent efforts to get Lavin to answer this question:

"Why did you not tell Hagemann of your suspicions?"

"Why should he have told Hagemann?" broke in Commissioner Prentiss. "I see no reason why Lavin should have told an outsider of his suspicions or his plans. Lavin discussed the case with Chief O'Neill and his superior officers. I think that was all he should have done. Lavin showed his keen police instinct and his police training."

The alleged theft of the Weber diamonds by Lavin was taken up late in the afternoon. Mr. Comerford attempted to show that Lavin had given up the jewels to the Webers without sufficient identification, but the defense introduced Sergeant Walter Donovan, who was at the Hyde Park station when Wilkinson was a prisoner there. Donovan testified that as a notary public he had taken down the confession of Wilkinson explicitely stating that the disputed diamonds were stolen by him from the Webers.

RAILWAY MAIL CLERKS WOULD BECOME POSTMASTERS.

Propose to Ask Congress to Provide for Aged Members of Their Association in This Way—Plan Agitated at Convention of Association in Masonic Temple—Wage Increase Also Wanted and Safer Cars—Women's Auxiliary in Session.

The Railway Mail Clerks' association has discovered so many "graybeards" in its membership that an appeal to congress to solve the old age problem is under consideration by the convention now in session at the Masonic temple.

Discrediting the Dr. Osler theory that a man who has reached the age of 45 is useless, the clerks feel confident that they have found a field for "superannuated" government postal employés. They propose to ask congress to make a postmaster out of every clerk who has reached the age limit.

President D. E. Barnes of the association yesterday in his address before the delegates offered this suggestion among others as a solution of the problem. Another idea embraced a pension plan, but this did not gain so much favor with the clerks.

"The railway clerks are eminently fitted for the position of postmaster," said President Barnes. "After spending twenty or thirty years in the train service they have learned enough in general about the mail service to qualify them to take charge of second, third, or fourth class postoffices. It would seem this plan provides an excellent solution of the age matter."

Petition Must Not Go Direct.

If the clerks decide to push their scheme the movement necessarily will follow the regular official channels. By the rules of all government departments employés are forbidden from petitioning congress directly. They may appeal through their superior officials, however, without violating the regulations.

President Barnes said the clerks hope some measure may be devised which will be approved by congress and at the same time be satisfactory to the 11,000 clerks in the association.

A number of other important matters will be considered by the clerks in their convention during the next few days. One of these is the matter of wages. It is asserted that practically no increase in pay has been granted to the clerks in this branch of the government service for ten years, despite the higher cost of living. Congress, a short time ago, added two classes to the service, which proved beneficial financially to a small number of men, but most of the railway clerks are said to receive $1,000 a year or less.

The extraordinary number of railroad accidents during the last year, in which seventeen mail clerks lost their lives, caused the convention to consider some method of influencing congress to force the railroads to provide greater protection on trains. Stronger and safer mail cars are advocated by the clerks. A steel trussed car now being used by the Pennsylvania road has found favor.

Women's Auxiliary in Session.

Assisting their husbands in the agitation of the various proposed relief measures are the members of the Women's Auxiliary society, who are holding a separate convention simultaneously at the Palmer house. Mrs. G. F. Upham of Boston, Mass., presided at the first session and addresses were delivered by Assistant General Superintendent Alexander Grant of the railway mail service and Supt. E. L. West of division No. 6.

REPUBLICANS PLAN A RUSH CAMPAIGN

Meetings Are to Be Held Once a Week in Each Ward Until Election Day.

HOPE FOR BIG REGISTRY

Opening of Personal Headquarters by Democratic Nominees Causes Talk.

POLITICAL MEETINGS TONIGHT.

REPUBLICAN.

Tenth ward—233 Blue Island avenue; speakers, A. J. Harris, Max Blumenfeld, Joseph E. Bidwill Jr.

DEMOCRATIC.

Ninth ward—225 West Eighteenth street; speakers, all the candidates available.

Twenty-ninth ward—Peoria and Fifty-first street; speakers, the local candidates.

The executive committee of the republican county committee decided yesterday to open the speaking campaign next Monday with a rush. During the four weeks remaining before election day four meetings are to be held in each ward. All of the candidates are to meet at headquarters tomorrow to talk matters over and after Monday they will be expected to be around practically every day. During this week all efforts will be made to procure as full a registration as possible next Saturday. It is a new registration this year. No matter how long a citizen has lived in one place and how often his name has been on the books, if he does not register either Saturday or a week from the following Tuesday he cannot vote.

Breach of Agreement Suspected.

Signs of breaking away from the advertised course of the candidates on the democratic county ticket not to conduct independent campaigns are discernible. Harry R. Gibbons, candidate for sheriff, and Ernst Hummel, for treasurer, have rented rooms in the Revvort house, where they will open personal headquarters. Some of the other candidates think they see in it an agreement between Gibbons, and Hummel to pool their issues and let the rest of the ticket take care of itself.

John McGillen was named as member of the democratic county committee from the twenty-third ward in place of James F. Bowers, who quit for the Independence league.

Carmody Loses His Suit.

In the Circuit court Judge Walker decided against Joseph Carmody, who sought a writ of mandamus to compel the democrats to put him on the legislative ticket in the Nineteenth senatorial district. Judge Walker decided, as Judge Barnes did the day before in the Espy case, that the primary law was not intended to cover more than one candidate for representative in a senatorial district. Both cases will be appealed, but a decision from the Supreme court is not possible in time for the election. The election commissioners will decide tomorrow what they shall do in making up the official ballot. It is understood they will follow the decisions of Judges Walker and Barnes.

The Thirteenth district case, where the same point is raised, was argued before the commissioners, but the dispute took a new form. It was claimed that, as the district is partly in and partly outside of the election commissioners' district, they have no jurisdiction.

QUIT WISCONSIN CENTRAL? CHANGES MAY MEAN A SALE.

Ignored Resignations of Board Members Cause Speculation as to Stock Holdings.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—There is a well defined rumor in Milwaukee tonight that H. F. Whitcomb and Howard Morris, members of the board of directors of the Wisconsin Central railway, have presented their resignations to the board, and that the resignations have been practically accepted. The two officers, who are president and vice president, still retain their offices, and there is confirmation that the proposed change in the directorate will at once make a change in their work for the railway. The report is unofficial to an official of the road.

Kleybolte & Co. have sufficient control of the stock of the road to force a dividend on the preferred stock, if such a step is not disputed by other heavy stockholders who fear the drain on the company's resources in view of the proposed extension to Superior, which will require $7,000,000.

Kleybolte & Co., however, according to one report here, are holding the stock which they control under the hammer. This accounts in part, it is said, for the manner in which the company has been reported to be on the point of sale to Hill, Harriman, and the Canadian Pacific. Each interest, it is said here, has been tentatively consulting the Cincinnati firm on a deal, and now the Erie is also reported to be a bidder. The Kleybolte interests have, it is said, determined to sell, and are merely auctioning the stock.

RUN ON BANK AT FREEPORT.

Small Depositors Rush to Withdraw Their Money—Institution Meets All Demands Promptly.

Freeport, Ill., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—There was a run on the German bank, the largest and one of the most solid in the city, today, and all afternoon the banking room was crowded with small depositors, most of whom were women, drawing out the money. The larger customers of the bank expressed confidence in its stability, and many made additional deposits. The bank remained open several hours after the usual time, and met all demands promptly, paying out $50,000.

OBITUARY.

BERNHARD NEU, Chicago, died suddenly in Hamburg, Germany, yesterday, while on a visit to Europe. He was born in 1855 in Germany and emigrated to this country in 1879, coming directly to Chicago and entering into the employ of the International bank at its branch office in Halsted street, with which he remained, excepting for four years, until 1903. Later he organized with Julius W. Loewenthal the firm of Loewenthal & Co., bankers in investment securities. Mr. Neu was a liberal contributor to numerous charities and was at one time financial secretary of the United Hebrew Charities of Chicago and at his death was treasurer of the Jewish Refugees Aid society. He was a member of the Standard club and of the Chicago Stock Exchange congregation. Memorial services will be held here.

MACY A. BROUSE, mayor of Kokomo, Ind., died suddenly from a supposed case of appendicitis. He attended the Municipal league convention at Chicago last week, and on returning home on Sunday complained of throat trouble. It is thought that the real trouble was diphtheria. Mayor Brouse was a republican, serving his third term as mayor, and was 58 years old and unmarried.

THE REV. DR. ANDREW W. WILLIAMS, who for many years occupied the chair of philosophy at the Swedish Lutheran college and seminary, Rock Island, Ill., is dead at Portland, Ore., aged 70 years. Deceased served with honor in the civil war. He was unmarried. A large number of relatives live in Illinois and Minnesota, his native state.

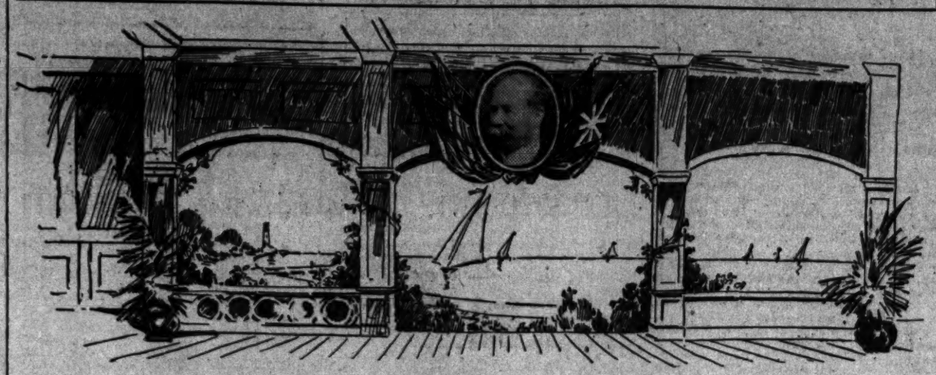
Part of Decoration at Banquet Tomorrow and Guest of Honor.



Citizens and city officials of Chicago will aid in entertaining Sir Thomas Lipton, who is expected to arrive in Chicago at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Banquets, luncheons, and drives have been planned, but the chief affair in his honor will be the banquet tomorrow evening at the Chicago Athletic club. Six hundred guests will be present. The preparations are in charge of L. F. Swift, Edward Morris, Edward Swift, A. H. Revell, R. J. Gunning, F. W. Teeple, and P. M. Hanney. A nautical scene will be represented in the gymnasium, where the banquet will take place. The tables and decorations will be arranged in such a way as to give an illusion of overlooking the sea, while ships are passing. Mayor Dunne will deliver the address of welcome. W. J. Hynes will be toastmaster. Other speakers will be the guest of honor, J. Hamilton Lewis, George Ade, and Congressman J. N. Allen of Mississippi.

sible for the organization of the republicans in the state. He is not a politician and is not seeking to perpetuate his own control of the machine for future use in his own behalf. No one who watched his tireless development of remarkable evidence in the insurance investigation can have any doubt that if he becomes governor of New York he will go at the situation entirely free from any improper influence.

The present governor, Mr. Higgins, unquestionably thwarted complete insurance reform. He was induced to do this partially by the influence of Mr. Woodruff, but if Hughes is elected Woodruff would have no more to say at Albany than any other insurance man, and all parties fully understand this.

Nevertheless, the Hearst people on their side are preparing to bombard the state with cartoons and circulars and stereopticons and living pictures, all based upon the extravagant theory that Mr. Hughes is after all nothing but a corporation lawyer, and that he and Woodruff have fixed it up between them to flimflam the people by promise of insurance reform which never would be forthcoming.

Campaign Feature Indicated.

Of course, in the case of both the Hearst-Murphy and Hughes-Woodruff complications thinking men would not pay much attention. Yet, as a matter of rough and ready campaigning at the outset of the fight, it now looks much as if these curious political combinations would be made almost the central feature of the campaign.

The real opening of the campaign on the republican side will take place tomorrow night, upon the notification of Mr. Hughes. The democratic campaign already has started, and the leader will be up state while the republican candidate is making his first speech in Carnegie hall Friday night.

Here in the city republicans are working under great disadvantage. Their organization nearly went to pieces last fall. Odell has been driven out of power as a result of this year's bitter campaign, but no one was prepared to find out, as they have done, how completely he had wrecked the machine. He made a combination with Hearst last year on legislative candidates and threw his municipal strength where he could to McClellan. This left the republican candidate to become third man in the race, where, with decent management and a popular leader, it is evident now that the republicans easily might have won through division of the democratic strength between Hearst and McClellan.

Now it is found that in many assembly districts the republican organization is extremely crude. In some cases men are in charge who have curious political records, and, altogether, from a practical politician's standpoint, the situation in this city is extremely unpleasant.

Doctor Recommends Postum From Personal Test

Read below:

No one is better able to realize the injurious action of caffeine—the drug in coffee—on the heart than the doctor.

When the doctor himself has been relieved by simply leaving off coffee and using Postum, he can refer with full conviction to his own case.

A Missouri physician prescribes Postum for many of his patients because he was benefited by it. He says:

"I wish to add my testimony in regard to that excellent preparation—Postum. I have had functional or nervous heart trouble for over 15 years, and part of the time was unable to attend to my business.

"I was a moderate user of coffee and did not think drinking it hurt me. But on stopping it and using Postum instead, my heart has got all right, and I ascribe it to the change from coffee to Postum.

"I am prescribing it now in cases of sickness, especially when coffee does not agree, or affects the heart, nerves, or stomach.

"When made right it has a much better flavor than coffee and is a vital sustainer of the system. I shall continue to recommend it to our people, and I have my own case to refer to." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a reason."

Postum is served in the cafés of the prominent dry goods houses on State street.

GOADS PARKER TO REPLY.

HEARST ATTACK BRINGS HOT RETORT BY ATTORNEY.

Asserts Candidate's Assaults Would Have Been Ignored, as in Past, if It Had Not Been for So-Called Malicious and Baseless References to Court of Appeals—Declares He Did Not Receive Fee in Mayoralty Contest—Sees Warning in Candidacy.

New York, Oct. 2.—Alton B. Parker tonight gave out a statement in reply to an attack made upon him by William R. Hearst in a recent campaign speech. In his address Mr. Hearst said Mr. Parker had appeared in an election case on the side of election criminals in the court he formerly graced, and there argued against and secured a reversal of an opinion he formerly had rendered.

Defends High Court.

"For something more than two years now I have submitted, without reply, to the wanton assaults of William R. Hearst," said Mr. Parker's statement. "I should probably pay no more attention to his insulting and maliciously false speech of last evening than I have to his other attacks were it not that the necessary and intended inference of his speech constituted an attack upon a great court, a court with a membership that is not surpassed in this or any other country. While that court is so well grounded in the confidence and the affections of the people as to need no defense from any such attack, the opportunity is afforded to warn the people that a man having such conceptions of the judiciary as will permit him to make such an attack ought never to be permitted to name men for the bench, as it is said Hearst contemplates doing under the Murphy-Hearst deal.

"I will refer also to one other statement made by Hearst. After stating the fact that I had appeared in the McClellan-Hearst election contest and made arguments therein, he said the reason that prompted me to do it, 'and he did this because the corporations that employed him as their corporation attorney wanted him to do it and paid him to do it.'

Says Statement Is False.

"This statement about me, like many others of Hearst's that have been brought to my attention, is wholly false. Neither I nor any member of my firm was employed by any corporation or paid by any corporation, directly or indirectly, one dollar for the services we rendered in that contest. We were retained by Mayor McClellan, but declined to receive from him or from any one else any compensation whatever for our services."

Shaun Kelly, President of Sophomore Class at Harvard, Admits Guilt After President's Son Is Called as Witness Before Grand Jury—Young Roosevelt and Friend May Have to Tell Stories at Trial Despite Boy's Admission.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 2.—Shaun Kelley of Fitchburg, a companion of young Roosevelt and president of the sophomore class of Harvard, surrendered to the police today as the "unknown person" charged in a warrant with assaulting a policeman on Boston commons last Thursday evening. He furnished bail and tomorrow morning will appear for a hearing.

Two Boston officers served summonses on young Roosevelt and Meredith Blagden, coxwain of the Harvard crew, to appear as witnesses in a Suffolk county grand jury investigation of the case next Thursday. Young Kelley, realizing that they would be compelled to tell all they knew of the affair to the grand jury, gave himself up.

Although Kelley's case may be settled in court tomorrow, young Roosevelt and Blagden will still be compelled to attend the grand jury investigation on Thursday.

Autumn Exhibition

Continues throughout the week

THE entire store is in accord with this notable occasion, breathing the spirit of the season, and forming a delightful setting for the beautiful modes for the autumn and winter.

The Paris millinery salon and the superb outer-garment sections on the second floor are a scene of marvelous splendor, and the exquisite Parisian gowns in the Empire room, ninth floor, Wabash-av., have attracted throngs of admiring women.

Especially beautiful are the exquisite displays of French lingerie, shirtwaists and corsets, forming in the ensemble the rarest and most beautiful collection ever assembled in Chicago.

The unqualified success of this notable occasion is surely a matter of pardonable pride, and we thank the public in general for the remarkable interest.

THE LESSENING ROLL.

For the first time the pension roll of the United States shows a substantial decrease. While for one cause or another 34,974 names were added, 47,444 names were removed. Only one-twelfth of the removals were for a cause other than death. It may be expected that from this time on the number of pensioners will decrease rapidly, yet it is by no means certain. Every prediction as to the probable cost of pensions or the length of time before the last name was placed upon the roll has proved mistaken. There are still four persons drawing pensions on account of the revolutionary war, although it is 123 years since the formal ending of that war. There are 3,984 survivors of the Mexican war drawing pensions and 7,488 other persons, relatives of soldiers of the Mexican war, although it is fifty-nine years since the fighting ceased.

Comparison has sometimes been made between the cost to the United States of the pension system and the cost to other countries of their standing armies. Thus the sum paid by the pension bureau for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1905, $141,778,965, is slightly more than either Great Britain or France paid for all expenses of their respective armies, while the United States paid $122,175,077 for its small army in addition to the sum paid on account of wars already fought. Great Britain pays a little more than $1,000,000 a year in annuities and pensions. It would appear at first sight as if the United States would gain by having a large standing army instead of depending upon volunteers with the result of a swollen pension list.

In truth, however, the size of the pension list is not due to the lack of a standing army but to different ideas as to the debt of gratitude due the nation's defenders. The American view is that, although a man should be glad to make sacrifices for his country, it is not becoming for his country to take those sacrifices as a matter of course. The pension was not bargained for. Cash cannot pay for ruined health or loss of limb or life, and the soldier did not enlist on account of a desire for a pension. The nation feels a moral obligation to see that the sacrifice is not greater than necessary.

It cannot be denied that names have been added to the roll which had no right to be there, but the rule to give the petitioner the benefit of the doubt is better than the converse would have been. The country has carried the burden patiently, and the pleasure of feeling the weight diminish is tempered by the thought that this means the passing away of a heroic generation.

MEDICAL SCIENCE OF THE FUTURE.

President Eliot, in his address at the dedication of the new Harvard Medical school upon the condition of medical science, pointed out the direction in which progress must be made. The cure of disease will continue to be made the object of search, but more attention will be paid to seeking its hidden causes. Prevention rather than cure will be the aim of the physicians of the future. This will be an expensive matter for a long while to come. What are now elementary ideas on the subject of sanitation and prophylaxis are so recent that the errors of centuries will have to be corrected before the older cities of the world will be free from the lurking specter of disease. The death rate is slowly diminishing, but at great cost. It is cheaper to be filthy than to be clean, if one thinks human life of little value. Pure water, drainage, rigid inspection of all possible sources of disease, and the other means by which modern science is attacking the enemy instead of waiting on the defensive, are all costly.

The most efficient aid to the medical fraternity in its warfare against disease in its own stronghold is a higher degree of knowledge among the people. Means ought to be provided for popular exposition concerning water supplies, foods, drinks, drugs, parasites, and the modes of communication of all communicable diseases. There should be medical museums open to the public under proper regulations. Medical schools should habitually provide popular lectures on medical subjects, and these lectures should be given without charge on days and at hours when all classes of society may profit by them. If it is worth while to provide free hospitals for the cure of disease it is more worth while to instruct people, especially wage earners, how disease may be avoided and their productivity increased rather than diminished. Much has been done in placing the latest remedies, such as antitoxin, within the reach of the poor. Better still to place within their grasp the significance of the latest discoveries as to the nature of disease.

One feature of the medical science of the future is the recognition of the fact that medicine is not an isolated science. It is closely linked with all the other sciences. The medical student should have a knowledge of zoology and botany before taking up his professional studies, and the most promising medical research of today makes a large use of biology, physics, and chemistry. Some of the greatest contributions to medical science in the last thirty years have been made by men who were not physicians. "Pasteur was a chemist; Cohn, the teacher of Koch, a botanist; and Metchnikoff a zoölogist." Electrical studies have given to the physician agents of investigation and of cure. The medical practitioner of the future must be acquainted with sciences of whose name the old school doctor never heard. The call is for highly educated physicians, for a wider diffusion of knowledge among the people, and for the elimination of causes of disease as the chief object of study. Under President Eliot and with the generous endowment which friends have placed in his hands, the medical school of Harvard may be relied upon to help meet the demand.

THE COLD STORAGE PROBLEM.

The temporary defeat of the cold storage ordinance by the city council on Monday night may not prove to be an unmixed evil. The questions involved in the ordinance are largely technical and require expert consideration and advice. THE TRIBUNE confesses, for one, that it does not fully understand the merits of these questions. The testimony is conflicting and perplexing. The cold storage men say that the "drawing" of fowl injures them and that to cut the skin and expose the internal part and then place them in cold storage makes them unfit as food. They further contend that the danger of ptomaine poisoning from the use of fowls thus prepared and stored is increased rather than diminished. Some of the city authorities maintain exactly the contrary, contending that "drawn" fowl are better than undrawn, and that ptomaine poisoning may follow the eating of fowls the entrails of which have not been removed before storage.

There being this conflict of testimony, why not refer the whole question to the consideration of skillful persons whose opinions would be considered as almost final?

There are other perplexing questions connected with this ordinance upon which THE TRIBUNE does not feel itself competent to express a final opinion. This much is manifest: While the statement of one alderman that the business represents "a hundred million" dollars is a gross exaggeration, it is still a great business, and its interests are not measured solely by the capital invested. It affects the distribution of food supplies all over the northwest. Undoubtedly the value of land in much of the territory adjacent to Chicago has been increased by cold storage. Eggs can be stored for months whereas formerly they could be stored only for weeks, and they can be delivered in better condition than they used to be. They can be tested and their relative degree of freshness can be ascertained with considerable accuracy. Butter can be kept for a much longer period than eggs without the loss of any of its good qualities. Unquestionably the products which need the most careful consideration by experts are fish, poultry, and game.

The provision of the ordinance that after being stored six months all foods shall be inspected, ordered sold, condemned, or allowed to remain in storage a limited period, during which they may be sold, is open to grave criticism. It might open the door to attempts at blackmail and the levying of tribute by city inspectors. When it is considered what inspectors do in other city departments it is easy to believe that this cold storage inspection might open up a field for luxurious and abundant "graft."

While THE TRIBUNE would have no injustice done to the cold storage people, or to dealers and shippers, still the interests of the consumers are paramount. No consideration of "capital invested" or embarrassments that the business may suffer should weigh for an instant against the welfare of the whole community. All regulations or restrictions necessary to insure the public health and protect consumers should be rigidly enforced. But such regulations and restrictions should be necessary, and they should be fixed upon testimony of expert commissioners, to be appointed by the mayor or some other authority.

THE TRIBUNE holds no brief for the cold storage people. It desires only that no injustice should be done to them. Still more does it desire that the interests of consumers may be abundantly protected.

THE REAL PROBLEM OF AERONAUTICS.

So far as the element of sport and sporting records is concerned the balloon race which has ended in the triumph of Lieut. Lahm, one of the two American contestants, adds nothing to the glory of aeronautics. Weather conditions were wholly unfavorable, and the record established six years ago by Count de la Vaulx was at no time endangered. It remains to be seen just how far scientific purposes have been served and what further good results, as applied to war measures, will follow the test of skill and endurance. Happily the victor represents the army of the United States and will be in a position possibly, through reason of his experience, to answer many questions and solve certain problems of interest to military men.

From the popular point of view, aside from the general pleasure taken in balloon ascensions of all kinds, a balloon race has distinct advantages over an automobile competition and other surface contests. Once fairly started on his course and well above the ground the aeronaut is reasonably sure of running into nobody and of injuring only himself. This is perfectly satisfactory to officers and respecters of the law in its legal requirements. Unfortunately this advantage is not maintained when the exigencies of hunger and weariness compel the aeronaut to alight, and the reader of the daily papers learns with much solicitude that Signor Von Willer's balloon drifted dangerously, "doing much damage to property," and, tearing away a quantity of brick, "narrowly missed smothering a woman under the falling network." Until aeronauts have mastered the art of descending with dignity, composure, and absolute control of their balloons a reasonable fear of and remonstrance against such visitations will be entertained by the threatened neighborhood.

It is one thing to encourage scientific experiments in the hope that the problem of safe aerial transit may be accomplished, and it is another to pull down dwellings over the heads of unwary farmers. Hence the importance of devoting even more time and thought to the problem of descent, whether victor or vanquished, than to the question of rapid flight or the lowering of fast records. The hundreds of thousands who cheered Von Willer as he soared over the roofs of Paris did not have the heart interest felt by the woman of Hull who heard the bricks showering about her ears as the grappling iron caught her house. In time of peace more problems than one confront the student of aeronautics.

A SUGGESTION FROM NEW YORK.

The first test of the electric motor drawing eight Pullman cars from High Bridge to the Grand Central station in New York City proved decisively the success of the enterprise. In quickness in coupling the engine to the train, in ease and rapidity of starting, in absence of noise, and in smoothness of running, the advantages of the electric system were at once apparent. In short, the trial trip vindicated in every way the promises of the promoters, which had been regarded overenthusiastic and extravagant, and spoke for the speedy adoption of the system wherever practicable.

That it is fully as practicable in Chicago as in New York no one will have the effrontery to dispute. What has been already successfully accomplished in New York may be put into operation here as easily. In reading the comments of the New York papers it is noted, strangely enough, that the question of smoke and dirt, completely eliminated by the electric motor, is apparently not regarded worthy of mention. And yet in Chicago this would be the most potential blessing resulting from the change in motive power. Not only along the lake front, where the beauty of the city is grievously marred by the constant belching forth of smoke and soot from suburban trains, but in every section of the town cursed by the constant presence of the puffing locomotive the new order of things would bring about a happy relief from an intolerable nuisance.

Three years and one month elapsed from the time of the beginning of actual work in New York's electric zone until the starting of the experimental train. The amount of time consumed in preliminary argument cannot be accurately given. But argument is no longer necessary, either in Chicago or in any city where public spirit and metropolitan needs are insistent. The feasibility of the undertaking has been demonstrated and the advantages derived are manifold and manifest. No better suggestion for a long step in the direction of the abatement of the smoke nuisance could be offered.

It is not surprising to read in the dispatches concerning that balloon race across the English channel that when one of the balloons was about to make a premature descent at Hastings ballast was thrown out "and the town cleared." The hasty coming down of a big balloon is enough to make any community "clear" with all possible speed.

"About the only thing left of the New York democracy," observes the Charleston News and Courier, "is the smell." But it is going to take a tremendous disinfecting blast from that portion of the state outside of New York City to neutralize the smell. Be not deceived on that point.

SECRETARY TAFT is big, but he is no stick.

AS WE understand his position, ex-Inspector Nick Hunt is in no need of that pension, but he does not wish to deprive the city of the privilege of rewarding one of its most zealous, conscientious, and self-sacrificing public servants.

THERE is no such thing as an equinoctial storm, of course, but of late there have been several excellent imitations of what an equinoctial storm is supposed to be.

CHANGES in Cuba will be brought about gradually. For a few years, at least, the labels on the cigar boxes will continue to be printed in Spanish.

WEARING white clothing is recommended as a means of securing immunity from the attacks of mosquitoes. Have you observed that wearing a white nightrobe and sleeping under a white counterpane seem to make any difference?

IN A MINOR KEY.

Where the Analogy Fails.

"These, ladies and gentlemen," the lecturer said, pointing to the pictures on the screen, "are accurate portraits, enlarged several thousand times, of two of those curious creatures called aphides, which are found frequently in colonies of ants. Their mission seems to be to store up a kind of honey in their bodies wherewith to feed the working ants in time of stress, when the food supply runs short. You observe their abnormal enlargement. They are full of honey. Other insects probably have aphides. They have a sort of counterpart also in the human family. Those men who have no other aim or object than to absorb the good things of this life, whose sole mission is to be big, and powerful, and influential, and monopolize the landscape, may be considered human aphides—except that they give up their honey with extreme reluctance. William, by way of variety, you will now throw upon the screen a picture of the wonderful creature known as the octopus, or devil fish."

But Kind o' Wabbly.

Didn't Look That Way.

"Archie is fairly going crazy over his new automobile."

"That's strange. Every time I've seen him he has been going crazy under it."

Shocking Mortality.

The crowded ship gave a sudden lurch.

There was a splash.

"O!" wailed the young woman who had been sitting near the rail reading a book. "Think of all those lives being lost!"

But nothing could be done, and she gazed sadly at her copy of "Plutarch" dancing merrily on the waves far astern.

Five Dollars, Please.

Mr. Phore-Phlush—"Doctor, I believe I am suffering from what you call the automobile heart."

Doctor—"Get an automobile."

LETTER OF MARQUISE DE FONTENOY

Copyright: 1906: By the Marquise de Fontenoy.

HENRY LABOUCHERE'S revelations on the subject of the use of the house of commons as a matrimonial agency by certain of the well connected clerks of the national legislature incidentally has brought to light that the chief bargain which the agency in question has for disposal is a princess of the house of Bonaparte, with a fortune of $15,000,000. A titled husband, as, for instance, a peer of ancient lineage, or, preferably, Prince Francis of Teck, the only unmarried brother of the princess of Wales, is being sought by the matrimonial agents for this princess, their terms being a commission of $200,000, payable to them on the day of the solemnization of the marriage. It is true that the title of the princess in question is shaky and is disputed by many of the leading authorities in such matters, although it is recognized by the Almanach de Gotha, a publication, however, by no means infallible.

This lady is Marie, daughter of Roland Bonaparte, by his marriage with Marie Blanc, one of the daughters and heiresses of that old Blanc who founded the great gambling establishment at Monte Carlo. It is from that source that the great fortune of Roland's daughter is derived. The reason for questioning the princely title of Roland Bonaparte is that the union between his father, Prince Peter Bonaparte, and his mother, a plumber's daughter and former modiste, was not ratified by law until many years after his birth. In fact, it was not until considerably after the death of Prince Peter, not indeed until Roland had secured, through the intervention of the American born Countess de Trobriand, the hand and fortune of Marie Blanc, that the Almanach de Gotha condescended to take any notice of his existence or to record the fact that his mother had been married. Any reference to the Almanachs de Gotha prior to 1880 will show that his father, Prince Peter Bonaparte, as long as he was alive passed officially as a bachelor. Young Marie Bonaparte, who lost her mother shortly after her birth, is now about 24 years of age, but so far her father has not been able to find for her a husband of a rank and name commensurate with her large but tainted fortune.

Lord Elphinstone's gifted nephew, Robert Cunninghame Grahame, is so well known on both sides of the Atlantic as a great traveler, a brilliant writer, as a member of parliament, and as champion of all kinds of causes, which are sometimes monarchical and more often ultra-socialistic, that the news of the death of his beautiful South American wife at Henday, on the Franco-Spanish frontier, will excite both interest and sympathy. She has just been laid to her rest as the last "Mrs. Grahame of Gartmore," on the island of the Lake of Menteith, where so many of her husband's ancestors sleep their last rest. Cunninghame Graham, who is childless and the last of his line, and who has recently sold his ancestral home of Gartmore to Sir Charles Gayzer, M. P., principal owner of the Glen line of steamers, stands in a most peculiar position with regard to the crown. For were his claim to the earldom of Menteith and Airth to be acknowledged by the committee of privileges of the house of lords it would be equivalent to an admission that he would be the lawful heir to the throne of Great Britain, were it not for the so-called act of settlement which two centuries ago gave the British crown to the Hanoverian house of Guelph in preference to less remote kinsfolk of the Stuart kings.

Robert II. of Scotland was first married to a girl of the name of Elizabeth Mure of Rowallan. He had no children by her after his marriage, but there were no less than eight born previously to the ceremony—that is to say, out of wedlock. At no time previous to the reformation would such a marriage, even with a papal dispensation, have been held by the law of Scotland to have legitimized the birth of offspring previously born. Yet it is from these illegitimate children of King Robert II. of Scotland and of Elizabeth Mure of Rowallan that all the Stuarts and Guelphs who have since reigned in Scotland and Great Britain are descended. King Robert's second marriage, with the widowed countess of Moycey, was in good order, and David, earl of Strathearn and Menteith, was its lawful issue. The grandson of this earl of Strathearn was made earl of Menteith.

Before dying King Robert executed a settlement, entailing the crown of Scotland on the sons of both his wives according to priority and their male heirs. Thus, even admitting King Robert's legitimisation of his elder children, the fourth earl of Menteith should, by virtue of this settlement, have succeeded to the throne of Scotland as next male heir on the death of King James V., instead of that Mary Queen of Scots who was beheaded at Fotheringay castle. This fourth earl of Menteith was a prisoner in England at the time of Queen Mary's accession, which may account for his making no claim to the Scotch crown.

The first lord of Menteith, to put forward his pretensions to the throne not only of Scotland but also of England, occupied at the time by King James I., son of Mary Queen of Scots, was the seventh earl, who, according to contemporary history, was "the brightest and manliest Scotch peer of his day." The great Sir Francis Bacon, in his capacity of lord high chancellor and keeper of the great seal of the united kingdom, reported in an official document, which is still on record, to King James I., that the earl of Menteith's "claim to the throne was so just in point of law that all that was needed to set him on the throne was a sharp sword." Bacon's successor on the woolsack made a similar report to King Charles I., and it was in consequence of these warnings that this monarch persecuted and finally reduced the seventh earl of Menteith to ruin, after publicly charging him with high treason for publicly stating that he, the earl, had "the reddest blood in Scotland," and that King Charles was "beholden to him for the crown."

Since then the earldom of Menteith has remained dormant, and according to the ablest genealogists of the united kingdom and to the English and Scotch royal colleges of heralds, Robert Cunninghame Grahame is able to trace in a direct and unbroken line his descent from this seventh earl of Menteith. He claims to be the fifteenth earl of Menteith and has submitted his petition to the committee of privileges of the house of lords. The latter is proverbially slow in deciding such matters, and if it has delayed on various pretexts giving a judgment in the affair it is not only because there are several other claimants to the earldom of Menteith but likewise on account of the questions which might subsequently be raised in connection with the crown, both of Scotland and of England. Among the other claimants of the earldom are a George M. Graham of Toronto, Canada; also a daughter of the late Bartley Allardyce; and a George M. Graham of Leitchtown. But, whereas these pretensions are open to question, there is no doubt as to the lineal descent of Robert Cunningham Grahame from the seventh earl of Menteith. He is, in spite of his political eccentricities, popular and has on several occasions been a guest of King Edward at Balmoral, and is recognized both at home and abroad as forming part of the most blue blooded aristocracy of Scotland.

If his pen has been frequently directed against the United States, particularly in the columns of the London Saturday Review, it must be attributed in a measure to the influence of his wife, to whom he was passionately devoted, and who belonged to one of the oldest patrician families of Spanish South America. In fact, her relatives suffered severely from the Cuban insurrection and from the separation of the island from Spain.

King Charles' head has again become an issue of the hour. It played an important rôle at the time of the revolution and protectorate in the seventeenth century, and every reader of Dickens' works is familiar with the extent to which it obtruded itself into the literary efforts of Mr. Dick in "David Copperfield." The question at the present moment is as to whether it should be twisted round so as to face the memorial statue of Queen Victoria instead of Whitehall. The head is that of the statue of the ill fated monarch in front of Whitehall, and at the present time it turns its back upon the effigy of Queen Victoria at the other end of the Mall, in front of Buckingham palace. A most angry controversy is in progress on the subject, and people in England seem to be divided into two camps, the one determined upon twisting King Charles' head to the right about, and the other equally resolved that it should remain unmoved.

"BARKERS" FOR CHURCHES URGED BY DR. P. S. HENSON.

Former Pastor of First Congregation, Speaking at Baptist Social Union, Demands More Aggressive Methods.

"The methods which the saloons, the theaters, and the great stores are using to attract the people must be used by the Christian church if it ever hopes to get out of the rut it rests in now, or if it expects to be ready for the greatest conflict in its history, which now is impending."

This, in brief, was the message given to the Chicago Baptist Social union last night by the Rev. P. S. Henson of Boston, formerly pastor of the First Baptist church of Chicago, who addressed the social union banquet at the Auditorium on "What the Church May Learn from the World."

With his old time fire and eloquence Dr. Henson denounced the present decadence of the church, its comfortless, unattractive buildings, its sleepy members and officers, its timid grasp upon the problems of the world. He even advocated the use of "barkers," and to illustrate his point told of adventures he had in New York.

"When I was a young man wandering around the streets of New York," he said, "I was treated in the most courteous manner by the gentlemen who stood outside the ready made clothing shops. They made me feel at home, invited me into their places, and treated me as if I were an old friend. I met a kind and elegant gentleman one night in the street who greeted me with all the warmth of a brother when he found I was from the south. After some pleasant conversation he invited me to go with him to see him draw a lottery prize, and so insistent was he that I had a hard time getting away from him.

"That is the kind of thing we need in our churches. In all my life in the great cities of this country I never have been met on the street by a stranger and invited into a church. We must take up more of these lessons from the great stores, the theaters, and the saloons. The world understands how to 'rope men in.' How long are the children of light going to be overridden by the children of the world?

"The greatest conflict in our history is coming. All the signs point to it. I am an optimist, and I believe the church will come out victorious. We should feel and act more like a church. Look at Standard Oil. Are they satisfied with what they own? No. They want Asia, Africa, and the islands of the sea. They want the earth. Why are we satisfied with the little slice we have?

"We have business men in our churches. What are they doing to upbuild the church? Is there lack of gray matter in the cranium of the church? Is there lack of power? No. It is that the men of brains lead double lives. In their business they are keen, alert men, but in the churches they are afraid.

"It is sadly true that the world has learned much that it should not. We have learned how to trip the light fantastic toe and how to make money. Many a church member could beat any Shylock in demanding the pound of flesh. But this is small compared with what we are missing. We want to be ready. The little Jap was ready when he leaped at the throat of the Russian bear. We are running in the ruts.

"I am not afraid of tainted money. As I said when that question was being agitated, 'I don't know where you got this money or what your motives are in getting it, but once it gets in this basket there will be small chance of your getting it back.'

"If the church would mobilize its brains and use the great talents that it has it would spring forward with leaps and bounds."

Before Dr. Henson spoke brief addresses were delivered by seven ministers who have joined the union during the last year. They were the Rev. W. H. McCloud of Humboldt Park church, the Rev. C. S. Thomas of the Ogden Park church, the Rev. W. J. Slyde of Garfield Park church, the Rev. W. D. Bancroft of the Irving Park church, the Rev. W. C. Chalmers of the Morgan Park church, and the Rev. J. A. Earle of the Belden Avenue church.

DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN BOOK FOR CONGRESSIONAL FIGHT.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—Bearing the motto, "Equal rights to all, special privileges to none," on its title page, the democratic campaign book for use in the approaching congressional campaign was issued today by the democratic congressional committee. Although the book embodies a fund of statistics, speeches, and other data, the principal subjects discussed are tariff history, trusts and combines, corruption and scandals, the attitude of democracy towards organized labor, the wage question, "extravagance of republican appropriations," and other questions of national interest.

After quoting in full the platform adopted by the national democratic convention at St. Louis in July, 1904, the book enters into an exhaustive history of the protective tariff system, going back to the first act of 1789. Tariff history, it is maintained, disproves the republican platform contention that "democratic tariffs has always been followed by business adversity, a republican tariff by business prosperity."

It is asserted that all the panics in this country have occurred under republican auspices and with the highest protective tariff, and that in France the same conditions prevailed, while in free trade England there has been only one panic since 1873. "That the present 'boom' will be followed by a panic," the book continues, "is only a question of time."

Numerous instances of republican tariff changes are quoted, from which the deduction is made that in forty-five years the republicans have changed or revised the tariff law forty-eight times.

The evidence is overwhelming, it is asserted, that the present tariff law has fostered trusts and combinations, and a demand is made for a revision of the tariff toward a reduction of the duties. By reason of the shelter of the tariff it is declared that the trusts and combines have advanced the prices of their products and at the same time sell cheaper to foreigners than to our own people.

Evidence is then made to the speech of Speaker Cannon, at Danville, Ill., Aug. 16 last, when he furnished statistics of wages and incomes for the fifteen years between 1890 and 1905, in which the speaker is quoted as acknowledging that in that time average yearly wages increased slightly less than 9.4 per cent. It is asserted that during the same period the value of manufactured products increased 58.7 per cent, and the inquiry is made: "Does Mr. Cannon and the other stand pat congressmen call that a fair deal?—an increase of 58.7 per cent for the trusts and only an increase of 9.4 per cent for the wage earners?"

Much space is given to the subject of corruption and scandals in the republican party, particular reference being made to the attitude of Alton B. Parker just before the last presidential election and which were vigorously denied by President Roosevelt in a public letter. The life insurance disclosures are cited, and in defense of Mr. Parker the book states:

"Judge Parker received from one who knew the names of the few who undertook to underwrite the campaign, but the names were given in confidence and he respected that confidence. The charge was made by him not at all with the idea that it would influence the result but because he believed that such practices must end or the republic will soon be one in name only; that the psychological moment to arouse public interest was before the campaign closed, not afterward, when it could be charged that the sting of defeat was his motive. Such a public interest as should bring about investigation of contributions of insurance companies, banks, trust companies, railroad companies, and giant protected interests, was his aim."

Continuing, the book says:

"The report of the Armstrong committee of the New York legislature, published since Mr. Roosevelt made his sweeping and apparently impassioned, but really, crafty, denials, proves that Parker spoke the truth and that Roosevelt was mistaken when he said the charge was unqualifiedly and atrociously false."

It is added that "the stream of corruption continues from year to year, from election to election, and always from the same locality and same fountain head—republican states, republican strongholds, under republican laws."

NEWS OF THE THEATERS.

THE BLUE MOON.
A Musical Comedy in Two Acts.
BY
HAROLD ELLIS, PERCY GREENBANK, P. A. RUBENS, AND HOWARD TALBOT.
Presented at the Garrick Theater, Chicago, by James T. Powers and His Company, Sept. 30, 1906. The Cast:

Maj. Vivian Callabone	Ed M. Favor
Capt. Jack Ormsby	Templar Saxe
Bobbie Scott	Dick Temple
Moolraj	Phil Riley
Private Charlie Taylor	James T. Powers
The Prince Badabur Sanatanjhi	Arthur Donaldson
Lady Brabasham	Edith Sinclair
Evelyn Ormsby	Ida Rawley
Chandra Nil	Ethel Jackson
Millicent Leroy	Clara Palmer

Now let the faithful patron of musical comedy rejoice and be exceeding glad. And let the imitative stage managers throughout the land rise up and get busy. Something new in stage business has been devised. Not only one "something new," but two of them. To the devotee of the serious drama or to the student of art in its higher manifestations the devising of a new bit of stage business may seem a trifle not worth getting excited about. But to the patron of musical comedy it means the finding of a precious nugget in a long ago exhausted vein of amusement ore. The audience at the Garrick last evening greeted the discovery with as much glee as a drama lover would exhibit upon finding a new masterplay or a lover of painting would show at the unearthing of a lost or forgotten picture by one of the world's great artists.

The second and last act of "The Blue Moon" had passed well on toward its completion before the new effects startled the audience. Mr. Powers, the star of the company, was singing a song—something about crocodiles, if memory err not—and had the women of the chorus busily assisting him. At the end of one of the verses the women lined up parallel with the front of the stage and sank on their knees. Mr. Powers gave the girl nearest him a shove. She fell against the girl next to her, and the whole row went over like a line of dominos that have been stood on end and are suddenly caused to fall. The audience greeted the new effect with a regular tidal wave of applause, and had cheers been heard no one would have deemed them out of place.

A little later came a light effect which had the interest that novelty gives. Mr. Temple and Miss Hawley were singing about marrying, and for the refrain the lights were suddenly extinguished, and the two principals were seen an instant later, their faces lighted by the gleam from tubular electric lights held in their hands, and the chorus appeared in the background, with each member's head draped in a white veil and similarly lighted. The effect was peculiarly ghostly and yet distinctly pretty. And thus has the ingenuity of the stage manager devised something that approaches the new, and incidentally has supplied effects which are certain to be seen in every musical comedy production that the next few months bring us.

"The Blue Moon," aside from these momentous moments in the stage business line, is a good show of the serene, placid variety that dear old London loves, and which our American managers seem to think worth importing. No one who goes to see "The Blue Moon" need fear growing dangerously excited. The most apoplectic person in the world could sit through the whole performance with entire safety. It moves peacefully along, has just enough of stereotyped story to string it all together, has a lot of music that is musically above the average, but which is not of the snappy, rhythmically peppery sort that American audiences like most, and there are a goodly number of jokes of the ponderous sort that is peculiarly British. And yet the total effect is that of a good show of the imported kind. Lavish staging and handsome costumes make the stage pictures attractive, and the stage management is neat and exact.

The hint of story "The Blue Moon" contains has to do with a young English girl who, as a babe, was kidnaped by a young British soldier and taken to Burma. There she has grown up, cared for by him, and her beauty and her voice have won for her the complimentary name of "The Blue Moon." Her kidnaper and protector has betrothed her to the reigning prince of Kharikar, but a young Englishman has seen her, has loved her, and is loved by her. The Englishman is determined to marry her, but his relative object, and only at the finale of the last act, when it becomes known that she is the daughter of titled Londoners, is their objections withdrawn, and then the prince gives "The Blue Moon" to the Britisher's keeping. It's a tale which might be much worse and yet do no damage to the piece, for it is so little in evidence that no one pays any attention to it.

There is considerable pleasing music in the score. The blue moon's opening song is well written and is effective; there are two good solos for the major—the "Burmah" being especially attractive—the "Major and Minor" trio is neatly conceived and carried out. "Shopping" is catchy, as are also "Rosey Didn't Know," and the "Bunny" song, and the crocodile ditty for Mr. Powers and the "Plays of Today" introduced into the last act by Miss Palmer and the comedian are entirely to the public's taste. The finales of both of the acts are unusually elaborate and are brought to telling climaxes.

Mr. Powers has the rôle of a British soldier who wishes to win the heart and hand of Millicent Leroy, who is waiting maid to Evelyn Ormsby. Millicent has declared that she will marry no man who is not a soldier, a hero, and an elocutionist. The lovesick Britisher tries to be all three and has a time of so doing. He wins the girl as the last curtain falls, but he indulges in many absurd acts before that time. Mr. Powers' amusing giggle, his keen sense for humor of a quiet kind, and his agreeable singing voice enable him to make the rôle of the soldier entertaining and laughable. His best work is done in the last act in the dust with Miss Palmer, when he assumes various makeups and, assisted by her, sings several popular selections.

Miss Palmer is bright, graceful, and winsome, dances gracefully, sings well, and makes the attractiveness of Millicent distinctly credible. Miss Jackson as the blue moon looks the girl famed for beauty, and her singing of the two solos that fall to her lot is commendable. Mr. Favor as the major does some of the best work in the performance, both his acting and his singing being decidedly above the average. Mr. Temple is acceptable as ever as the British critic Scott; Mr. Saxe does well what little there is to do as the lover of the blue moon, and Mr. Riley makes all that is possible out of the rôle of the kidnaper. Mr. Donaldson has merely to walk on and off with majestic dignity, and this he accomplishes to the full satisfaction of everybody concerned. La Petite Adelaide, the dancer, is seen in a pas seul of the ever toe and leg twisting kind which she cultivates so strenuously, and which a certain portion of the public seems to admire.

HUMOR FROM ITALY.

PROOF OF QUALITY.

Lardelli had bought in a large shop a suit of summer clothes which he had been assured were all wool. He kept them in the clothes press for a few days, and the first time he put them on he became aware that they were full of moths. Of course, he went back to the shop and made a lively "yell."

"Be calm," said the shopman. "I assured you that they were all wool, and the moths are the proof of it. If they were anything else the moths would not go near them." The man was so eloquent that Lardelli went off quite resigned.

Young Bellarine had at the same time a sore throat and pains in his stomach. So he went to the doctor, who said that he must take something sweet for his throat, but he protested, saying that it would be bad for his stomach. "And," said the doctor, refusing to listen, "for your stomach you must take something strong."

"But," protested once more the victim, "that will be bad for my throat."

CUBA AND HER RESOURCES.

[From the Washington Post, Oct. 2.]

Cuba is entirely within the torrid zone, but not so far south as to make its climate characteristically torrid. The climate does not differ materially from our own gulf states, but the rainfall is greater. Its insularity insures a moist, equable atmosphere, and the never failing sea breezes of the afternoons and evenings tend to make the nights cool and comfortable even in the warmest months.

The island is somewhat like Long Island, Cuba is long and narrow, being about 730 miles in length and in width varying from 18 miles to 118. Its area comprises about 44,000 square miles. By way of comparison, it is larger than Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Vermont, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Delaware, and New Jersey put together. The island would make almost four Marylands and about two West Virginias, and is greater in the aggregate of her square miles than either Indiana, Kentucky, Maine, Ohio, South Carolina, Tennessee, or Virginia. The state of Pennsylvania has practically the same area as Cuba. The island lies 100 miles south of Key West, the most southern port of the United States; Havana is distant from Tampa, 366 miles; from New Orleans, 597 miles; and from New York, 1,227 miles. It controls the highway to the Panama canal.

One of the largest and most attractive weddings of the early season was celebrated last evening in the Kenwood Evangelical church when Miss Agatha Louise Birkhoff was married to Mr. Ira Calef Darling. When at 8:30 o'clock the bridal procession entered the church, several hundred guests were present to witness the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. John R. Crosser, pastor of the church. It was a green and white wedding, and the decorations and the gowns of the bride's attendants carried out the colors. The church bore great masses of marguerites, ferns, and other greenery, and similar decorations were used at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Birkhoff Jr. at 4833 Woodlawn avenue, where a large reception was held after the ceremony.

The bride, who was a débutante of last winter, wore a becoming gown of French satin with the new empire back falling away into a long court train, and the front being made princess. The bodice was garnished with rose point lace, which was also used on the sleeves. A tulle veil was worn full length and was fastened with a wreath of orange blossoms. A shower bouquet of lilies of the valley was carried. Mrs. Lawrence Wetmore-Smith, sister of the bride, attended as matron of honor, her gown likewise being of the empire model and of white chiffon over white. She wore a court veil of white tulle, and carried a bouquet of white daisies and maidenhair ferns. The bridemaids were Miss Reta Dennis, Miss Helen Lester, Miss Grace Mitchell, and Miss Blanche Harber, the last of Bloomington. Their gowns were similar to that of Mrs. Wetmore-Smith, only that they were fashioned over pale green. Miss Adelaide Maxwell, as maid of honor, wore white lace over white, and all carried white daisies and maidenhair ferns.

Mr. Peter Theurer was best man, and Mr. Lawrence Wetmore-Smith acted as master of ceremonies. The ushers were Mr. George Birkhoff III., brother of the bride, Mr. Robert Laughlin, Mr. Barry Norton, and Mr. Sanford Holden.

Mr. and Mrs. Darling will take a wedding trip to Europe. They will return about the middle of December.

Miss Marguerite Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Albert Lewis, 5467 Jefferson avenue, whose marriage to Mr. Royal Duncan Hawley will take place on the evening of Oct. 15 in the Church of the Redeemer, will be attended by Miss Beatrice Libby of Lynn, Mass., as maid of honor, and by four bridesmaids—Miss Florence Usher of New York City and three Chicago girls—Miss Edith Kirkland, cousin of the groom, Miss Louise Gill, and Miss Anna Peot. Mr. Philip Hawley will act as best man for his brother, and the ushers will be Mr. J. H. Bridley, Mr. T. M. Ripley, and Mr. S. E. Brewer, all of Chicago, and Mr. H. W. Cole of Milwaukee. A reception will be held after the ceremony at the family residence.

The regular Tuesday morning hunt at Lake Forest yesterday morning was followed by a hunt breakfast at the Onwentsia club, the riders being guests of Mrs. Granger Farwell. Among those present were Mr. W. Vernon Booth, M. F. H., Mrs. Samuel T. Chase, Miss Hester Reilly, the Misses Leslie and Olive Farwell, Mr. Francis C. Farwell, Mr. James F. Lord, Mr. Edward L. Hasler, Mr. James Thorne, and Mr. Frederic McLaughlin. Mrs. Chase will entertain at breakfast at her home following next Tuesday morning's hunt. The regular Thursday and Saturday afternoon meets will take place as usual at 4 o'clock, weather permitting.

Mrs. Eugene Prussing of Dearborn avenue entertained ten guests at dinner last evening in honor of Mrs. Lewis-Fiene of Racine, Wis., who is the guest of Mrs. Marie Vaughan, 61 Pearson street. Mrs. Prussing is giving a series of small dinners.

FLAG ALMOST WON BY THE WHITE SOX

Today's Games in St. Louis and Philadelphia May Settle the Championship.

BROWNS ARE SHUT OUT.

Chicago Disposes of McAleer's Men by Score of 4 to 0, Owen Opposing Glade.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Chicago's White Sox scored another shut out victory over St. Louis today by a score of 4 to 0. This, with the defeat of the Highlanders by the Athletics, put the Sox one step nearer the American league pennant. So tomorrow will be a crucial point in the struggle. If the Sox win one of the two games tomorrow and New York loses it will be the Spuds and Sox in the battle for the world's championship. If both rivals win Chicago will have to get both games to clinch the flag.

Today's game was really a repetition of that of yesterday in point of brilliancy on the part of the White Sox. Frank Owen pitching a masterly game, holding the hard hitting browns down to four scattered singles. Not a man reached third, and at no time did the locals even threaten. Five of them fanned the atmosphere, among them being the sensational slugger Stone, and even the loyal but quiet home fans let out a link or two in their cheers when Owen performed the feat of striking out the leading batter in the league.

Isbell and Roth Shine.

On the other hand, the Comiskeyites, who have been called "hitless wonders," slammed the ball all over the lot from the jump off, and Isbell and Roth each drew triples and each time sent in a run ahead of them.

Eight safeties were registered against Glade and the near champions bunted so often and with such accuracy that they had the heavy Glade pumping for his wind.

Manager McAleer of the St. Louis team tonight concedes the championship to Chicago. Also he predicts that the White Sox will give the Spuds the hardest battle of their career if they land the world's championship. He says no team in the league has ever put up such magnificent games as the two already played here, and he further said that he had little hopes of taking a game from them in the present series, with only two more to play, both of which must be decided tomorrow in a double header.

Fans Cheer White Sox.

When the final score of the Philadelphia-New York game was posted on the score board at Sportsman's park today the White Stockings, who were at bat, threw their caps in the air and cheered loud and long, while even the home fans arose in the grand stand and gave three rousing cheers for the Chicagoans, evidently believing that the pennant was cinched.

Never were there a more hopeful lot of ball players than these White Sox at the present moment. They are already calling each other "champ" and slapping one another on the back like a lot of kids full of ginger and buttermilk.

Slam the Ball Early.

The leaders started right off the reel in the run getting act today. They play better ball when in front than many others do. Little Eddie Hahn opened the festivities by smashing the first ball pitched to a safe spot at the feet of Third Baseman O'Brien, who could not get it in time to head off the fat legged batter. Then Manager Jones, in an effort to bunt and move Eddie along a peg, popped a short foul which Catcher Spencer ate up. Then up walked reliable Frank Isbell. Glade eyed him up for a mark and sent him one straight over the pan. It did not have any juice on it and Isbell slaughtered it.

Isbell Dies on Third.

Despite Izzy's weak ankle he turned those corners like a quarter horse and pulled up on third, winded but happy, and Eddie Hahn had crossed the plate with the first run. George Davis popped out, and Donohue was headed off on his grounder to Wallace, and Isbell died where he had stopped.

In the second inning Patrick Dougherty, who is to go off that winning two bagger in the thirteenth inning of yesterday's game, stepped up to the bat. Glade seemed to have it in for Patrick, and he pasted him one on the left hoof and Pat limped to first. Rohe made a desperate effort to bunt and sicked the ball to Tom Jones. Rockenfeld covered first and Patrick just missed being doubled.

Roth Fools the Battery.

Up came Roth, who was doing the backstop honors in place of Sullivan. Glade didn't know Roth, neither did Spencer, and the latter signaled for a straight fast one. Roth was there with the timely poke and the ball sailed far over the center fielder's head, and Roth reached third, sending Dougherty in with another tally. Roth, too, died at third when Owen struck out.

All was quiet in the third, but in the fourth the White Sox cinched the game with two more runs. Dougherty again reached first when Rockenfeld fumbled his grounder. Then in his hurry to try and catch Patrick at first he threw the ball over Tom Jones' head and Dougherty went on to second. Rohe moved him up to third with a neat sacrifice bunt, and again Roth stepped to the plate and got a clean single to center, bring Dougherty.

Two Runs in Fourth.

Owen followed with a bunt in front of the plate and gave up his life to get Roth to second. Eddie Hahn got back into the game again and slammed out a double to the right field fence, and Roth galloped home with the second run of the inning, making four in all. Manager Jones filed to center and the side was retired. That ended the run getting.

There never was a time when the browns got nearer the plate than second base and that was only once. With two out Stone singled in the first inning and stole second on a desperately close decision, which Davis questioned so strenuously that Umpire Sheridan threatened to put him out of the game. Hemphill hit a hard one to Owen and left Stone on second.

Browns Threaten to Score.

The locals had a good chance to score in the fourth inning, when Hemphill walked, with no outs. Then Wallace and O'Brien both flied to Manager Jones and Rockenfield was easy. Isbell to Donohue. They started off again in the eighth, when Glade, the first man up, singled. He was forced by Niles and Niles was forced by Tom Jones, and Owen took exceptionally good care of Stone's hard grounder. No runs.

Holding the hard hitting browns down without a run for twenty-two innings in going some. That's what Altrock and Owen have done in the two games played. Score:

Notes of the White Sox.

Walsh will be given a chance in one of the final games.

Roth got a triple, a single, and a sacrifice hit in four times up.

Fourteen of the twenty-seven putouts for Chicago were on fly balls.

Rohe had only one chance at third and took that, getting a man at second on a force play.

The double performance begins at 2 o'clock tomorrow and the leaders leave for home tomorrow night.

Billy Sullivan got a flock of cinders in his right eye today and had to go to a specialist, who took out 48 worth of coal or coke. The eye hurt so badly that Sullivan also was excused from active duty, although he was in uniform and ready for an emergency.

Chicago played an errorless game, and no one could have scored against it under such brilliant fielding.

Donohue had a quiet day at first. He had only six putouts and no assists and failed to draw a safety at bat.

Manager Jones at no time had any fear of losing three to the Naps. There will be three rousing games on the south side grounds.

Fielding nine put in nine innings without a mistake. He took one away from Dougherty in deep left which looked good for a double until the manager set a sail for it.

Altrock was not at the park today. He is nursing an ulcerated tooth and Manager Jones sent him to a dentist, which has asked to be allowed to pitch again tomorrow and may be used.

Owen seemed to have the Indian sign on the sluggers. On the other hand, only eight of the White Sox fined out. They were keeping the ball down on the ground except in efforts to bunt, three of which were foul pops which Spencer took in.

Rockenfeld was twenty men to the fourth. He fumbled Dougherty's easy grounder, then, in his hurry to get the runner, heaved the ball over Tom Jones' head and Dougherty chased to second. That mistake cost a run that period, two, for the Sox got two before the side was retired.

A fast double play was executed in the sixth inning. Dougherty had singled and Rohe drove to bunt, but Spencer leaped in front of the plate and caught the ball before it reached the ground. Dougherty, thinking the ball had started on a hit and run signal and was on second when Rockenfield rushed over to first and took the throw which retired Patrick and completed the double.

DEFEAT FOR THE HIGHLANDERS.

Athletics Score Victory Over Griffith's Men by Good Batting, the Score Being Four to Three.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Heavier hitting enabled Connie Mack's baseball aggregation to defeat Griffith's Highlanders today. Though Chesbro was never in danger of being knocked out, the youngsters got their hits well together in the innings in which they made runs. In the eighth Yeager was sent in to bat for Chesbro, but pitching the last inning, Coombs was the steadily effective all the way and was caught in splendid style by Berry, the Cedar Rapids recruit, who also showed up well with the bat, driving in the first and fourth run. The locals won out in the eighth on Shean's double to right and Berry's single. Score:

MUDDY ROADS STOP AUTOISTS.

Vanderbilt Cup Racers Do Not Turn Out in Force as Expected—Eleven Cars in Trials.

New York, Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Drizzling rain which began at midnight on Monday and kept up for several hours left the Nassau county circuit so muddy and slippery this morning that the expected rushes of racing cars over the course did not materialize, although Wagner and Jenatzy did some driving that could scarcely be termed conservatives. Eleven machines were out, one of which was the 80 horse power Darracq with which Hemery won the Vanderbilt cup last October.

Wagner drove the old Darracq, as his cup racer has not arrived. Wagner swung around the corner, off on his first trip around the course. In a few seconds more than twenty-nine minutes he was back at Krug's again.

Elliott F. Shepard, with his thirty horsepower Hotchkiss racer, made two rounds of the course, in 35 and 40 minutes. Frank Lawwell, with W. J. Miller's 110 horsepower Prayer-Miller, out for the first time today since the elimination trials, made one round in 36 minutes. Jenatzy made only one round with Robert Grave's Mercedes, in 27 minutes.

SET DATE TO TALK OF WORLD'S GAMES

Murphy and Comiskey Will Meet Tomorrow and Arrange the Minor Details.

MORE ROOM ON WEST SIDE.

Seating Accommodations for 26,000 Persons Arranged at the Spuds' Park.

Presidents Murphy of the Spuds and Comiskey of the White Stockings held a telephonic conference yesterday and agreed on tomorrow as a date for a personal conference to arrange minor details for the world's championship series, if nothing serious happens to the White Sox's chances before then.

So far as the confidence of either magnate or the public is concerned, the conference could have been held at once, but it was considered premature to make any plans in advance of actual certainty. The national commission has made its plans for the series, including the dates, but is withholding them until the American league pennant is decided, mindful of the criticism which greeted the announcement of the schedule last season before Philadelphia was certain of winning or the White Sox were absolutely beaten.

Scale of Prices Fixed.

The scale of prices has been tentatively fixed, however, and will hold good no matter what teams play for the world's pennant. The prices for box seats, the only reserved seats to be sold, will be $2; for the grand stand, $1.50; for the present 50 cent stands, $1; and for the so-called bleachers, 50 cents. President Murphy arranged yesterday to increase the number of box seats at the west side park by 1,200 and to erect 6,000 circus seats in the outskirts of center field, including the space now filled by the clubhouse. He figures by the new arrangement 26,000 persons can be provided with seats of some kind and that would be more people than have yet seen a baseball game anywhere.

Box Seats Ready on Friday.

The box seat tickets for the west side games are expected to be ready for distribution on Friday, at which time the dates for the games may be known.

Pitcher Brown and Outfielder Slagle of the Spuds returned to Chicago and reported at headquarters yesterday after consulting doctors. Mordecai brought the good news that his arm is almost certain to be right by next week, as he will be allowed to resume practice with it on Friday.

Slagle's Injury Serious.

Slagle's injury is more serious, however, and may keep Jimmy out of the big battle. He is suffering from intercostal neuralgia in addition to the severe bruise in the chest which he got from a collision at the plate in the last Cincinnati series here. Whether he will have enough enough to play again next week is uncertain and Jimmy is correspondingly depressed in spirits.

"Spuds" to Be Banquet Guests.

Chicago's victorious Spuds are to be feted at the Auditorium hotel on the night of Oct. 16. Three hundred and fifty plates will be laid on tables arranged in the form of a diamond. Corporation Counsel J. Hamilton Lewis will be toastmaster. Among those who will respond to toasts are Capt. Adrian C. Anson, Mayor Dunne, and Frank O. Lowden.

The idea of banqueting Capt. Chance and his men originated on the board of trade, but it has been taken up by men in other lines of business.

An orchestra will lead the banqueters in parodies on popular songs, all of which will have direct bearing on the victorious west siders and their achievements on the baseball field.

BOSTON BASEBALL CLUB SOLD.

Tenney and Roy Thomas Engineer Deal for Nationals, but Real Owner's Name Is Not Disclosed.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Manager Fred Tenney has engineered a deal by which the Boston club of the National league has been turned over to a principal whose name is not to be disclosed at the present time. Roy Thomas of the Phillies and Tenney himself are each to have an interest in the club. The matter was clinched this morning at the office of President Soden.

Tenney has been figuring on the matter for a long time and at one time had the matter seemingly clinched, but the backer he had at that time seemed to have cold feet and a new deal was necessary. The next attempt was made when Roy Thomas came here on the last visit of the Phillies. Roy had thought well of the proposition and he communicated that fact to Tenney, and the upshot was that the pair went to the office of President Soden and talked the matter over.

Thomas soon found out that he could not get better terms than had been previously wanted by Mr. Soden—$75,000 in cash and a mortgage on the grounds of $300,000, at 5½ per cent, making a total investment of $375,000.

Tenney said that the principal owner does not at present reside in this city. He also said that while it had not yet been arranged for Thomas to play in this city next season, it was more than likely such an arrangement would be made.

"We intend to run things on a more liberal scale than has prevailed in the past," said Tenney tonight. "The grounds will be fixed up in better shape than was ever known before, the stands and bleachers will be rehabilitated, and we will be more liberal by far in the matter of players and will carry at the least seventeen during the season."

BURNS KNOCKS OUT JIM FLYNN.

Champion Severely Beats Opponent, Who Early This Morning Had Not Regained Consciousness.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Heavyweight Champion Tommy Burns knocked out Jim Flynn in the fifteenth round of what was to have been a twenty round fight here tonight. Flynn was severely beaten and at a late hour was still unconscious.

Officials to Permit Fight.

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—The board of safety today took action against the Schreck-Hart fight, the mayor explaining that the pressure was too great for him to keep his promise to the promoters. An appeal was taken to other officials, and on the strength of assurances received the promoters notified the principals the contest would take place.

Mowatt's Condition Unchanged.

Tommy Mowatt, the stockyard pugilist who is seriously sick with typhoid fever, still is hovering between life and death. His condition in the last twenty-four hours has not changed.

Baker and Attel Matched.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 2.—Abe Attel and Harry Baker will meet in Los Angeles before the Pacific Athletic club for the featherweight championship of the world in a twenty round bout, scheduled to take place Tuesday night, Oct. 30.

Pugilistic Pointers.

Abe Attel and Harry Baker, it is reported, have been matched to fight twenty rounds before the Pacific A. C of Los Angeles, where Baker recently defeated Frankie Neil.

It is more than probable that Jack Johnson and Al Kaufmann will be matched. The pair signed articles to battle six rounds at Philadelphia, but the latter is going to fight at Colma.

There is a hitch in the Benny Yanger-Steve Kinney proposed match. The pair were matched several days ago to fight ten rounds at Davenport at 190 pounds, weigh in at 6 o'clock. Now, however, Kinney wants to weigh in three pounds heavier.

George Gardner received a letter from Billy Delaney asking if he would come to the coast and fight his protégé, Al Kaufmann, before the Colma Athletic club. All so says George, looks easy to him, so he accepted the job, and will leave for the coast within a day or two.

Hoppe Beats McLaughlin.

New York, Oct. 2.—[Special.]—With two runs of over a hundred each, William Hoppe, the 18.1 balk line champion, defeated Edward McLaughlin tonight in their second contest at the Knickerbocker academy, Brooklyn. Hoppe playing 18.1 to McLaughlin's 18.2. Score:

Hoppe—Total, 300; average, 30. High runs, 106, 102, 35.

McLaughlin—Total, 150; average, 15. High runs, 56, 50, 14.

SPUDS NOW IN PITTSBURG

NEW NATIONAL LEAGUE CHAMPIONS HAVE GAP IN SCHEDULE.

Before Tackling Pirates for Last Time This Season the Chicagoans Will Take Part in Another Exhibition, While Clarke's Men Will Visit Ford City Today for a Little Exercise of Some Sort—Two Regulars Take a Short Vacation.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—The coming champions of the National league are safely domiciled in the city of smoke, having arrived here this morning from the east, where they wiped everything before them, setting a new mark for games won in a single season at 115, which they may improve before they say farewell to Pittsburg Saturday night.

This city will be the headquarters of Manager Frank Chance and his victorious Spuds for the remainder of the present week. The Chicago team was not scheduled to play today and the men are quietly resting at the Fort Pitt hotel.

Spuds Going to Greensburg.

Tomorrow the Spuds go to Greensburg, where they play the Elk team of that place. Great arrangements have been made for their reception and as the thriving Westmoreland county capital is always a sporty town, it is expected that a large crowd will turn out to do homage to the visitors. Dr. "Brownie" Gessler is a favorite at Greensburg and his friends have prepared an ovation for him.

The Spuds will come back here and on Thursday open the final series with the Pirates at Exposition park. Manager Clarke and his travelers will return home tomorrow morning, but will leave the train from New York only to board another for Ford City, where they do a barnstorming turn tomorrow afternoon. The whole Allegheny valley is aroused over the visit of the Buccaneers and all the business places in Ford City will be closed during the afternoon to give the people a chance to attend the game.

Camnitz May Pitch Thursday.

Against the Spuds on Thursday, Manager Clarke may decide to use Howard Camnitz, he having promised to give the Toledo lad a chance against the new champions. Saturday the final game of the season will be played at Exposition park between the Pirates and the Spuds. Saturday night the Pirates leave for Cincinnati, to wind up the season on Sunday, while the Chicago bunch goes to St. Louis for a closing game on Sunday with the cardinals.

Two Spud Regulars Absent.

The faces of several of the regular Spuds will be missing from the game here on Thursday. Harry Steinfeldt, third baseman, has gone to Cincinnati to visit his wife and Joe Tinker has been called to St. Louis, where his wife is ill.

PLAY TWELVE INNINGS TO TIE.

Weak Batting and Poor Playing Mark Long Two to Two Struggle Between Reds and the Beaneaters.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 2.—Darkness necessitated the calling off of today's games between Boston and Cincinnati at the end of the twelfth, with the score a tie, 2 to 2. Weak batting marked the contest and all of the runs scored resulted from poor playing. Score:

SCHOOL TEAMS TO PLAY TODAY.

North Division Meets Thomas Hoyne M. T., While Hyde Park and Alumni Will Contest.

With the first games of the Cook County High School league three days off the various teams are putting forth all possible efforts to get into shape. Two practice games are scheduled today. North Division and Thomas Hoyne M. T. High at Lincoln park and Hyde Park and Alumni at Jackson park.

North Division and Hyde Park are working hard, as they meet each other next Saturday. Hyde Park was given the hardest workout of the year yesterday, staying on the field until dark under the instruction of Capt. Parker and Jessie Harper. The work consisted of place kicking and scrimmage. The scrubs were given the ball on the five yard line and the regulars lined up against them for forty minutes. North Division worked on the forward pass and expects to be able to gain ground with it.

Wendell Phillips has almost two squads at work under Bookwalter of the '02 team. One of the best men, Gebert, who was played at end, is below in his studies and will not be able to get in the game this year. R. T. Crane is working hard to get in shape for North Division on Saturday.

The squad at Oak Park has enough men for three teams. Overstreet, Hales, Rood, Honseland, Putman are on the front line; Rogers and Crouse at ends; Jacks and Dermen are working at halves; and Anderson guiding them at quarter.

MORSE OF YALE TOO ILL TO PLAY

Eli's Football Leader Suffering from Ptomaine Poisoning—Varsity Makes Poor Showing Against the Scrubs.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Capt. Sammy Morse of the Yale eleven is so weak from the attack of ptomaine poisoning which has kept him ill since last Friday that he has decided not to lead the eleven in the opening game of the season tomorrow.

Yale's varsity today suffered the humiliation of being tied by the scrubs in the daily practice. The second team scored once, came within a foot of repeating the trick, and led the regulars till the last minute of play, when Roome of the regulars, after a series of short rushes, scored the only touchdown the varsity made.

George Berger, left half back on the second team, was the shining star of the practice. He blocked four varsity kicks. Berger made the touchdown for the scrubs, seizing a fumble by Tad Jones at the forty-five yard line and rushing for a touchdown. Buck Stuart almost made another touchdown. The second team took the ball in midfield and crashed by successive downs nearer and nearer the regulars' goal on line forcing. Stuart was used for every alternate plunge. When a foot from the varsity goal Hockenburger, the varsity guard, checked the scrubs' attack by lying down in front of the onslaught and the ball went to the regulars on downs. Hockenburger was forced to retire with a cut head.

COLLEGE NET MEN IN BATTLE.

Pennsylvania vs. Harvard and Princeton vs. Columbia the Schedule for Today's Games at Haverford.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 2.—Today's play in the intercollegiate championship lawn tennis tournament at the Merion Cricket club of Haverford, Pa., brought the singles to the semi-final round and completed the first round of the doubles.

It will be Pennsylvania vs. Harvard and Princeton vs. Columbia in the semi-finals tomorrow. Tilden of Pennsylvania defeated Drennen of Cornell in straight sets. Register of Pennsylvania disposed of Miller of Haverford, but later succumbed to Peil of Harvard. Kawasaki of Pennsylvania lost to Gordon of Princeton and Le Roy of Columbia defeated Morse of Harvard.

Officers of the association were elected as follows: President, Peil, Harvard;

IN THE FINANCIAL WORLD.

INDICATIONS OF EASIER MONEY MARKET THIS MONTH.

September Incorporations Show Increase Over August and Over Corresponding Month of Last Year—Monthly Statement of Chicago Telephone Company Shows Increase in Business—Shakeup Predicted in Directorate of Republic Steel.

Indications point to an easier money market in the current month. It will be due to the preparations which have been made by the banks locally to meet the presumed fall demands. During the next three weeks, there will fall due a large amount of commercial paper and time loans on collateral. These loans were negotiated some months ago for the express purpose of having large sums fall due at this time. It was not a matter of one of the banks making such provision, but all of the large institutions, national and state. Some of them refused to make any loans running over the first of the year. When this great volume of business falls due and is paid, the banks will be seeking means of reinvestment.

In addition to this situation on the part of the banks, there was a like precaution on the part of borrowers. As many as could made their loans to run over the turn of the year. The practice was general. It will happen, therefore, that many loans which fall due within the next few weeks will be paid off and not renewed, while others, necessarily, will be renewed.

There is another phase. The interest rates are so good that the banks buying commercial paper will likely, when they find it can be turned in through repaid loans, put it more liberally to other borrowers who asked to secure in the last three months the accommodation they desired. Then, in the event of money getting close in November, there will not be so much new money coming in. It is not doubted that the usual demand in the last two months of the year will not be lacking, and there is every prospect of high rates in November and December.

General Financial News.

The New York subtreasury since last Friday has lost $745,000 to the banks.

The monthly instrument statement of the Chicago Telephone company for September shows a gain of 2,622 telephones, of which 1,781 were in the city and the remainder in the country. On Oct. 1 the company had in service a total of 163,711 instruments, of which 118,673 were in the city.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting, and Power company yesterday, the retiring directors were reelected. They, in turn, reelected the officers whose terms had expired.

At the annual meeting of the American Steel Foundries' company held in Jersey City yesterday the retiring board was reelected. The shareholders also voted to approve the proposition to retire 4,000 of the preferred stock and 18,900 shares of the common stock now held in the company's treasury.

Shareholders of the Northern Pacific railroad company at their annual meeting yesterday reelected Howard Elliott, L. C. Ledyard, J. P. Morgan Jr., and George W. Perkins directors for a term of three years. Grant B. Schley, who was elected by the board during the year to succeed Robert Bacon, resigned, and was reelected for a term of one year. William Sloane was reelected.

It is predicted in New York that there will be a shaking up in the board of directors of the Republic Iron and Steel company which will lead to the retirement of Harry Rubens and other members of the old crowd.

A seat on the New York stock exchange sold yesterday at $95,000, against the last previous sale at $95,000.

Moody's Manual for 1906.

Moody's Manuel for 1906 has been received. It is in its seventh year, and it can be truly said is indispensable to those interested in the subjects with which it deals. This year's issue is larger than any previous one. It covers railroads and industrial corporations, banking institutions, and miscellaneous information. It is published by the Moody corporation, 35 Nassau street, New York City.

Zeller, Fairman & Co. report recent sales of local bank stocks as follows: Corn Exchange National at 390, First National at 378, Hamilton National at 142; Central Trust at 168, Hibernian Banking at 275, Lake View Trust at 107½, Woodlawn Trust at 124½, Chicago National at 104.

Chicago Stocks.

Swift & Co. shares were active and irregular. Definite information as to the occasion for the movement in the stock is still generally lacking. Insiders have told their friends not to part with their shares, but this is a natural suggestion in connection with pool operations. The persistent activity has led to the surmise that there must be something doing.

Sears-Roebuck preferred sold at 94, 8½ points below the price at which the stock was offered to the public a short time ago.

DESPITE FAVORABLE CONDITIONS NEW YORK LIST DROOPS.

Relaxation of Money Rates Both on Call and Time Loans Fails to Sustain Prices, and Closing Is Weak at Near the Lowest — Clearing House Exchanges Between Banks Almost Reach the High Record Mark.

[BY A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Despite the relaxation in the money market, which continued to ease both on time and call loans, the stock list today failed to show the strength which was evident yesterday, and prices fell rapidly, the close being weak at the lowest after a late temporary rally.

The fears of the effects of the heavy October requirements were dispelled by the easing of the money market, the rates for call loans falling within the 6 per cent limit in the earlier transactions, while the premium on loans of over ninety days has disappeared entirely.

The heavy October requirements were indicated by the enormous clearing house exchanges between the banks today, the total rising to $548,010,732, compared with a record day's clearings on Jan. 3 of this year of $636,844,890. On only two other occasions, and that during the great financial operations in the railroad world which precipitated the panic in 1901, have today's exchanges at the clearing house ever been exceeded. The skill with which yesterday's great operations were arranged is indicated by the small excess over the average in the day's cash balances, which amounted to but $16,748,776.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,606,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Money on call firm, 4½@6½ per cent; ruling rate, 5½ per cent; closing bid 5 per cent, offered at 6 per cent. Time loans easier; sixty days, ninety days, and six months, 6@6½ per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 6½@7 per cent. Sterling exchange firmer, with actual business in bankers' bills at 483.60@483.65 for demand and at 479.60@479.65 for sixty day bills; posted rates, 480½@481 and 484½; commercial bills, 479@479¼. Bar silver, 68½c. Mexican dollars, 53c. Government bonds steady. Railroad bonds irregular.

"VAL" STIRS WHEAT MART

BIG TRADER BUYS HEAVILY, BUT THE CEREAL WEAKENS.

Crowd Guesses at Significance of A. I. Valentine's Operations—Bull Campaign in December Begun?—Enormous Increase in World's Available Supply—Trade Surprised at Liverpool's Weakness—Coarser Grains Dull and Lower.

A. I. Valentine, familiarly known as "Val" on the board of trade, yesterday played the leading rôle in the wheat market. His buying of 2,000,000 bu of the December and the May stirred the trade into a boiling stew of speculation as to the real principals in the important transaction. Reports from every quarter and of all colors were wafted about in the breeze of gossip, but, although "knowing ones" had it "right," the traders went home or to the golf links with the question mark still indelibly impressed on their brains.

There was talk that Armour was behind the purchase, later talk that the grain went to Shearson-Hammill, representing easterners, and still later gossip that a clique of northwestern shorts, headed by "Minneapolis" Watson, took the bulk of the offerings. In the early trading Mr. Valentine gave up the name of Armour, but later the names of Shearson-Hammill and Wrenn came forth. With this mix up before them, the traders proceeded along all available avenues to Guessville. Following is a jumble of ideas expressed:

"'Val' bought for Armour, who is bullish at heart, but who has repudiated all talk of his returning to the speculative game."

"Shearson-Hammill got most of the grain for their strong eastern clients."

"Wrenn pocketed the bulk for the leading northwestern shorts."

"'Val' bought for himself."

"'Val' represented Lichtstern and others who see their way clear to bull the December."

Recapitulation: "Val," representing bull or bulls, bought the grain with the view to unloading later on expected bulges. Instead of rushing the shorts to cover, shorts and longs alike handed out all that was wanted, the result being that values broke sharply and that the intended soup cost its engineer or engineers a pretty penny. This "recapitulation" was, like all other suggestions made, a guess pure and simple.

"If 'Val' came out on top, his mouth would be as tightly closed as if he had dropped everything," said a follower of the wheat market.

Final prices for wheat showed declines of 1c for December and 1@1¼c for May, within ¼c of the session's bottom quotations. Despite the firmness displayed here the day before, Liverpool closed ⅝@1¼d under the previous finishing quotations. There was considerable talk as to the break in the English market, especially when Antwerp, the heart of continental beardom, wound up ⅛@1½c higher. Weather conditions northwest were of the favorable sort, and arrivals at Duluth and Minneapolis showed relatively larger at 1,117 cars, although they fell 101 cars under those of the corresponding day last year. The other leading bearish factor was an increase of 10,000,000 bu in the world's available supplies, according to Bradstreet's, compared to gains of 4,500,000 bu a week ago, and 3,652,000 bu the corresponding time last year.

Primary Receipts Lighter.

Despite the pickup in the movement northwest, total primary receipts—at 1,296,000 bu—fell 460,000 bu under those of the similar day in 1905. Clearances of wheat and flour in the seaboard were large at 127,000 bu. Nebraskans were reported freer sellers of wheat, but local cash handlers declared that only a small percentage of the offerings would reach this market. Some water was thrown on recent reports that locusts were working big damage to wheat in the Argentine. The general cash situation was slow, with Minneapolis prices relatively weaker than the futures. In view of the general decline in values, the export demand was disappointing.

Corn Dull and Heavy.

Heaviness overhung a dull and featureless corn market the greater part of the session. Final prices showed losses of ⅝c for December and ¾ for May. Weather and crop conditions were favorable, and some sections said they would be in a position to ship the new grain to the Chicago market within the next ten days or two weeks. Some traders appeared mildly eager to buy the May on the weaker spots, and others sold freely of the December on the harder ones.

Cash prices were off ¼@¾c, the shipping demand lacking much of recent snappiness. A heavy increase in local stocks last week also militated against bullish endeavor. Local arrivals were 370 cars, of which 215 graded contract, against an estimate of 421 cars. Bradstreet's showed an increase of 841,000 bu in the world's available supply, compared to a gain of 1,479,000 bu a week ago, and a decrease of 520,000 bu a year ago. Total primary receipts were 724,000 bu, against 580,000 bu last year, and clearances at the seaboard were 25,000 bu.

Oats Join in Downturn.

Weakness in the more important grains had a depressing influence on a moderately active oats market. Some of the local cash concerns were early buyers of the December, with selling scattered. The shipping demand was weak, with prices at the sample tables showing a little lower. The local arrivals were 268 cars, of which 66 graded contract, compared to an estimate of 296 cars. Clearances at the seaboard were 5,500 bu. Total primary receipts were 814,000 bu.

The Chicago contract stocks of the grain last week showed an increase of 253,000 bu, the contract total here now being about 1,078,000 bu. According to Bradstreet's the world's available supply of the cereal showed an increase of 339,000 bu, compared to gains of 1,035,000 bu a week ago and 1,732,000 bu a year ago. Final pit prices showed declines of ⅝c for December and ¼c for May.

Provisions Are Featureless.

Provisions again ruled dull and practically featureless. October ribs were pressed hard, the packers lending some support to other months in the product. Final prices were 5@7½c off for January pork, unchanged to 5c higher for lard, and 2½@12½c stronger for ribs. Shipments of meats and lard hence were well under those of a year before, and the world's stocks of lard last month showed a loss of only 22,000 tcs, compared to a decrease of 97,000 tcs last year. The western run of hogs was 54,400, against 62,500 a week ago, and 55,400 a year ago.

Cash Rye Is Firm.

A firm market existed for cash rye, but the futures were easy in sympathy with other grains. Six cars were inspected in. No. 2 free on board sold at 63½@64½c; No. 3, 57@60¾c; No. 4, 55c. December was in fair demand with sales of 15,000 bu at 62@62¼c.

Barley was steady for fancy malting grades, but a shade lower for other qualities. Receipts were 88 cars. Feed was quoted 57½@49c; malting, 41@55c; screenings, 30@42c.

Flaxseed was nominally ½c higher. No. 1 northwestern was quoted $1.10½; No. 1, $1.03; October, $1.06. Receipts were 6 cars here, 25 cars at Minneapolis, and 167 cars at Duluth.

Timothy seed was quiet. New seed was quoted $3.00@3.85; October sold at $4.00, and December was offered at $4.12½.

Clover was firm at $12.75 for spot seed, and $8.00@12.25 for poor to choice.

HARRIMAN STRIKES A SNAG

PLAN TO SECURE CONTROL OF THE ALTON SEEMINGLY BLOCKED.

All the Retiring Directors of the Road Are Re-elected, and One Supposed to Favor His Interests Is Now Declared to Be Neutral—Annual Report Shows Increase of Freight Tonnage, but Decrease in the Revenue Per Ton.

At the annual meeting of the Chicago and Alton, held in Chicago yesterday, all the retiring directors—President S. M. Felton, John J. Mitchell, W. H. Moore, and D. G. Reid—were reelected.

Mr. Felton and Mr. Mitchell had been considered representatives of the Harriman interests and Mr. Moore and Mr. Reid of the Rock Island interests, but a man who is a director in the Alton and a high official of the Rock Island said Mr. Mitchell was reelected by Rock Island votes. This being the case, the Rock Island now has six directors and the Harriman interests five, whereas the opposite was true last year. This apparently puts the Rock Island in control for the next year and prevents Harriman from securing the Alton as a link in his transcontinental system.

A high official of the Alton said, however, that Mr. Mitchell's reelection was the result of a compromise between the two interests and that he would represent one side on the board no more than the other. This makes the two interests equally strong, he said, and the road will be run neither as Rock Island nor Harriman property, but independently of both.

Increase of Freight Tonnage.

The first meeting of the reorganized directors will be held in New York next week. It is understood that Mr. Harriman will then be reelected chairman of the executive committee.

The annual report of the Alton shows its freight tonnage increased last year 16.36 per cent, but owing to reductions in rates the revenue per ton decreased from $1.14 to $1.10 and the revenue per ton mile from .889 to .859.

All records for orders for freight cars were broken during the first thirty-nine weeks of the present year. During this period orders were placed for 218,298 freight cars, as compared with 196,672 during the first forty-one weeks of last year. Orders for passenger cars, on the other hand, are smaller. During the first forty-one weeks of last year 2,297 passenger cars were bought, while thus far this year only 1,902 have been purchased. In the first forty-three weeks of last year 4,131 locomotives were bought, during the first thirty-nine of this year orders were given for 4,323.

Must Not Extend Tickets.

James Charlton, chairman of the Transcontinental Passenger association, has decided that under the rulings of the interstate commerce commission extensions cannot be granted on passenger tickets even on account of sickness, and has so advised the members of the association. Most of the railways declare they will continue to grant them despite this warning.

RELATES REBATING TO DRAYMEN

St. Louis Wholesale Grocer Testifies Concerning Favors Extended by Terminal Association.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 2.—The hearing of the government's ouster suit against the Terminal Railway association on the grounds of violation of the Sherman anti-trust law was resumed today before Special Commissioner Rombauer. John M. Wuhling, a wholesale grocer, testified that the St. Louis Transfer company was favored by the terminal association by having its drayage charges absorbed in freight rates. If goods are handled by an independent transfer company, he asserted, the drayage charges are added to the freight charges.

Our Annual Autumn Opening in Progress This Week.

Our present comprehensive showings of new fall merchandise, which are attracting the attention of all Chicago this week, represent the finest the season affords in each line. In no less measure is it our desire to have this week notable for value-giving, and we call especial attention to this important feature of the present occasion. Some of the most significant price-making we have ever attempted is included in the Opening Week specials, a few of which are mentioned below.

Women's Practical Coats: Specials.

To excel in value-giving, in the handsome practical coats at low prices formed a very important part of our plans for this opening event. Our purchases included many different styles now being offered at unequaled low prices—values which no woman, having in mind any price for a winter coat, can really afford to overlook. Sixth Floor.

Aside from such workmanship and materials as will afford satisfactory service, the styles possess many features seldom found in coats at these prices.

Long Coats of checkered velour cloths trimmed with cloth in contrasting color combinations and fancy buttons, lined with Skinner satin to hip—see illustration—special, $25.00.

A handsome new Long Coat of tweeds in a variety of very effective mixtures, trimmed with velvet and fancy buttons—special, $30.00.

Long Chiffon Broadcloth Coats, a beautiful plaited model lined with Peau de Cygne and handsomely braided collars and cuffs of velvet—exact reproduction of one of the successful imported models, $55.

One of the very popular loose models of fine velour, 48 inches long, trimmed with black satin and fancy buttons, $50.00.

Afternoon and Evening Coats of chiffon broadcloth in pastelle shades, lined with material of the same color and trimmed with fancy braids—$65.00.

Broadcloth Tailored Suits, $42.50.

The quality is of a much better grade than we have offered this season at the price—black, blue and brown; the new 27-inch coat is made with vest effect and trimmed with fancy braid; plaited skirt—$42.50. Sixth Floor.

An artist's conception of harmonious outline — of true proportion in relation to becomingness is characteristic of the distinctively artistic creations of our master milliners.

Not even in the Salons of Paris are colors more exquisitely blended than in these charming hats — now it is the range of rich shades that suggest the autumnal forest tints.

Refined elegance is the one strong feature in which our present effort far surpasses all our previous notable successes. This has been attained through an almost lavish use of costly laces, velvets and ribbons, charming plumes, aigrettes and ospreys.

This brilliant gathering affords the most favorable opportunity for the selection of exquisite Millinery for the Horse Show and the numerous other formal social functions following the opening of the social season.

Hudson Bay Sable Scarfs and Muffs

Owing to our extensive early purchases of skins in the raw, we are now able to afford the public by far the best selection to be found anywhere. Many handsome designs in Scarfs and Muffs have been made up from these skins in our own fur factory—the shapes varying from those shown elsewhere and many not to be duplicated.

The entire skins are intact—the head mounted and the body blocked to conform with the desired shape, thereby making alterations possible at any time with slight expense.

Two skin Hudson Bay Sable Scarfs, ornamented with head, three tails and six claws, $65.

Three-skin Hudson Bay Sable Scarfs, fur on both sides, head and three tails at neck, two tails and four claws at bottom of tabs, $85.00 and $115.00.

Three-skin Hudson Bay Sable Scarfs, ornamented with head and tails at neck, and two tails and four claws at end of tabs, $100.00.

Very handsome Hudson Bay Sable Scarfs, made of four skins, collar effect, with two heads, two tails and three claws at back of neck, four tails and eight claws at end of tabs, $150.00.

Four-skin Hudson Bay Sable Scarfs, four heads and claws at neck, two tails and four claws at back and two tails and four claws at end of tabs, $175.00.

Hudson Bay Sable Muffs, new shapes, $100, $145.00, and $185.00.

Plaid and Striped Skirts, $8.50.

Our efforts at unusual value-giving in Walking Skirts have been perhaps most successful in two handsome styles at this price—Box plaited, in fancy stripes and side plaited in plaids trimmed with rows of self-material, $8.50.

Annual Sale of Women's Colored Silk Petticoats.

October is the one month of the year when our every effort is directed at price-making. It is only after months of the most careful planning and sharpest economies that the cost of these petticoats to our customers is reduced to such a degree. Among the more elaborate novelties are the Petticoats of fancy brocades, English eyelet work and with fancy lace trimmings. Many of the practical garments—those in which the sales are now extremely heavy—are priced at but little above the actual cost of the silks used in their making. Four of these models are illustrated.

At $5.00—Heavy rustling fancy striped Taffeta Silk Petticoats, made with deep, full shirred sectional flounce. See illustration.

At $5.95—Black and colored Taffeta Silk Petticoats, deep graduated accordion plaited flounce with small ruffle edged and headed with rose quilling, silk underlay and dust ruffle. See illustration.

At $7.50—Black and colored Petticoats, made of fine taffeta silk, full flaring shirred sectional flounce, stitched with narrow bands, silk underlay and dust ruffle. See illustration.

At $10.00—Another good style in Taffeta Silk Petticoats, in black and colors, deep accordion plaited flounce with small sectional ruffle. See illustration.

An element of distinctiveness and refinement is one of the very strong features which have, during the past several days, gained for our extensive and varied displays the unqualified approval of hundreds of visitors to this Section. This is true not only of the elaborate but also of the simpler practical models.

Kid Gloves: 38th Semi-Annual Sale.

Last season's sale prices are still maintained in this year's event notwithstanding the increased cost of kid gloves due to the great scarcity of skins. Furthermore, all our lines are made of the same nearly perfect qualities. This scarcity in fine kid skins has in no degree induced us to use anything short of the high standard established years ago and constantly maintained in our superior makes of Alexandre Kid Gloves. First Floor.
